Commemoration of 2019 International Day of Persons with Disabilities observed in Nay Pyi Taw

The 2030 UN Agenda for the persons with disabilities includes three goals in promoting education programmes, easy access to transportation and adapting public spaces for them.

Myanmar signed the UN's Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities (CRPD) on 7 December 2011 and enacted the Rights of Persons with Disabilities Law in 2015 and its by-law in 2017. The enforcement of these laws was implemented by forming a national committee, its work committees, the respective committees at State/Region levels and in Nay Pyi Taw Union Territory.

The four meetings of national committee from 2017 to 2019 agreed to implement the projects to help the persons with disabilities with education, employments, healthcare services, social and legal affairs. Meanwhile, the nine sub-committees also carried out their welfares.

The government has developed scripts for the blind to understand conventions on the issues of children, women and the persons with disabilities, and worked with the relevant ministries and the Japan Heart medical care volunteer association in implementing massage therapy education programmes for the blind. Moreover, the government is also conducting sign language courses and training programme, distributing publications of bylaws and manual books for their employment, as well as giving trainings jointly conducted by the Nippon Foundation.

The country will categorize the level of disabilities based on their answers to the questions for the different age levels.

The pilot project of 'Future We Want' has been launched in Yangon for easy transportation of people with disabilities, and the second project is being carried out at Myoma Market and the Water Fountain Garden in Nay Pyi Taw.

The Vice President also said that Myanmar delegation attended the First Global Disability Summit in 2018, and could study important processes, including in education, health, employment and access to justice, to implement pledges and projects.

He added the drafting national strategy for 2020-2026 is underway to set a long-term plan for the persons with disabilities, and he also called for creating a future all-inclusive community of individuals in unity.

The Vice President concluded his speech with advice not to neglect the persons with disabilities for the goals of sustainable development.

Sendai Framework of substantially reducing the possibility of damages and losses from natural disaster. Forming of Myanmar Preparedness Partnership (MPP) in February 2018 was a milestone on disaster management reached through the cooperation with APP. MPP was formed with regional governments, private sectors and civil society organizations that provided cooperation from the front line when the State encounters natural disaster. The roles and supports of Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation, USAID and Asian Disaster Preparedness Center (ADPC) were recognized and thanked for their assistance and support in establishing APP and MPP. At the National level, Vice President led National Disaster Management Committee was formed and forming MP would reinforce the state/region disaster management work process. Similarly,

Myanmar Action Plan on Disaster Risk Reduction (MAPDRR) 2017 was implemented in connection with Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) and Sendai Framework, Climate Change Paris Agreement and Myanmar Sustainable Development Plan. It was believed that through cooperation of partner organizations, effect of natural disasters at country, region and global level was reduced by strengthening management. This cooperative force will enable the establishment of a climate change and natural disaster resistant society and implement preparation against natural disaster and to conduct reconstruction works said the Union Minister.

Next Dr Valerie Bemo of Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation (BMGF) and APDC Executive Director Mr Hans Guttman addresses the event.

In the second part of the event, APP Steering Committee meeting was held.

The 5th Regional Meeting of APP was attended by Union Minister for Social Welfare, Relief and Resettlement, Deputy Minister, Disaster Management Department Director General and officials, APP members from Cambodia, Nepal, the Philippines and Sri Lanka, representatives from BMGF and ADPC totalling 60 personnel.

On the second day of the meeting yesterday, implementation of APP Phase II in the coming three years and expected results were discussed and joint chairmanship of APP was transferred to Nepal.—MNA ■

Communal support is crucial in building an HIV-free generation

YOUTHS, such as students, like trying and testing everything. That's why, first drug use is more likely in the younger age groups. Teachers and parents should devote time and make efforts to ensure the well-being of youths as the rate of drug abuse is quite alarming in the present day and age.

The high rate of drug abuse has always been a problem, and the increase in the number of youngsters taking to drugs is especially worrying as it has had a detrimental effect on society.

We have been witnessing an increase in cases of HIV and AIDS due to drug use and other negative consequences related to health due to drug abuse.

Young people are particularly vulnerable to HIV: 15-24 year olds account for 50 per cent of new cases worldwide. According to the World Health Organization, 5,000-6,000 youths are being diagnosed with HIV or AIDS every day — most of them in developing countries.

We believe that national campaigns which raise awareness and encourage behavioral changes are particularly crucial in fighting HIV and AIDS.

In Myanmar, an estimated 237,000 people were living with HIV in 2018, and 0.57 per cent of them had contracted AIDS.

There were 29,000 newly infected cases in 2000 at the recorded rate, and the number declined to 10,000 in 2018.

