YANGON, 27 Aug—A coordination meeting on implementation of agreements between the Union of Myanmar and the People's Republic of China and cooperation in all sectors was held at the Zeyathiri Beikman on Konmyinthta here at 4.30 pm today with an address by

Prime Minister General Khin Nyunt.

Also present on the occasion were Secretary-1 of the State Peace and Development Council Lt-Gen Soe Win, Secretary-2 Lt-Gen Thein Sein, member of the State Peace and Development Council Quartermaster-General

Lt-Gen Thiha Thura Tin Aung Myint Oo, ministers, the Chief Justice, the Attorney-General, the Auditor-General, the Chairman of Civil Service Selection and Training Board, the Yangon Mayor, the Vice-Chief of Military (See page 8)

PERSPECTIVES

Saturday, 28 August, 2004

Let's work in concert for regional development

The State Peace and Development Council has been striving for the harmonious progress of all regions of the Union through systematic implementation of development plans. Development of all regions depends on smooth and easy transport and, the better the transport, the more developed the economic, social, education and health sectors will be.

Regarding the transport sector, Head of State Senior General Than Shwe said that transport plays a pivotal role in developing a nation, that social and economic development will be possible only with smooth and easy transport, that poor transportation will lead to infrequent contact between national races living in various regions and development gap. Therefore, in accordance with the guidance of the Head of state, motor roads, railroads and bridges are being built wherever necessary the length and breadth of the nation.

In Magway Division alone, a total of 14 bridges 180 feet and above long, including the Myittha bridge, the Bwetkyi bridge and the Yinchang bridge constructed by Myanma Railways, has been built.

The Shwechaung bridge constructed by Public Works under the Ministry of Construction was opened in Upper Minhla, Thayet District, Magway Division on 24 August. The bridge is 500 feet long and situated on the Patheingyi Highway. The construction of bridges has led to the parallel development of the regions on the east and west banks of the Ayeyawady river.

The opening of the Shwechaung bridge can contribute to the development of Kanma Township, Mindon Township, the western part of Minhla Township and the southern part of Ngaphe Township in Magway Division. More than 360,000 people in 154 villages in Kanma Township, 178 villages in Mindon Township, 157 villages in Minhla Township and 121 villages in Ngaphe Township will be able to travel easily from one place to another and as a result trade in the region will develop.

All these are the results of the genuine goodwill and correct leadership of the Government. Local people will have to work in earnest at agriculture and production industry, making effective use of the favourable conditions created by the improvement of transport. Trade with the neighbouring country will also develop.

Due to the construction of new motor roads and bridges, all the national people will be able to travel from one place to another in the Union. We would like to call on the entire national brethren to work for the development of their respective regions in unity and with Union Spirit.

966 US troops killed since beginning of military operations in Iraq last year

BAGHDAD, 26 Aug—As of Thursday, 26 August, 966 US service members have died since the beginning of military operations in Iraq in March 2003, according to the Defence Department. Of those, 723 died as a result of hostile action and 243 died of non-hostile causes.

The British military has reported 64 deaths; Italy, 18; Spain, 11; Poland, 10; Bulgaria, six; Ukraine, six; Slovakia, three; Thailand, two; and Denmark, El Salvador, Estonia, Hungary, Latvia and the Netherlands have reported one death each.

Since May 1, 2003, when President Bush declared that major combat operations in Iraq had ended, 828 US soldiers have died — 614 as a result of hostile action and 214 of non-hostile causes, according to the military's numbers Thursday.—Internet

Thai troops start pull-out from Iraq

BANGKOK, 26 Aug—Thailand's small contingent of troops in Iraq have started leaving for neighbouring Kuwait and will finish their withdrawal within four days, senior military officials said, ending a controversial year-long posting.

The contingent of engineers and medics started pulling out Thursday from their camp near the central Shiite holy city of Karbala and is expected to return to Thailand by September 20.

The troops' heavy equipment was moved out last month.

"We started withdrawing on 26 August and the last batch of Thai troops will move out from Lima camp by the end of this month to wait for US transport planes to move them to Bangkok," said Lieutenant General Kemarat Kanchanawat, the Supreme Command's director of joint operations.

The Thai contingent hardly left the camp since April when it was ordered to hunker down because of the rising violence across the country.

Thailand sent a contingent of 451 troops but two were killed in a car bombing in December in Karbala. Thailand remained neutral during the US-led invasion.

The withdrawal came despite a request from UN Secretary General Kofi Annan last month for the Thais to delay their departure because of the persisting security crisis in Iraq. — Internet

GOM recommends allocation of work to NRI Ministry

NEW DELHI, 25 Aug—After three months in office, the new Non-Resident Indians Affairs Ministry headed by Jagdish Tytler will be allocated work, including employment assistance to overseas Indians coming here, if the recommendations of a high-powered Group of Ministers (GOM) are implemented.

The GOM, headed by Defence Minister Pranab Mukherjee, which met earlier this month, has recommended that the new ministry be entrusted with work relating to scholarships and admission of children of overseas Indians in the country.

Giving this information to the Parliamentary Standing Committee on External Affairs, the Government has said the GOM has recommended that organization of Pravasi Bharatiya Divas, external publicity relating to overseas Indian affairs and representation in Foreign Investment Promotion Board should be among other areas to be looked after by the ministry.

