For realization of the five rural development tasks

Rural economy is the national economy. Rural health and education is the national health and education. You will have to make efforts for ensuring better transport between rural and urban regions as well as among rural regions, for ensuring water supply for drinking and agricultural purpose, for enabling the rural people to be strong and educated and for ensuring development of rural economy. You will also have to make efforts with goodwill in realization of the five rural development tasks as the good sons of the people on whom the people can rely.

PERSPECTIVES

Carry out township development work with collective responsibility

Now is the time when the State Peace and Development Council is working day and night for the Union of Myanmar to become a peaceful and developed nation and the entire national people are unitedly and actively lending themselves to all the national development endeavours. In order to raise the living standard of the people residing in all parts of the Union, the government is implementing the border area development plan, the 24-region development plan and the rural development plan as well as building numerous social and economic infrastructures.

All the State-level officials, including the Head of State himself, from time to time tour all the regions throughout the Union so as to make a first-hand study of regional development tasks and render necessary assistance there and then. At such a time like this, township-level authorities and departmental personnel are to try their hardest with innovation, industry and goodwill.

Prime Minister General Khin Nyunt and party on 14 March went on a tour of Shwegyin and Nyaunglaybin in Bago Division, inspected the regional development tasks being implemented and fulfilled all the requirements.

In his meeting with members of township peace and development council, departmental personnel and members of social organizations in Nyaunglaybin, Prime Minister General Khin Nyunt exhorted them to effectively and speedily carry out township development tasks under collective leadership and with collective responsibility.

Situated on the Yangon-Mandalay Union Highway, Nyaunglaybin enjoys favourable environment for social and economic development. As dams and embankments have been built, the acreage of farmland in this region has remarkably increased. As a result, not only summer paddy and monsoon paddy but also edible oil crops can be grown, thus ensuring self-sufficiency. Shwegyin township was far behind other townships in development due to the lack of regional peace and security. But now, with the prevalence of peace and stability all over the region, fundamental requirements for regional development and higher living standard for the local people can be fully met. As the Shwegyin-Madauk motor road and the Shwegyin-Madauk bridge have been constructed, transport of passengers and goods has become easy and smooth. Moreover, the Shwegyin hydroelectric power project is well under way.

We would like to call upon township-level authorities and departmental personnel to actively and unitedly carry out the development tasks in their respective townships as they play a very fundamental role in the implementation of regional and national development endeavours.

Top Iraqi leader wants UN back in Iraq

UNITED NATIONS, 18 March — Iraq's Shiite leader distanced himself from Iraqis who oppose the return of the United Nations and said he wants the world body to play a role in the country's future, a senior UN official said on Tuesday.

Lakhdar Brahimi, the former Algerian is close to the US Defence Department.

But Brahimi said he did not know when he would return to Iraq and was waiting for a formal invitation from both the US-led occupation authorities and the 25-member Governing Council.

The about-face by Chalabi and others is of concern to the United States. US officials in Baghdad and Washington have asked the United Nations to help give legitimacy to an interim Iraqi Government that is to take power by June 30.

Annan, speaking to reporters before Brahimi's news conference, said he had made it clear "we are prepared to go back and assist should they want us to do so and I am waiting for them to let us know."

"I don't think it is so much a credibility problem for the UN as internal politics in Iraq," he added.—MNA/Reuters

Iraq hotel blast kills at least 29, injures 41

BAGHDAD, 17 March — A US military official says only a car bomb could cause the type of destruction seen Wednesday at a Baghdad hotel.

Officials say at least 29 people were killed and 41 others hurt when a car bomb exploded outside the Jabal Lebanon Hotel in central Baghdad. Americans and other foreigners were among those staying at the hotel.

The explosion left a crater eight feet wide and ten feet deep. In addition to the hotel, five smaller, adjacent buildings were badly damaged. Bricks, air conditioners, furniture, wires and other debris was blown hundreds of yards from the hotel.

Residents said they thought a rocket struck the building. but Private First Class Heath Balick with the Army's First Armoured Division said, "no rocket could cause that amount of damage.

The blast shook the nearby Palestine Hotel, where many foreign contractors and journalists are based.

White House spokesman Scott McClellan offered prayers for the victims but said, "Democracy is taking root in Iraq, and there is no turning back."