The figures also showed that the newly infected patients were mainly people who injected drugs (PWIDs), women sex workers, or men who had sexual contact with other men. The highest infection rates were seen in Kachin State, northern Shan State, Sagaing Region, and Yangon Region.

The HIV infection rates are increasing among teenagers and young women, and a growing number of youths are living with an infected family member.

Understanding HIV-risk behavior requires a broad theoretical framework. Comprehensive HIV prevention programs have led to reduced risk behavior among HIV-affected youths and teens at risk of infection.

We believe that national campaigns which raise awareness and encourage behavioral changes are particularly crucial in fighting HIV and AIDS. High rates of new infections are being recorded among the youth who ordinarily are quite knowledgeable as they are exposed to literature and information through various platforms.

This year's theme, 'Communities Make the Difference', is apt as the incidence of HIV and AIDS is a medical as well as a social problem. To reach the goal of "Towards UHC: Communities for an HIV-free Generation", we need support from communities, parents, and teachers and we would like to underscore the necessity for local initiatives in the health sector to integrate the fight against the menace.

Female Anopheles mosquitoes and malaria

By Yuwady Khin Oo

FINAL year medical student Nwe-Ni came hurriedly with a lot of orchid flowers and with books in armpit. "Auntie, I have been studying malaria. Malaria has given a lot of troubles to infants and their mothers. Female Anopheles suck blood from people during TV time and sleeping time and during worshipping and meditation of the elders." "Yes, please go on, my niece."

The aunt and niece keep sitting on a white bench in a flower garden. Because of malaria, the death rate of infants and babies under the age of one becomes higher due to immunodeficiency. Malaria is more infectious among malnourished pregnant mothers. "Yes, my niece." I while working as a child expert, encountered a lot of experience concerning with malaria such as thin and anemic children and loss of lives due to malaria-infected brains. Children suffering from malaria tend to have fits of delirium, diarrhea and stomach aches. Then they happen to excrete black urine. "Ant, what kind of malaria falls on pregnant women?" "They happen to supper from a penetrating chill with high temperature. Shaking with fever on alternate days. Anemic and weak with yellow eyes and loss of consciousness, births with underweighted babies and abortion." "How about malaria spreading in hilly regions, forested areas and plain?" "My niece, malaria is an infectious disease. It spreads among mountainous regions. Due to modernization, trading purposes from a village to a village and town to town, you have to prevent female anopheles mosquitoes for not infecting from one to another. "Yes, Auntie!" It is important to prevent female anopheles from biting." "Yes, my niece". Malaria spreads from one person to another due to the bites by Anopheles mosquitoes. Not bathing and drinking water from streams and eating bananas could cause malaria; these cases must be known to mothers and pregnant mothers.

New-Ni grasped with her hands some beans and paddy seeds from the empty condensed milk can which is put on a bench and throw them to feed pigeons and doves. The two get fresh with sweet smells from flowering plants in the garden. Prevention and suppression of malaria is important; suppression of larvae must be carried out by cutting grass and bushes and piling earth on potholes. Water should tanks and glazed earthen jars. By keeping environment clean means not breeding mosquitoes. At the same time, you have to sleep in the mosquito nets and coils lighting; a lot of smoke must be billowed at night. If you have to go to the malaria-infested areas, you have to take a drug of chloroquine; living in these areas you have the drug weekly. Even after returning from these areas, you will have to take chloroquine for weeks. During pregnancy, the prevention is prescribed as chloroquine; New-Ni said chloroquine tablets are available from health officials. "Yes, Ant," we have to live by means of self-prevention from malaria.

All people should understand malaria should be prevented from contracting from one person to another person. Female anopheles suck blood from infected people, then transmit the parasites by piercing skin like a syringe; that is why during transfusion, it is important not to give injections which neither AIDS or malaria-infected blood is put into the body. "Yes, niece," especially when female Anopheles mosquitoes are looking for food at dusk and when you go out at dawn, you must get dressed by means of careful protection from mosquito bites. This sort of knowledge must be distributed to the women in general, especially among pregnant mothers in the ways of lectures and trainings so that all people could development of our country.

"Yes, Aunt," what you said is really right. I wish I could never become an anopheles mosquito which keeps giving troubles to people in general. Have a look, Aunt. Healthy and nourished doves are seen enjoying their ways of life. I also become hungry and eat oranges from inside our home. My niece comes into our home hurriedly and happily and makes me wish Nwe-Ni to become an affectionate medical doctor for our country.

ANTIBIOTIC RESISTANCE

WHAT CAN PHARMACISTS DO?

Antibiotic Resistance happens when bacteria change and become resistant to the antibiotics used to treat the infections they cause. This is compromising our ability to treat infectious diseases and undermining many advances in medicine.

We must handle antibiotics with care so they remain effective for as long as possible.