Matters relating to overseas volunteers programmes in India should also be given to this ministry, it was suggested. The Standing Committee, under the Chairmanship of Laxminarayan Pandey, in its report presented to Parliament's lower house

Lok Sabha on Thursday, stressed that basic infrastructure required for the ministry's functioning should be put in place at the earliest so that "uncertainty and ambivalence" with regard to its working ended without further loss of time. — MNA/PTI

Bush admits Iraq 'Miscalculations' says NY times

NEW YORK, 26 Aug—President Bush acknowledged for the first time on Thursday that he had miscalculated post-war conditions in Iraq, the New York Times reported.

The paper quoted Bush as saying during a 30-minute interview that he made "a miscalculation of what the conditions would be" in post-war Iraq.

But he insisted that the 17-month-long insurgency was the unintended by-product of a "swift victory" against Saddam Hussein's military, the Times reported.

Bush said his strategy had been "flexible enough" to respond. "We're adjusting to our conditions" in places like Najaf, the paper quoted him as saying.

The Times said Bush deflected further inquiries as to what had gone wrong with the occupation.

According to the Pentagon, 966 US troops have died in Iraq since the invasion, 828 of them since April 30, 2003. An additional 6,690 service members have been wounded, most of them during the occupation.

Polish Embassy in Baghdad attacked

WARSAW, 26 Aug — Unknown assailants attacked Warsaw's Embassy in Baghdad on Wednesday but no one was hurt, Poland's Foreign Ministry said, confirming an earlier report from a Polish Government source.

"At around 1100 GMT the Polish Embassy in Baghdad was attacked from a moving vehicle — one or two shots were fired, either from a mortar or an RPG (rocket-propelled grenade) launcher," Foreign Ministry spokesman Jaroslaw Drozd said.

"The shells hit a wall near a window, and there are no casualties. At the moment we cannot say who was responsible," he added.

It contributed troops to Iraq in 2003 and commands a multinational division, including 2,500 of its own troops, in southern Iraq. Fourteen Poles, including civilians, have been killed in Iraq.

Blair faces impeachment procedure over Iraq

LONDON, 26 Aug—A British lawmaker announced the launch of impeachment proceedings against Prime Minister Tony Blair, reviving a near-extinct rule to argue that he misled his country in order to join the US-led invasion of Iraq.

Adam Price of the Welsh nationalist Plaid Cymru party said 13 British MPs had publicly backed the bid to unseat Blair on the basis of misleading statements to parliament and the public about the threat posed by Iraq.

The group — including nine Scottish and Welsh nationalists, three Conservatives and a Liberal Democrat — has little chance of actually securing Blair's ouster with a motion last invoked in 1848.

But it could trigger a round of painful sparring for Blair at the start of a new political season, when the British leader was intent on playing down Iraq in order to gear up for a general election widely expected some time next year.

Price and Elfyn Llwyd, Plaid Cymru's parliamentary leader, presented a 99-page report Thursday detailing what they called "compelling evidence of deliberate repeated distortion, seriously misleading statements and culpable negligence" by Blair.

"We find it rather offensive that (Blair) has the luxury of holding office while he's telling lies," Llwyd told a press conference.

He said lawyers from Matrix Chambers, where Blair's wife Cherie Blair practices law, were drawing up impeachment papers which would be published in early September. — Internet

Group holding lorry drivers demands firm quit Iraq

BAGHDAD, 26 Aug—A group will release seven hostages it has been holding for more than a month as soon as their Kuwaiti company says it will no longer operate in Iraq.

The seven — three Indians, three Kenyans and an Egyptian — are all lorry drivers working for the Kuwait Gulf Link Company (KGL) who were abducted on 21 July and threatened with execution if KGL did not end its work in Iraq.

"The leadership of the Secret Islamic Army announces it is prepared to release its hostages on condition that the Kuwaiti company announces publicly that it will cease to work in Iraq and withdraws immediately," the SIA said in a written statement, of which AFP obtained a copy on Thursday.

In addition to the withdrawal of KGL from Iraq, the SIA is also demanding the release of Iraqi prisoners held in Kuwait and in detention centres run by the United States.

Italian journalist slain in Iraq

ROME, 26 Aug—An Italian journalist held hostage in Iraq has been killed, the Italian government confirmed on Thursday.

Prime Minister Silvio Berlusconi quickly condemned the execution of Enzo Baldoni while his government vowed to stay active in the war against terrorism.

"There are no words for an inhumane act that ... cancels centuries of civilization to bring us back to the Dark Ages," Berlusconi said in a statement.

The Arabic-language network Al-

Jazeera reported that a group calling itself the Islamic Army in Iraq executed Baldoni because the Italian government did not meet its demands to withdraw its troops from Iraq within 48 hours.

It was not known when and where the killing occurred.

Baldoni was married and had two sons.

Kuwait to work for safe return of Indian hostages in Iraq

NEW DELHI, 26 Aug — Kuwait on Wednesday assured India that it would leave no stone unturned for the safe return of three Indian truck drivers held captive in Iraq since 21 July.

"Indian community working in Iraq are associated with humanitarian work. We are working very closely with our friends in Kenya, India and Iraq and will not leave any stone unturned for safe return of Indians held captive in Iraq," visiting Kuwaiti Foreign Minister Mohammed Al-Sabah Al-Salem Al-Sabah told reporters here after signing a landmark India-GCC Framework Agreement with Commerce and Industry Minister Kamal Nath.