Washington concerned at increasing casualties in Iraq

WASHINGTON, 18 March — The growing number of casualties in Iraq is worrying for President George W Bush, at a time when US troops are suffering an average of between 18-22 attacks a day, according to a report in The Los Angeles Times yesterday.

The White House had boasted an alleged drop in the number of attacks by the Iraqi resistance, but in the first two weeks of March alone, the attacks have caused the deaths of 15 US soldiers, the daily stated.

Over the last five days, those attacks have cost the lives of nine of the Pentagon's soldiers, including a member of the National Guard who had only just arrived in that Arab country.

The Bush government had emphasized a reduction in the number of deaths at a point when Iraqi police officers and local officials under US control had become the targets of bomb attacks

According to reports from the Pentagon, 47 US soldiers died in January exceeding the December figure of 40although this figure is far from the record number of 82 fatalities last November.

In February, the figure dropped to 20, a number that Bush used as a positive sign in the face of criticism from Democrats of the war in and occupation of Iraq.

March's casualties include two US civilians who were working with the occupying forces. Iraqi police are investigating the circumstances in which the two US citizens were killed This situation calls attention to the fact that the losses seem to coincide with the rotation and arrival of fresh troops less familiar with the setting.

The US command itself in Baghdad indicated there had been a gradual reduction in the number of deaths, although it stressed that this could be reversed, taking into account that the number of attacks against troops have averaged between 18 and 22 per day for the last few months.

As the first anniversary of the war approaches (this Saturday), the situation in the Arab nation continues to be markedly insecure, particularly for the occupiers

Canada still says no to troops in Iraq

TORONTO, 18 March -Canada, which opposed the US-led invasion of Iraq, said on Wednesday it will not send troops to the country, even if Spain pulls its soldiers out.

Foreign Affairs Minister Bill Graham told a Press conference in Toronto that Canada would not have a "military presence" in Iraq, but would continue to provide humanitarian aid to help rebuild the country.

"Canada has committed itself to some C$300 million ($225 million) for the reconstruction of Iraq," he said. "We are doing our best to make sure the conditions for stability in Iraq are established."

Ottawa refused to contribute troops to the Iraq war because it was not sanctioned by the United Nations. Canada does have about 2,000 soldiers in Afghanistan as part of the NATO-led stabilization force.-Internet

Iraq 'dog bombs' targeting troops

BAGHDAD, 18 March—Bombs hidden in dead dogs are the latest danger facing UK troops in Iraq.

A dog's body was used recently as cover for a radio-controlled device detonated by the roadside in the city of Basra.

Ammunition technical officer Adrian Craddock, of the Royal Logistics Corps (RLC), said "the dog was put on top of it so the device was covered".

Military experts fear that the same tactic could be repeated, with explosive devices hidden inside other animal carcasses, such as goats.

Mr Craddock said: "It's not a common tactic but we have to be aware of it."

Fifty bombs have been found and defused since April by two British four-man disposal teams from the RLC.

Most of them have been uncovered on one of Basra's three main roads. Many of the devices are set off with remote controls the bombers improvise from pagers or electronic car key systems.

Bombs usually consist of a metal container filled with ball bearings, nails and plastic explosives.

As well as dead dogs, bombs have been hidden in bin liners, hessian sacks, concrete blocks, drain pipes and roadside ditchesthey are then detonated as British patrols pass by.

Captain Wayne Davidson, an RLC ammunition technical officer, said: "The people making these are very skilled at what they do and they go to great lengths to hide the devices.

"This really kicked off in October and the pace has been consistent since then. We can have four or five incidents in a week." Internet

Shocked hotel guest escapes Baghdad bomb blast

BAGHDAD, 18 March — Lebanese businessman Jihad Abi Musleh was watching television in a second-floor room of Baghdad's Mount Lebanon Hotel when a powerful car bomb ripped through the building, killing at least 27 people.

"When the explosion took place I was lying on the bed and watching a religious programme on television," Abi Musleh said as he lay on a hospital stretcher, his face swollen and spattered with blood.

"I started frantically racing around the room and then rushed down the stairs," the 53-year-old said. "My brain was numb to the full impact of the explosion."

Abi Musleh said he saw the hotel receptionist and the Lebanese hotel manager in the lobby covered in blood. "Oh God, help me please," the manager moaned.