- ✓ Do you only dispense antibiotics when they are needed, according to current guidelines (e.g. does the patient have a valid prescription, is it for the right drug/dose/duration)?
- ✓ When patients are seeking treatment for cold or flu, do you explain that antibiotics are not needed?
- ✓ Do you talk to patients about how to take antibiotics correctly, antibiotic resistance & the dangers of misuse?
- ✓ Do you remind patients to contact their health professional if symptoms persist?
- ✓ Do you talk to patients about preventing infections (e.g. vaccination, hand washing, safer sex, covering nose & mouth when sneezing)?

Grab launches new application for booking hotels

GRAB, the leading 'super-app' in Myanmar and Southeast Asia, has launched a new service named Hotels, which allows to directly book hotels and other accommodations from Agoda and Booking.com on the app, from today.

The new service has been rolled out before the Christmas and New Year holidays so users can compare prices across more than 2 million places to stay, ranging from luxury and budget hotels to apartments and vacation homes.

"Most of the Myanmar people love to travel domestically or internationally. Those services are the best for working people who travel frequently on holidays, or families looking for the best deals.

With the Hotels service, Grab users can search for the best-quality hotels within their budget on the world's top hotel booking sites, and they can get more value with exclusive discounts available only to them," said Cindy Toh, country head, Grab Myanmar.

"Our Hotels' service adds to the multiple benefits we already offer to travelers in Myanmar. This includes Grab Taxi for haggle-free trips around town and our recently launched Premium Rentals service for hourly use to explore all that Yangon has to offer," she added.

Grab users in Yangon, Mandalay, and Bagan will be able to see the 'Hotels' tile on the App's home screen starting today. After tapping on it, users will have the option of creating or logging in to their Agoda and Booking.com accounts.

They can then browse the selection of hotel listings on Agoda and Booking.com and book their hotel stays without having to leave the Grab app. Users will receive an email directly from the booking partner once the booking is completed.

In October, 2018, Booking Holdings and Grab announced their strategic partnership to offer on-demand transport services through their apps, allowing Grab users to book accommodations across the globe through Booking.com and Agoda.

Through this collaboration, the world's largest online travel platform and Southeast Asia's leading online-to-offline (O2O) mobile platform aim to broaden and simplify travel solutions for travelers in Southeast Asia and beyond.

In addition, Booking Holdings has invested US$200 million in Grab, recognizing Grab as the leading O2O mobile platform in Southeast Asia, according to a press statement from Grab.—GNLM

The figure includes 1,080,846 Thai citizens, 15,940 third country citizens, 345 Thai tourists and five third country citizens who made a day trip to the Lam Taung pagoda, 11,227 tourists who travelled to Maing Phat and Kengtun, and 55,207 travelers who were granted a visa-free entry.

Stock trades on YSX plunge; shares worth K992.69 mln traded in Nov

THE value of shares traded on the Yangon Stock Exchange (YSX) last month declined sharply to K992.69 million compared with K1.36 billion recorded in October.

While 141,361 shares were traded on the exchange in November, 259,245 shares were traded in October.

The value of stocks traded on the exchange had reached a peak this year in September at K2.47 billion. A total of 421,358 shares were traded on the YSX that month.

Compared with September, the volume of shares traded on the exchange showed a drop in October and November, according to the monthly report of the YSX.

At present, shares of five listed companies — First Myanmar Investment (FMI), Myanmar Thilawa SEZ Holdings (MTSH), Myanmar Citizens Bank (MCB), First Private Bank (FPB), and TMH Telecom Public Co. Ltd — are being traded on the stock exchange.

In January, 89,576 shares worth K526 million were traded on the exchange, and the trade value slid to K409 million and K396 million in February and March as share prices fell. In April, 102,682 shares worth K506 million were traded on the YSX. Starting from May, the value of shares traded crossed K1 billion. It touched a new peak of K1.4 billion, with 275,325 shares traded, in May; K1.32 billion, with 233,994 shares traded, in June; K1.22 billion, with 256,241 shares traded, in July, and K1.9 billion, with 322,176 shares traded, in August. The value of shares traded on the YSX reached a record-high in September and then plunged by nearly 50 per cent in October.

In November, the shares of FMI closed at K12,000, MTSH at K3,850, MCB at K8,000, FPB at K25,500, and TMH at K2,700.

The YSX was launched three years ago to improve the private business sector. It disseminates rules and regulations regarding the stock exchange and knowledge of share trading through stock investment seminars. The YSX has doubled its stock trade matching time from two to four per day. In addition to this, it held a promotional event to attract new investors and encourage existing investors to trade more actively. The YSX has also sought the government's support to get more public companies to participate in the stock market and to help more institutional investors, such as financing companies, investment banks, and insurance companies, to emerge.