He said "rumours" that Indian workers coming to Kuwait were forced to work in areas they did not want to go were "completely baseless". The hostage issue did come up during talks Al-Sabah had with External Affairs Minister K Natwar Singh and "Kuwait has assured us that no stone would be left unturned to bring this matter to a positive resolution to ensure the safe return of not only the Indian hostages but other hostages also," Foreign Office spokesman Navtej Sarna told reporters.

Al-Sabah told the Indian side that Kuwait would be trying its utmost to get to the bottom of this, the spokesman said.

Antaryami, Tilak Raj and Sukhdev Singh, employed by Kuwait and Gulf Link (KGL) transport company, were abducted last month in Iraq by a group calling itself 'Islamic Secret Army-Holders of Black Banners'. Negotiations to secure their release have not yet succeeded.

Abu Ghraib Prison report details use of dogs

WASHINGTON, 26 Aug—US Army investigators pulled no punches on Wednesday in releasing the latest stark report of American abuse against Iraqi detainees at infamous Abu Ghraib Prison near Baghdad.

Among details in the 143-page report, which referred five officers and 41 unidentified lower-ranking soldiers, civilian interrogators, military police and medics to commanders for possible administrative or criminal punishment:

—Soldier No 01, a medic, failed to report seeing "a human pyramid of naked Iraqi prisoners, all with sandbags on their heads", when she was called to provide medical treatment.

—Soldier No 08, a dog handler from the 16th Military Police Brigade "had an ongoing contest with Soldier 27, another dog handler, to scare detainees with their dogs in order to see who could make the detainees urinate and defecate first".

—Soldier No 20, a medic, failed to report seeing a detainee struck in the leg with a stick where he had been shot. The detainee, it said, was kicked by Military Police. Charles Graner, currently involved in hearings in Mannheim, Germany, ahead of his scheduled court martial for abuse.

—Soldier No 25, an interrogator with the 321st Military Intelligence Battalion, "thought it was funny" to see detainees flee from dogs and failed to report prisoners handcuffed together in contorted positions.

—Soldier No 27, a dog handler from the 523rd Military Police Detachment, "led his dog into a cell with two juvenile detainees and let his dog 'go nuts.' The two juveniles were yelling and screaming with the youngest one hiding behind the oldest".

—Civilian No 05, a contract interrogator, kept yanking a prisoner to the ground using handcuffs and told a soldier who admonished him for abuse and drinking alcohol at the prison, "I have been doing this for 20 years and I do not need a 20-year-old telling me how to do my job." — MNA/Reuters

44 Indians return from Iraq

NEW DELHI, 26 Aug — While the fate of three Indian drivers held hostage hangs in balance, 44 Indian workers have returned from Iraq, the Lok Sabha (Lower House of Indian Parliament) was informed Wednesday.

Those who have returned include 30 workers from a camp near Fallujah, 14 people stranded in northern Iraq and four persons employed by a South Korean firm, Junior Minister for External Affairs Rao Inderjit Singh said in a written reply.

The Indian mission in Baghdad has been instructed to help all countrymen desiring to return, he said adding the time taken to return to India depends on the route chosen by them, pace of settlement of dues by their employers and the security situation surrounding their work-sites.

In the wake of the hostage crisis and the current security situation, government has issued an advisory telling citizens to defer for the time being their visits to the war-torn nation.

Government has also stopped emigration clearance for Iraq and has sought the co-operation of Jordan and Kuwait governments to prevent Indians from crossing over into Iraq.

Argentina hopes to cooperate with China in oil exploration

BUENOS AIRES, 26 Aug—The Argentina Energy Corporation hoped Tuesday that Chinese companies would participate in joint exploration and production of Argentine oil and natural gas.

Luis Corsiglia, board director of the state-run Argentine energy giant, indicated the hope in an exclusive interview with Xinhua. The corporation will be established soon.

He said that Ezequiel Espinosa, the corporation's president and board chairman, would visit China in mid-September and discuss the issue with leaders of Chinese companies.

Corsiglia said that with its abundant fund and advanced technology, China has the capacity to participate in Argentina's oil and gas exploration and production.

China to rein in investment in steel, aluminium, cement sectors

BEIJING, 26 Aug — China's State Development and Reform Commission (SDRC) has recently unveiled continued measures to rein over-investment in the steel, aluminium and cement sectors.

The commission stopped the construction of new iron and steel projects, electrolytic aluminium projects and alumina projects that have not obtained government approval. It also says new projects must go through strict state approval procedure.

Eager to attract investment, some regional governments used to allow certain projects to go ahead without receiving official approval.

An SDRC official said production capacity in the three sectors has been growing too fast. The capacity of existing production centres combined with those now under construction has far exceeded prospective market demand.

Argentina has been bogged down in an energy crisis due to the shortage of natural gas, which was caused by the government's lack of a long-term energy strategy.

He said that since the full privatization of the energy companies in Argentina, investment in the sector by private companies had long been insufficient and this had greatly weakened the country's ability to store, transport and explore oil and gas.

The establishment of the Argentina Energy Corporation is one of the major steps by the government to fundamentally solve the energy problem. Although the Parliament is still reviewing the relevant laws establishing this company, the government has already appointed its leaders and board members.

Corsiglia said one primary task of his corporation would be looking for foreign partners and attracting foreign funds. — MNA/Xinhua

Iran will never conduct nuclear activities in hiding

TEHERAN, 26 Aug — Iranian Foreign Minister Kamal Kharazi said on Tuesday that Iran would never conduct nuclear activities in hiding, the official IRNA news agency reported.