"The whole street was on fire when I went outside," Abi Musleh said. "The walls of the hotel were demolished."

Buildings on both sides of the street were ablaze, in the ethnically mixed neighbourhood that is home to many relatively poor families along with commercial offices. Iraqis were clawing at the rubble, searching for survivors. People stranded on upper floors of the hotel screamed for help

A huge crater scarred the street outside the building. Like hundreds of other Arab businessmen, Abi Musleh, a medical equipment supplier from the Lebanese town of Aleh had gone to Iraq in search of lucrative business opportunities.

He said occupancy at the hotel, run by a Lebanese investor, had fallen after a group of expatriate employees of the local cellular telephone company left to move to a rented villa just a day before the blast.

"I was surprised that there were not many people this morning and I heard the company employees had taken a villa," he said. "The hotel was nearly empty without them."

Abi Musleh, whose country has gone through a bloody civil war, said he prayed to God for an end to Iraqis' suffering. "It reminded me of Lebanon," he said.

Argentina, Brazil call for changes in int'l lending rules

RIO DE JANEIRO, 18 March Visiting Argentine President Nestor Kirchner and Brazilian President Luiz Inacio Lula da Silva proposed a change in the rules used by international financial organizations to negotiate with developing countries

Kirchner and Lula presented the proposal in the Declaration on Cooperation for Economic Growth With Equity or the Copacabana Act, which was signed after a meeting between the two presidents.

The Copacabana Act stated that both economic growth and sustained debt had to be taken into account when the fiscal surplus targets are stipulated in negotiations with international financial organizations.

Argentina owes international lending institutions some 84.2 billion US dollars while Brazil's foreign debt amounts to 230 billion dollars. The two leaders asked international lenders to consider as investments rather than expenses the infrastructure investments made by developing countries when the fiscal deficit or surplus is calculated.-MNA/Xinhua

one-year highs

LONDON, 18 March — Oil prices hit fresh one-year highs on Tuesday as consumers voiced growing concern over the economic repercussions of higher energy costs.

US light crude rose 36 cents to hit a new 12-month peak at 37.80 US dollars per barrel, extending strong gains. London Brent crude for May delivery was down eight cents at 32.73 US dollars.

US prices have jumped 4.5 per cent this week as suspicions grew that the militant al-Qaeda network was linked to the Madrid bombings last week that killed 201 people.

Supply concerns have gained renewed force as oil cartel OPEC, which controls half the world's crude exports, plans to reduce supplies at a time when Chinese demand is rocketing. Traders are also on edge over the prospects of a summer gasoline supply crunch in the United States, the world's biggest oil consumer, where fuel inventories are running below normal levels.

A survey of analysts expected US Government's Energy Information Administration to report on Wednesday that US crude oil supplies rose 1.2 million barrels last week thanks to strong imports, while gasoline stocks fell 500,000 barrels. Traders remain concerned that refineries could struggle to build inventories for the peak demand summer season as new environmental regulations restrict supply.

2004. —Internet British lawmakers criticize govt failure in postwar Iraq

LONDON,18 March - The British Government severely misjudged what would be required to stabilize and rebuild postwar Iraq, a parliamentary report published on Tuesday concluded.

According to the report by the Commons Defence Select Committee the failure of the government has led the British-controlled area in Iraq to collapsing unnecessarily into looting and violence.

The report, which was particularly scathing of the government's failure to anticipate the total disintegration of Iraqi civil authorities, said the government has failed to prepare its troops properly for the postwar situation in Iraq, stretching the force to its limit and costing it goodwill with Iraqis. Poor planning, equipment shortages and communication problems put troops under pressure both during and after the conflict, the report said.

The coalition failed to guard munitions dumps properly following the fall of Baghdad, which "cost Iraqi civilian lives and also provided potential enemies ... with a ready stock of easily accessible weaponry," it added.

The report also acknowledged that Britain's role as a "junior partner" in the US-led coalition hamstrung the government's ability to plan independently for postwar reconstruction in Iraq. - MNA/Xinhua

The Tatmadaw (Armed Forces) in perpetual service of the people

The Tatmadaw has been discharging nationaldefence duties. The Tatmadaw has crushed every destructive force violating security and sovereignty of the State. It had to launch the 40-day Kunlong battle, Hopang, Chushwe, Pankok and Panlon battles with the Burma Communist Party (BCP) in the northeast of Myanmar.