In 2016, shares of only three companies were traded on the YSX — First Myanmar Investment, Myanmar Thilawa SEZ Holdings, and Myanmar Citizens Bank. One more public company, First Private Bank, was listed on the YSX in 2017. Last year, TMH Telecom Public Co. Ltd debuted on the exchange.

More than 2.5 million shares of three listed companies were traded on the YSX in 2016, and their value was estimated at K70 billion. In 2017, despite an increase in the stock trading volume to 2.6 million shares, the trade value was only K22 billion. In 2018, 2.3 million shares of five companies, worth K11.5 billion, were traded on the exchange, according to the annual report of the YSX. — GNLM

By Kyaw Htike Soe

THE border trade between Myanmar and China through Muse border trade camp in Northern Shan State is projected to hit US$ 5 billion with an export volume of US$ 3.5 billion and US$ 1.5 billion of import volume in the fiscal year 2019-2020 which started on 1 October, according to the Ministry of Commerce. The two neighbours' trade volume via Muse border trade camp amounted to nearly US$ 650 million in the current financial year, increased by US$ 290 million when compared to the same period last year, the ministry said.

Total trade volume between Myanmar and China through four border gates during the current financial year reached over US$ 750 million, up by more than US$ 300 million when compared to the same period of the previous year. Border trade between Myanmar and China has seen a significant growth over the past couple of years. But due to import ban on rice, sugar and maize by China and ongoing armed clashes in Northern Shan State and Kachin State, the border trade volume between Myanmar and China via Muse border trade camp which is one of the biggest overland trading routes in Myanmar has been declined slightly when compared to previous years. China suspended the import of some agricultural products from Myanmar. The suspension resulted in a sharp drop in trade at Muse border trade camp, according to an official from the ministry.

China is the major rice export market for Myanmar and China offered Myanmar to officially purchase rice through border gates between the two countries, according to the Myanmar Rice Federation.

exports beans and pulses, sesame, maize, rubber, and marine products to China while pesticides, fertilizers, household items, and foodstuff are imported into the country through Muse border trade camp. In an attempt to boost bilateral trade between Myanmar and China, the two neighbours have been organizing trade exhibitions, seminars and workshops on a rotating basis.

Around 20 per cent of Myanmar's total trade is conducted through its border gates and the remaining 80 per cent is done by sea route.

Myanmar's total foreign trade amounted to 4.59 billion US dollars as of 15 November. 15 this FY, with 2.3 billion US dollars' import value. During the period, Myanmar's trade with foreign countries via sea route was valued at US$ 3.3 billion while its border trade saw US$ 1.29 billion.

According to the figures from the ministry, border trade between Myanmar and China amounted to US$ 4.3 billion in over eight months of the fiscal year 2018-2019 which ended in September. As of June this year, Myanmar's exports through border checkpoints were valued at US$ 3 billion while its imports were worth US$ 1.3 billion. Both of these figures are down from last year, with the export number reaching US$ 2.6 billion and imports saw US$ 0.98 billion in 2018. Border trade volume between Myanmar and China via Muse border gate stood more than US$ 5.68 billion in the financial year 2017-2018 and over US$ 4.53 billion in the fiscal year 2018-2019.

China's investment in Myanmar during the period from 1988 to date was valued at more than US$ 20 billion which is equivalent to about 26 per cent of total FDI in the country. Around 1,780 foreign enterprises from 50 countries around the world were permitted to invest in 12 sectors, with the total amount of US$ 81,597.743 million during the period from 1988 to the end of August 2019. Myanmar received US$ 9.4 billion of foreign direct investment in 2015-2016 FY, US$ 6.6 billion of FDI in 2016-2017 and US$ 5.7 billion of FDI in 2017-2018 FY.

The largest sector of FDI came to oil and gas sector, accounting for 27.48 per cent of the total foreign investments, followed by the power sector with 25.95 per cent and the manufacturing sector with 14.01 per cent.

Chelsea will find out transfer ban decision 'very soon', says Lampard

LONDON (United Kingdom)—Frank Lampard expects to find out “very soon” whether Chelsea will be free to make any January signings, with the club waiting to learn the outcome of their FIFA transfer ban appeal. Chelsea’s appeal to the Court of Arbitration for Sport (CAS) was heard last month, with the Blues contesting FIFA’s two-window ban relating to the recruitment of minors.

When asked when he expects to discover the result of that appeal, Lampard replied: “Very soon I believe. Days, I think.”

“I haven’t heard any more, so I would wait and reserve judgement (on Chelsea’s plans for January) until we get the judgement and see where we want to go from there.” Fourth-placed Chelsea will give Tammy Abraham “every possible chance” to face Aston Villa on Wednesday as the England striker recovers from a hip injury.—AFP ■