"Iran's nuclear activities will never be conducted in hiding, but its legitimate right to exploit nuclear energy should be recognized," Kharazi was quoted as saying.

Kharazi, who is currently visiting New Zealand, made the pledge at a meeting with his New Zealand counterpart Phil Goff. Iran, being accused by the United States of developing nuclear weapons under the guise of civil purposes, is dying for diplomatic support from other countries.

Top UN envoy ends first visit to Iraq

UNITED NATIONS, 26 Aug— The top UN envoy for Iraq, Ashraf Qazi, ended his first visit to Baghdad since his appointment last month after meeting with a long line of political leaders and prominent figures in civil society, a UN spokesman said Thursday.

"He is going to meet with officials from UN agencies in Geneva, before going to New York to meet senior UN officials early next month," spokesman Stephane Dujarric told a Press briefing in New York. During his 13-day stay in Iraq, Qazi discussed the world body's role in the political and humanitarian reconstruction of the war-torn country. He attended meetings of the Iraqi National Conference, which chose a body to monitor the work of the Interim Government, and discussed fighting in the holy Shiite Muslim city of Najaf with interim Prime Minister Iyad Allawi and other leaders. "Deputy Special Representative Ross Mountain will take over as the senior UN official in Iraq until Qazi returns," said the spokesman. — MNA/Xinhua

Family of Italian hostage in Iraq pleads for release

ROME, 26 Aug — The daughter of an Italian freelance journalist held hostage in Iraq appealed to his kidnappers on Wednesday to free a "man of peace" she said had been working to help Iraqis.

"We turn to the Iraqi people, tormented by war, and to the men who are holding our father Enzo, with an appeal simply to tell them that Enzo Baldoni is in Iraq as a man of peace," Gabriella Baldoni, 24, said on RAI television news.

A group called the Islamic Army in Iraq told Al Jazeera television it was holding Baldoni who disappeared near Najaf several days ago. Television pictures from the kidnappers released on Monday showed him in apparent good health.

As well as a reporter for Italian newspapers, Baldoni was volunteering for the Red Cross while in Iraq, his daughter said.

"He was trying to save human lives in Najaf by helping a Red Cross convoy in a spirit of solidarity which has always underscored his thinking and his actions.

"It is in this same spirit that we ask you to be able to hold him in our arms again, alive."

Three out of four other Italian hostages, all civilian security guards, were released in June after nearly two months in captivity. The fourth, Fabrizio Quattrocchi, was shot dead.

As in that case, the kidnappers of Baldoni are calling for Italy to withdraw its 2,700 troops from Iraq, the third largest foreign military contingent in the country.

Najaf situation could be solved only by Iraqi government

LONDON, 26 Aug— An aide of Iraq's most influential Shiite cleric Ali al-Sistani has said that the situation in Najaf city could be solved only by the Iraqi government alone, the BBC reported Wednesday.

The Mehdi Army of radical cleric Moqtada al-Sadr should leave the key shrine in Najaf, the Imam Ali Mosque, and the US troops should not be involved in bringing the fighting to an end, Sayed Mohamed Musawi said in an interview with the BBC.

"Americans interfering in this will not help the situation at all," Musawi said. "We always say that the Americans should be very far from the holy places. They should not involve themselves in this problem."

Musawi also stressed that any raid by US troops on the Imam Ali Mosque would trigger mass protests and would boost public support for the militias.

Musawi's comments come as reports said Sistani, who arrived in London in August 5 for heart treatment, was returning to Iraq on Wednesday. Earlier reports quoted Sistani's aide Hamed al-Khafaf as saying that Sistani would return to the holy city of Najaf to "rescue it from its ordeal".

"Najaf is burning. Ayatollah al-Sistani is on his way back and calls on Iraqis from all provinces to join him in the holy city," Khafaf was quoted as saying.

US forces have been advancing further on the holy Imam Ali Shrine, which Sadr's supporters who oppose the US military presence in Iraq have taken over.

Negotiations about ending the conflict between Sadr's militias and the US troops have bogged down amid renewed fighting. — MNA/Xinhua

600 pieces of Iraqi antiques seized in Jordan

AMMAN, 26 Aug— Some 600 pieces of Iraqi antiques and paintings have been seized in Jordan since April 2004, local Arabic newspaper Al-arab- Al yawm reported Tuesday.

Fawaz Khureisha, general manager of Jordan's Heritage Department, told the newspaper in a statement that some of these pieces date back to 3,000 years BC and others are from Babylon's times to Islamic period.

He indicated that the Heritage Department kept these seized antiques in special stores and would return them to the Iraqi Government at a suitable time.

Intelligence, deputy ministers, the Director-General of the State Peace and Development Council Office, heads of departments and officials.

In his address, Prime Minister General Khin Nyunt said that the meeting held today is the second coordination meeting on further promoting the tasks for implementation of agreements between Myanmar and PRC and cooperation in all sectors; that there are a number of agreements signed between the two nations; and that as there have been exchanges of goodwill visits between the high-ranking officials including the State leaders of both nations, the two nations were able to sign agreements on mutual cooperation as a result.

The prime minister spoke of the need for the relevant ministries to accelerate their integrated and well-coordinated efforts for speedy implementation of the agreements. More agreements between the two nations and Memorandums of Understanding were signed during his goodwill visit to PRC in July 2004, he said.

All-out efforts are being made with added momentum for speedy implementation of the agreements and Memorandums of Understanding after the goodwill visits, he noted.