The Sisiwan-Tarpang battle launched against the BCP in 1986 was a significant one in the military history of Myanmar. The battle reflected the great courover 6,000 yards from the mountain range was Monpaw Valley. Its eastern part was steeper and it was hard to climb up and down.

To implement its strategic aim, the BCP tried its utmost to liberate Muse-Namkham region after occupying nearby strategic regions taking a stronghold in Sisiwan-Tarpang area. Their plot to occupy the regions amounted to encroaching upon the security and sovereignty of the State. Therefore, the Tatmadaw Army and Air made combined offensives to thwart the encroachment of the BCP. The Sisiwan-Tarpang Battle cost the BCP dear. ### Pride that is his

While engaged in studies

The battle-cry overwhelm the ear Taking it as necessity for the nation Went to the battleground, this youth.

- Felt comfort in war, though it took long Intruding enemies, those insurgents To crush them all, with a vow Continued to find comfort in battle By time, he became middle-aged.
- Two stations in life With no self-interest, serving the nation Long military service, leading to a time With many war-wounds, one hand sacrificed.

Satisfactorily allowed to retire.

- War veteran Grandad Had sacrificed his young life Pride of education He had none, handicapped.
- War veteran Grandad Was dutiful in his youth Pride of property He had none, bereft.
- O, War Veteran Grandad Self-sacrificed, for whole life Inadequate education, propertyless Morale undeterred, if need arises Will take up arms, in service of nation In all his life, Pride of Patriotism This he had, this is his.

China reports slight growth in farm produce prices last month

BEIJING, 18 March -China saw prices of most farm produce continue to rise in February, though the growth rates were slowing down, said the National Bureau of Statistics Tuesday.

Statistics showed the wheat price in February rose by 0.7 per cent compared to January, but was 21.4 per cent up than the same period last year.

The rice prices also rose by 3.9 per cent to 4.1 per cent higher than the first month this year, which was still much lower than the vear-on-vear growth rates ranging from 19.9 to 21.5 per cent. The soybean price last month was only 1.3 per cent higher than January, but jumped by 31.4 per cent over last February. No specific price figures were disclosed in the statistics

The price of unginned cotton was 5.99 yuan (0.72 US dollars) per kilogramme in February, 0.7 per cent higher than in January and 41.7 per cent higher than the same period last year.

The bureau attributed the rapid increase in cotton prices to a growing gap between the demand and supply.

The cotton output had dropped in recent years due to a continuous reduction of planting area and bad weather. But the rapid development of the cotton textile industry and cotton export was expanding demand said the bureau Meanwhile, the prices of edible oil, vegetable and fruit all dropped. The pork price fell by 1.9 per cent from January to 12.49 yuan (1.51 US dollars) per kilogramme last month. The prices of live chickens and eggs also slumped by 11.1 per cent and 5.8 per cent respectively due to the influence of bird flu. MNA/Xinhua

Singapore tightening air pollutant regulations

SINGAPORE, 18 March -Singapore will tighten environmental regulations in 2006 to meet a European air pollution standard that would sharply reduce dangerous fuel emissions, a government official said on Tuesday.

Singapore, whose air is already among Asia's cleanest, plans to adopt by October 2006 the "Euro-4" fuel standard that Europe will implement in 2005 to halve permitted poisonous emission levels, a move that could raise Singapore's transportation costs

To meet Euro-4 requirements, many of the world's carmakers are adding complex filter systems to diesel engines to reduce tiny pollutants of 2.5 microns or less (PM2.5)

Those pollutants, about 128th the diameter of a strand of hair, are small enough to bypass the respiratory defence system and burrow deep into human lungs, reducing the body's ability to fight infection. health experts say.

Singapore's 137,000 diesel vehicles contribute about 50 per cent of the PM2.5 levels found in Singapore's air, said Jacqueline See, a spokeswoman at the National Environment Agency. UN statistics show that six of the world's 15 most polluted cities are in Asia, and the region generates a third of the world's carbon dioxide emissions.

Oklahoma wrong number leads to woman's arrest

OKLAHOMA CITY, 18 March—An Oklahoma woman dialled a wrong number and ended up under arrest after she tried to set up a drug deal with her former parole officer, police said on Tuesday.

Patricia Michel was arrested last Thursday on suspicion of the unlawful distribution of a dangerous controlled substance at her home in Durant, Oklahoma, near the Texas border

Michel called her former parole officer, Doug Canant, on his cell phone by mistake, thinking he could help set up a deal where she could acquire methamphetamines, police said.

"I am a bit of a joker, so I was playing along," Canant said in a telephone interview. "She thought she was talking to her local drug dealer."

She told the parole officer she did not have money to buy drugs because she was waiting for her US tax refund and wanted to exchange one type of drug for another, Canant said.

Acting on Canant's tip, the local drug task force sent agents to Michel's house and set up a deal. She handed over two pills that were controlled substances and instead of getting drugs, she got arrested, police said.

Michel has been released on bond but faces between two years to life in prison if convicted. If she receives parole, she may have Canant as her parole officer again.

"It is a small town and there are only three of us (parole officers). It will be the luck of the draw." Canant said - MNA/Reuters

China speeds up eradication of solid clay bricks

BELIING, 18 March—Four central government ministries have jointly released a circular demanding China's local governments speed up moves to ban the use of solid clay bricks in construction.

The rapid growth in construction has caused a boom in demand for bricks, which led to other problems such as soil loss, air pollution and energy waste.

The ban on the use of solid clay bricks aims to protect limited land resources and the environment. The government has strictly limited the use of farmland for kilns since 1998.

The government initiated in 2000 the ban on solid be a crucial time for China to

US space race titan William Pickering dead at 93

Los Angeles 18 March -William H Pickering, a central figure in the early US space race who as director of the Jet Propulsion Laboratory played a key role in launching America's first satellite into orbit, has died at age 93, NASA said here.

Pickering, affectionately known as "Mr. JPL" and one of the few scientists to anpear twice on the cover of Time magazine, died of pneumonia on Monday at his home in La Canada Flintridge, California, not far from the laboratory where he helped lay the groundwork for robotic exploration of the moon and planets.

"Dr Pickering was one of the titans of our nation's space programme," said Charles Elachi, the current director of JPL, the NASA facility managed by the California Institute of Technology in Pasadena, California, "It was his leadership that took America into space and opened up the moon and the planets to the world."

Chavez refuses to recognize Haiti's new gov't

CARACAS, 18 March—Venezuelan President Hugo Chavez announced Tuesday that his government will not recognize Haiti's new government and offered asylum for ousted president Jean Bertrand Aristide.

Chavez made the statement at the closing ceremony of a health ministers meeting of the Andean Group.

Chavez said Aristide was Haiti's legitimate president elected by his people, and the Venezuela administration will not recognize the government led by interim Prime Minister Gerard Latortue. The President voiced support for Jamaican Prime Minister Percival Patterson, who offered Aristide a visit of up to 10 weeks to Jamaica, stressing "the doors of Venezuela are open" for Aristide.

Aristide went into exile in the Central African Republic on February 29 amid a popular uprising led by rebels aimed at toppling the former president.

Chavez backed Aristide's claims that he had been abducted by the United States and forced to step down. He also criticized the Organization of American States (OAS) for keeping silent toward the Haiti issue, calling on the people in the Caribbean countries to defend their own dignity.

United's Fortune faces claim from former agent

CAPE TOWN, 18 March— A claim against Manchester United's Quinton Fortune by his former agent resumes in a Cape Town High Court on Wednesday with Colin Gie seeking 20 per cent of the midfielder's earnings. Gie, who acted as Fortune's agent for more than a decade before they split last year, wants the South African international to honour a management agreement in which he claims he is entitled to a fifth of Fortune's income.

But Fortune, who split from his agent last year, is opposing the action. The 26-year-old is not expected to be in court despite being out of action for United following knee surgery.

Earlier this month, Fortune's legal team argued the agreement was in conflict with standard regulations. Under FIFA rules agents were only entitled to a two-year contract with a player and five per cent remuneration after taxation, they said.