While relentless efforts are being exerted with added momentum on our side, it is obvious that officials, technicians and businessmen from the PRC side have made frequent visits to Myanmar and met their Myanmar counterparts for implementation of the agreements, he added.

As there have been rapid changes and developments in the world, the demand of power, oil and natural gas in the global nations are on the constant increase, he said.

He said Myanmar possesses water resources that can generate hydro electric power and a large amount of petroleum and natural gas deposits. There are a lot of prospects to promote energy sector for neighbouring countries and for those in the region. Myanmar is in a strategic position which can link South Asia and South East Asia regions and so it can provide assistance for transport among neighbouring countries and those in the regions. Promotion of cooperation among those countries will be very useful to both Myanmar and neighbouring and regional countries. Friendship and bilateral cooperation between Myanmar and China is making progress and both countries have signed agreements and MoUs for bilateral cooperation in all sectors.

He called on the ministries concerned to make concerted efforts for speedy implementation of the agreements between the two countries and promotion of bilateral cooperation in all sectors.

Next, Minister for Foreign Affairs U Win Aung reported on work done by the respective ministries in connection with the directives of the Prime Minister at the first coordination meeting on implementation of agreements and cooperation in all sectors between Myanmar and PRC. The ministers and the deputy ministers reported on implementation of bilateral cooperation in the respective sectors regarding economic and technological cooperation and industrial development.

Prime Minister General Khin Nyunt took part in the discussions and delivered concluding remarks.

ASEAN solidarity and firmness

Aung Moe San

Vietnam, an ASEAN member is making preparations to host the Asia-Europe Meeting. Normally, the meeting will be attended by the 10 member countries of the EU and the ASEAN member nations including the three new members nations. However, the EU countries are opposing Myanmar's participation at the meeting. Myanmar is included in the three new members of the ASEAN. The EU countries are pointing out that there is no progress in the human rights and the cause of democracy in Myanmar, and with that excuse they are trying to obstruct Myanmar's participation. Are they going to measure Myanmar's democracy and human rights with their own yardstick, or with the Asian standard, or based on the situation of the entire Myanmar, or based on personality cult? But the ASEAN nations and the neighbouring nations do not measure Myanmar's democracy and human rights with the West European standard, but with the Asian standard. Their measurement is not based on personality cult, but on the situation of Myanmar society. Thus, they are welcoming and supporting Myanmar's democracy transition from the positive point of view. At present, Myanmar has already laid down the seven-point future policy programme and is in the process of building a democratic nation. The convening of the National Convention, the basic step of the seven-point future policy programme, is in progress at present, and a portion of the Convention has already been completed successfully. But some EU nations are not satisfied with the present results. Their demands to follow their instructions amount to interfering in Myanmar's internal affairs. Moreover, their demands are totally in contradiction to the ASEAN policy. The EU's opposition to Myanmar's participation at the meeting is to cause dissension among the ASEAN nations. In addition, the EU is interfering in the affairs of the ASEAN's right to make decisions by itself.

However, the positive response of the farsighted ASEAN leaders to the EU's demands can be seen obviously during the Prime Minister General Khin Nyunt's recent goodwill visit to three ASEAN nations. At the invitation of Prime Minister of the Socialist Republic of Vietnam His Excellency Mr Phan Van Khai, Prime Minister of the Lao People's Democratic Republic His Excellency Mr Bounnhang Vorachith and Prime Minister of the Kingdom of Cambodia His Excellency Mr Samdech Hun Sen, Prime Minister General Khin Nyunt of the Union of Myanmar paid a two-day goodwill visit to the three countries on 9 and 10 August. During the visit, the Myanmar Prime Minister reached bilateral agreements with the countries concerned to extend mutual cooperation and understanding in regional and international affairs.

At his meeting with leaders of Vietnam, Prime Minister General Khin Nyunt explained the seven-point future policy programme of Myanmar and the latest developments of the country, thanking all ASEAN countries including Vietnam for their support for Myanmar. He said that Myanmar is making all-out efforts together with other member nations for ASEAN unity and regional development and peace and stability.

Prime Minister Mr Phan Van Khai said that Vietnam always remembers Myanmar's assistance during its national liberation struggle, expressing satisfaction to see the current fruitful cooperation between the two countries. Vietnam supports Myanmar's policies for transition to democracy, he said, adding that the two countries will strive for further strengthening of the ASEAN unity. Vietnam firmly believes that Myanmar will perform the ASEAN chairmanship duty well, as the nation is going to take over the duty in 2006, he noted, assuring Vietnam's support for Myanmar to attend the Asia-Europe Meeting.

General Secretary of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of Vietnam Mr Nong Duc Manh expressed his belief that Myanmar's democracy transition will surely meet its success, saying that only the Myanmar people have the right to determine the fate of their country.

Chairman of the National Assembly of SRV Mr Nguyen Van An said that Vietnam appreciates and has sympathy for Myanmar's endeavours; and that it also understands the magnitude of efforts to ensure the perpetuation of a nation's sovereignty.

During his meeting with Laotian leaders, the Myanmar Prime Minister said that in addition to their similar experiences in history, Myanmar and Laos are enjoying bilateral fraternal relations. He expressed his belief that the two countries will cooperate and support each other in the regional and international issues.

Lao PDR President Mr Khamtay Siphandone said that the two countries are enjoying fraternal relations and have mutual respect for each other. As there flourish close ties and mutual understanding between the two countries from the top level leaders to the basic levels, the bilateral relations and mutual cooperation of the two countries will further develop.