Gie, who discovered Fortune as a teenager in Cape Town's tough Kewlands neighbourhood, is insisting he had a 15-year deal, which was signed in May 1998. — MNA/Reuters

Owen scores twice as

Liverpool trounce Portsmouth

LONDON, 18 March— Liverpool and Michael Owen put their run of poor form behind them as the England striker scored twice in an easy 3-0 home win over relegation strugglers Portsmouth in the Premier League on Wednesday.

The victory takes Liverpool up three places to fifth with 42 points from 28 games as they chase fourth spot and a Champions League place. Portsmouth stay third from bottom with 24 points, two points adrift of Leicester City and the safety zone.

Liverpool were desperate to put on a convincing display after a shock FA Cup replay defeat to Portsmouth, a frustrating draw with Olympique Marseille in the UEFA Cup and a sloppy Premier League loss at Southampton.

But Germany midfielder Hamann settled the home side's nerves with a splendid goal after just six minutes when he met an Owen cross on the volley that flew into the net from 20 metres.

Fiore double gives Lazio Italian Cup final edge

Rome, 18 March — Lazio midfielder Stefano Fiore struck two second-half goals to hand the Rome side a 2-0 home win over Juventus in the first leg of the Italian Cup final on Wednesday.

The Italian international broke the deadlock in the 59th minute, taking advantage of a nod-on by teammate Fernando Couto to volley past keeper Antonio Chimenti. He followed up 10 minutes from time by hooking in from close range to hand Lazio a healthy advantage to take to Turin for the second leg on May 12.

Juventus defender Igor Tudor was shown a straight red card eight minutes from time for a dangerous challenge on Brazilian winger Cesar. Defeat rounded off a torrid eight days for the Italian champions, who last week exited the Champions League and slipped nine points off the top of Serie A by losing 3-1 to leaders AC Milan on Sunday.

Neither side seriously threatened to break the deadlock in a sterile first half at the Olympic Stadium.

Millwall beat Tranmere to reach FA Cup semis

LONDON, 18 March — English First Division club Millwall reached the last four of the FA Cup for the first time in 67 years when they beat Tranmere Rovers 2-1 in a quarterfinal replay at Prenton Park on Tuesday.

Goals from Tim Cahill and Neil Harris in the first 16 minutes were enough to send the London club through to a tie at Old Trafford on April 4 against First Division rivals Sunderland, who beat Millwall 2-1 in the semifinals in 1937.

Sunderland went on to win the FA Cup for the first time that year but the winner of the tie next month face the daunting task of taking on Manchester United or Arsenal in the final in Cardiff.

The south London club's player manager Dennis Wise, who captured the FA Cup with Wimbledon and twice with Chelsea, said his side should have beaten their Second Division opponents in the first leg 10 days ago, which finished 0-0.

Millwall started the match determined to make up for their profligacy at the New Den.

But once Gary Jones got a goal back for the home side just before halftime, they were left clinging on to their lead as their tenacious opponents searched for an equalizer.

After 11 minutes, Danny Dichio's header put Cahill behind the Tranmere defence and the Australian midfielder controlled the ball with his first touch and put the ball past John Achterberg with his second.

Dichio was also provider for the second goal five minutes later but if Cahill's effort was route one simplicity itself, Neil Harris' strike was anything but.

Receiving the ball just outside the area from Dichio's chest-down, Harris conjured up a sublime hooked volley that left Dutchman Achterberg with no chance.

Tranmere gradually worked their way back into the tie and Jones provided their reward with a headed goal four minutes before the break from Canadian international Iain Hume's cross.

The home side started the second half the way they finished the first and caused Millwall plenty of problems on the flanks.

Substitute striker Eugene Dadi put their best chance past the post and there was to be no repeat of Tranmere's famous FA Cup quarterfinal comeback of 2001 when they went down 3-0 to Premier League Southampton only to win 4-3.

Zaragoza seal thrilling Cup victory over Real Madrid

BARCELONA, 18 March— Real Zaragoza fought their way back from a goal and a man down to claim an extra-time victory over Real Madrid in a thrilling King's Cup final at the Montjuic Olympic Stadium on Wednesday.

Argentine midfielder Luciano Galletti grabbed the winning goal nine minutes before the end of extra time with a stinging shot from the fringe of the area to give Zaragoza their third Cup triumph in 10 years and put an end to Real's dream of a treble.

England captain David Beckham put Real ahead with a superbly struck free kick midway through the first half, but Zaragoza fought back to take a 2-1 lead before the break thanks to a well taken goal from Dani and a penalty from fellow striker David Villa.

Real equalized from a free kick by Roberto Carlos three minutes after the break and Zaragoza suffered a further setback when they were reduced to 10 men after Cani was sent off in the 67th minute.

But Real could not press home their numerical advantage and they too went a man down when Guti was sent off six minutes into the first period of extra time.

Zaragoza made a brisk start at the Olympic stadium and gave Real an early wakeup call when defender Cani fired a sharp shot into the arms of Cesar inside the first minute.

But Real gradually warmed to the task and with Zinedine Zidane and Santiago Solari to the fore they began to probe the Zaragoza defence. Luis Figo was a constant threat with his jinking runs on the right. After some sustained pressure Raul won his side a free kick four metres outside the area. Beckham stepped up and curled an unstoppable shot

inside the post beyond the reach of Lainez, to score his first goal from a free kick in three months.

But the Real fans were still celebrating when Zaragoza hit back with a classy strike from Dani, the former Real Madrid and Barcelona striker cracking into the top corner after controlling a Savio cross with his knee.

Beckham almost put Real ahead once more with a carbon copy of his first free kick five minutes before the break, but this time he skimmed the post with his dipping shot.

Zaragoza rose to the occasion and they took the lead in the final minute of the first half when Villa scored from the penalty spot after he was felled by Guti as the two challenged for the ball five metres out from the goal.

Real hit back three minutes into the second half with another goal from a free kick, this time Roberto Carlos netting with a trademark rocket shot from 25 metres out to make it 2-2.

Real were denied another soon after when Lainez made an acrobatic fingertip save to turn a Zidane header past the post, but Zaragoza were dealt a major blow with Cani's dismissal for a second booking.— MNA/Reuters

General Thura Shwe Mann inspects...

the rituals of golden and silver showers to mark the opening ceremony and inspected the factory.

Next, the General greeted members of the Union Solidarity and Development Association, social organizations, dance troupes and students who attended the opening ceremony.

At the briefing hall, Dr Ko Ko Htwe reported on production of banches of oil palm from their farm at 18th mile of Kawthoung and construction of the factory.

Tetnay Co Managing Director Daw Than Than Aye reported on implementation of oil palm plantation project and running of the crude palm oil mill.

After hearing the reports, General Thura Shwe Mann gave necessary instructions and signed in the visitors' book of Shwe Oil Palm Co Ltd.

Afterwards, the General and party proceeded to Khamaukgyi region of Kawthoung Township and viewed progress of oil palm plantations along the road. General Thura Shwe Mann and party inspected the oil palm farm of Yuzana Co Ltd in Khamaukkvi. Chairman of the company U Htay Myint reported on participation of the company in the oil palm project launched in Taninthayi Division in 1999, progress of area in planting oil palm, arrangements for construction of a crude palm oil mill and investments. Next, the General delivered a speech. In his speech, the General said that oil palm project is beneficial to the entrepreneurs and the State. He said he made an inspection tour of Taninthayi Division to draw the interest of other entrepreneurs in oil palm industry after witnessing the thriving oil palm plantations and good prospects of national entrepreneurs.

The national entrepreneurs in the division presented their experiences of oil palm industry and benefits.

Minister for Electric Power Maj-Gen Tin Htut reported on plans to establish hydropower plants which can contribute towards regional development and oil palm industry in the sites adjacent to oil palm projects.

The General and party looked into the oil palm farm of Yuzana Co Ltd. In the afternoon, the General and party helicoptered to the oil palm farm of Po Kaung Co Ltd at 60th mile station in Bokpyin Township. Chairman of the company U Aye Maung reported on tions, and signed in the visitors' book. Afterwards, the General inspected the oil palm farm. The General and party headed for Taungdagon Oil

Palm Co in Mahe Camp in ture tasks. Lt-Gen Tin Aye and the ministers gave suggestions on the oil mill. General Thura Shwe

Mann discussed investments, covering of the capital and economic prospects. U Aung Bokpyin Township and in- Htwe and entrepreneurs reported on their business. Next, the General and party left Mahe Camp in Bokpyin Township for Myeik and inspected progress of oil palm plantations of the entrepreneurs by helicopter. (See page 11)