Prime Minister Mr Bounnhang Vorachith expressed pleasure to see the Myanmar Government and the people making accelerated efforts for national peace and stability and development, under the guidance of Senior General Than Shwe.

At his meeting with leaders of Cambodia, Prime Minister General Khin Nyunt said that Myanmar and Cambodia have similarities in history and culture and religion. Both countries will extend bilateral friendship and mutual cooperation, he said, thanking Cambodia for its appreciation and support for Myanmar. He pledged to join hands with Cambodia for unity and firmness of the ASEAN.

Acting Head of State and Chairman of the Senate Mr Samdech Chea Sim said that both countries will strive for prosperity, while joining hands with each other to carry out matters of common interest and regional interest.

Prime Minister Mr Samdech Hun Sen said, "Our firm stand is that all ASEAN nations must participate in the Asia-Europe Meeting on equal status, without making any discrimination among the member nations." The talks between the Myanmar Prime Minister and leaders of the three countries has indicated the ASEAN solidarity and firmness.

Efficient use of electricity

- * Use daylight as the main source of light
- * Use the least possible amount of electricity only if there is not enough natural light
- * Use the least possible amount of electricity required in production and service enterprises
- * Preventing waste of electricity benefits the user and others

There are about 500,000 households using electricity in Yangon. Thus, saving a four-foot fluorescent lamp everyday by each household amounts to saving power that is equal to the capacity a 20-mega-watt power station can supply.

Efficient use of fuel

- * Saving one gallon of fuel per car per month will save the nation one US dollar
- * Thus, a total of 455,822 cars in Myanmar can save US$ 5.5 million in a year
- * The amount, US $ 5.5 million, can build a major bridge across Ayeyawady River

In addition to interfering in the affairs of Myanmar, the EU nations are trying to bully ASEAN to follow its instructions. At the same time, they are trying to cement the EU unity, extend its influence and manipulate the world as a superpower.

In May 2004, two small nations — Cyprus and Malta — eight East European countries joined the EU. Thus the number of member nations has extended to 25. As the EU has extended the number of member nations, it is able to move one step forward towards a single united Europe, noted the EU leaders with pride. But the EU will not stop there. It is arranging to accept Bulgaria and Romania as its new members in 2007. The European Council, the highest body of the EU, is considering to accept Turkey and Croatia and other nations of the former Republic of Yugoslavia as new members.

The journey of the 50-year-old EU was not a smooth one. It had walked along the rough and difficult road for many years, while trying to remove doubts and hatred between member nations and to negotiate between the contradicting economies. The agreements that were reached in the 1950s were and basic cause towards emergence of the EU. The six countries — Belgium, the Netherlands, France, Italy, West Germany and Luxembourg — formed the European Coal and Steel Common Market in 1951. After six years, the European Common Market was formed. During the early years of its formation the ECM faced constant disputes between the nations which wanted to enjoy close relations with the US and the others that wanted to free themselves from under the domain of the US and stand totally as a European nation. In 1973, it permitted Britain and Ireland as its new members. After collectively facing and overcoming oil and fuel crisis in the 1970s, the member nations of the EU became more consolidated. In 1975, the European Council was formed as the highest authority of the continent. The first parliamentary election of Europe was held in 1979, and later the EU started to move towards practising a single monetary system. After accepting Spain and Portugal, two economic giants of the continent, to join the body in 1983, plans were laid down to set up a single monetary system and a single European market. Thanks to the plan, the EU nations have been enjoying free flow of capital for services, enterprises and tourism industry since 1993. Thus, the EU has been moving towards a single united Europe covering foreign affairs and security issues in addition to economy.

At the time when the EU is trying to extend its dominance over the global affairs, the issue of solidarity has become an essential need for the ASEAN, which should also be aware of the external instigation to cause dissension within it. Moreover, the Asian nations should strive to consolidate their unity.

Health Ministry holds work coordination meeting

YANGON, 27 Aug—The Ministry of Health held its meeting (2004) at the Department of Medical Research on Ziawaka Road in Dagon Township this morning to coordinate community health care services.

It was attended by Minister for Health Dr Kyaw Myint, Deputy Minister Dr Mya Oo, departmental heads of departments under the ministry and officials.

Delivering an address on the occasion, the minister expressed his heartfelt pleasure for Myanmar reached a milestone in her medical science area by successfully performing a liver transplant. He was also encouraged by the success achieved in disease prevention and control activities with respect to the community health care services, he said. However, it is still needed for medical staff to make more field trips in taking measures for control, prevention and surveillance of infectious diseases to be able to avert outbreak of these diseases. Respective health departments are to carry out surveillance tasks constantly in border areas to prevent the diseases that occur most frequently in these regions. Implementation of the fly-proof latrines project has come across the target, and the rhythm is thus to be maintained, he said. He put the onus of fulfilling medical staff's requirements on heads of State/Division health departments.

He pledged that the ministry will continue to attend constantly to the needs in the health field. In conclusion, the minister elaborated on the functions of respective departments.

The deputy minister dealt with endeavours of the township health committee, importance of extended conduction of educative talks on health as well as cooperation of departments and the people in taking preventive measures against diseases.

Next, directors-general of the departments under the ministry, heads of State/Division health departments, rectors of institutes of medicines and universities, and medical superintendents of central level and State/Division level hospitals reported on progress of respective work.

After assessing the reports, the minister fulfilled the requirements and delivered closing remarks. — MNA

New Pakistani PM to take oath of office Saturday

ISLAMABAD, 26 Aug — Pakistan's interim Prime Minister Shujaat Hussain resigned on Wednesday after a short stint of nearly two months, paving the way for President Pervez Musharraf's choice Shaukat Aziz to take over the top post on Saturday.

Hussain announced his resignation in the 342-member National Assembly after which the federal Cabinet was dissolved, outgoing Information Minister Sheikh Rashid said.

He said election for the leader of the Assembly will be held on Friday in which the ruling Pakistan Muslim League-Q (PML-Q) and its allies enjoying comfortable majority would field Aziz. The nomination for the post will be filed tomorrow.

The new Prime Minister would take oath of office on Saturday and seek a vote of confidence of the House on the same day, Rashid said.

Aziz, 55, was inducted as Finance Minister by Musharraf after the 1999 military coup and held the post ever since. Announcing his resignation, 59-year-old Hussain said that during his short tenure he has tried his level best to serve the nation.

“I have laid new traditions of tolerance and accommodation in the politics,” he said and expressed the hope that Aziz, an international banker-turned Finance Minister, will make concerted efforts to make the country “a real prosperous and progressive state”.

He said Aziz will have to take difficult decisions for ensuring national integrity and country's stability as Musharraf took in the past.

“Aziz will take several measures for the development of the country to give relief to the people. We will have to take some difficult decision as President Musharraf had taken for the national security.”

“Let us work for the reconciliation and understanding to find solution to the problems. I am returning the trust, this Parliament had given to me,” Hussain said.

India signs landmark agreements with Kuwait

NEW DELHI, 26 Aug — India on Wednesday entered into a landmark agreement to usher in free trade with six Gulf countries including Kuwait with which it signed an Extradition Treaty and two other accords to further strengthen bilateral cooperation.

Visiting Kuwaiti Foreign Minister Sheikh Mohammad Sabah Al-Salem Al-Sabah and his Indian counterpart K Natwar Singh inked an Agreement on Mutual Legal Assistance in Criminal Matters and a Memorandum of Understanding for setting up of Strategic Consultative Group. Kuwait is the third Gulf country after UAE and Bahrain with which India has signed extradition treaty. The extradition treaty with Saudi Arabia is in advanced stage of negotiations and a similar agreement with Qatar is in initial stage.

On behalf of the six-nation Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC) of which Kuwait is the current Chairman, Al-Sabah signed with Commerce and Industry Minister Kamal Nath the framework agreement for economic cooperation.

Al-Sabah, who is on a three-day visit, called on Indian President A P J Abdul Kalam, Prime Minister Manmohan Singh and Speaker of Lower House of Parliament Somnath Chatterjee. Al-Sabah and Singh held delegation-level talks preceded by a restricted session on a wide range of issues covering bilateral relations and international issues including Iraq as well as UN and UN reforms, External Affairs Ministry spokesman told reporters here.

Ugandan official says Mount Elgon likely to erupt into volcano

KAMPALA, 26 Aug — Ugandan Minister of State for Environment J.J. Odong confirmed on Wednesday that Mount Elgon is likely to erupt into a volcano.

Odong made the remarks when he was reacting to the motion raised by a member of Parliament, David Wakikona that communities living in and around the mountain are at danger.

He told the preliminary session of the Parliament that a survey by experts that the top surface of the mountain reveals a likely volcanic eruption and that temperature on the mountain Wednesday measures 170 Centigrade.

Earlier, Ugandan First Deputy Prime Minister and Minister for Disaster Preparedness and Refugees Moses Ali announced that the government had dispatched a team of experts to assess reports that communities living at the foot of Mount Elgon on the Kenyan side have observed gas and molten substance emissions from a cave on the mountain.

He said that the Ugandan Government would issue a detailed statement on the volcanic status of the mountain upon the report from the team.

The team was sent to Mount Elgon, which was bordering Uganda and Kenya, following Kenyan geologists warned of imminent volcanic eruption on the mountain which has been dormant for about a century.

China puts independent clause of AIDS prevention into law

BEIJING, 26 Aug— China for the first time put an independent clause on AIDS prevention in contagious disease prevention and control law, as the country's AIDS prevention and control work is at a crucial stage.

The clause, which says "Governments at all levels must strengthen AIDS prevention and control work in a bid to curb further spread of the disease. Detailed measures could be stipulated by the State Council," has been added to the amendment draft of the contagious disease prevention and control law, which has been submitted to the ongoing 11th meeting of the Standing Committee of the National People's Congress (NPC) for its third deliberation.

Hu Guangbao, deputy director of NPC's Legal Committee, said the law's amendment draft is expected to be passed at this meeting, as law makers' opinions have been reflected in the draft during the last two deliberations.

The amendment draft of contagious disease prevention and control law has been discussed twice in April and June by members of the Standing Committee of the NPC.

During the first two deliberations, some lawmakers advised that the law should entrust the State Council to stipulate regulations on AIDS prevention and control, as the country has entered a crucial stage in which the epidemic may spread from high-risk groups to others.

Some lawmakers suggested that clause on eliminating discrimination against people with AIDS should be written into the law, because social bias against them has become serious.

Some suggested that clauses stating that blood collection organizations must guarantee quality of blood products and stipulating punishment for illegal blood collection and selling should be put into the law's amendment draft.

NASA experts report drought forecast breakthrough

LONDON, 26 Aug— Climate experts at NASA believe they have found a way of forecasting droughts and floods months in advance, the New Scientist magazine reported on Wednesday.

The magazine said until now forecasting more than a week ahead had proved impossible because the atmosphere is so unpredictable.

But it said NASA's Goddard Space Flight Centre in Maryland had located a series of "hotspots" in the middle of continents where changes in the moisture content in soils may signal droughts or floods to come.

"In these hotspots, soil moisture and precipitation are tightly linked," the magazine quoted NASA's Randal Koster as saying.

The theory runs that water evaporating from soil is a major source of vapour that creates cloud and rain, so the drier the earth, the greater the chance of drought — and vice-versa.

The researchers found the Sahel, on the southern fringes of the Sahara desert, northern India and the Great Plains of North America were particularly good regions to observe.

US judge admits some evidence against Michael Jackson

LOS ANGELES, 25 Aug— A US judge ruled Monday that more than three dozen items of evidence seized at pop superstar Michael Jackson's Neverland ranch and a private investigator's office could be admitted at trial on the child molestation case.

At the end of two hearings at the Superior Court in Santa Maria, central California, Judge Rodney Melville said he intended to suppress other items of evidence, but deferred a final decision on the material until September.

Because Melville has imposed an order on publicizing the contents of evidence, it remained unknown what evidence could be used.

Santa Barbara County police seized computers, cameras, documents and video and audio tapes from Neverland and from the office of private investigator Brad Miller, who was working for Jackson's former lawyer.

The hearing started last Monday at the same court to hear the testimonies by prosecutor Tom Sneddon on the searches of Jackson's ranch and Miller's office. Jackson, accompanied by his parents and other family members, appeared at the court to face off with Sneddon.

Jackson's defence lawyers are trying to suppress the evidence seized from Miller's office, which were regarded crucial in the grand jury's decision to indict Jackson early this year.

Three tapes, in which Jackson's young accuser and his family reportedly praise Jackson and deny that Jackson acted inappropriately, are at the centre of the dispute. The prosecution and the grand jury believed that the accuser and his family were forced by Jackson to make the tapes.

Jackson, 45, was indicted by a grand jury early this year with committing a lewd act upon a child, administering an intoxicating agent and conspiring to commit child abduction, false imprisonment and extortion.

The singer has pleaded not guilty and is free on three-million-dollar bail. The date of the trial is set on January 31, 2005. —MNA/Xinhua

HK scientists invent shape memory fabric

HONG KONG, 26 Aug— Scientists at the Hong Kong Polytechnic University (PolyU) have invented the world's first cellulose-made shape memory fabric, announced PolyU here Tuesday.

The research team headed by Hu Jinlian, principal investigator of the shape memory project and founder of the Shape Memory Textile Centre of PolyU, has made significant advances in developing versatile shape memory fabrics which can be broadly used in textile, medicine and cosmetology.

According to Hu, shape memory fabrics can readily recover their original shapes.

This distinguishes shape memory garments from other wrinkle-free garments by achieving crease retention, flat appearance, and bagging recovery when washed in hot water.

"These unique properties of shape memory fabrics make them ideal materials for the textiles and garment industry. Their applications are by no means limited to the realms of pre-processor and haute couture," explained Hu.

Hu added that the shape memory fabrics are finished with a special kind of polymer, that can be easily reshaped into different sizes to serve other purposes, for instance, in making medical devices, toys and even facial masks. The product has registered a total of eight patents in the United States and China's Mainland. Hu and her team have achieved international reputation for their insight in this emerging area, who received the Award for Distinguished Achievement in Fibre Science from the US-based Fibre Society in 2001; and the Excellent Research Paper Award by the China Textile Engineer Society in 2003. —MNA/Xinhua

Kazakhstan to create national space agency

ALMA-ATA, 26 Aug — Kazakhstan has decided to set up a National Space Agency to boost the Central Asian country's space industry.

The creation of the agency was brought up in a meeting on the 2005-2007 plan for the space industry, according to local media.

Kazakh Prime Minister Daniyal Akhmetov said Wednesday the new agency will help coordinate the resources in the field and that the Education and Science Ministry would work out a plan for the formation of the agency in a month.

Whale shuts down power plant in eastern Canada

OTTAWA, 26 Aug— A humpback whale has forced the shutdown of a hydroelectric plant after swimming through the underground gates that connect the tidal power facility with the Bay of Fundy in Canada's eastern province of Nova Scotia, it is reported here Wednesday.

Nova Scotia Power officials said that the whale got into the Annapolis Tidal Power Plant's head pond on Monday while apparently following a school of herring that swam through gates that were opened at high tide.

Officials were concerned the whale could get caught in a turbine, so the plant was shut down. They said it will remain closed until the whale leaves. — MNA/Xinhua

Hurricane "Charley" leaves Cuba $1b bill

HAVANA, 26 Aug — Hurricane Charley caused more than one billion US dollars in damage to Havana and its surrounding provinces when it roared through western Cuba on 13 August, killing four people, a leader of the ruling Communist Party said on Wednesday.

The storm demolished 4,177 houses and damaged almost 70,000 other homes, Politburo member Pedro Saez said in comments published by Cuban newspapers Granma and Rebel Youth.

Charley has been nicknamed the "lumberjack" hurricane because its 105 mile per hour winds uprooted or snapped more than 8,000 trees in Havana, and destroyed 300 hectares of tree plantations outside the city, he said.

Samuel to miss league debut with Real

MADRID, 27 Aug— Real Madrid centre-back Walter Samuel will miss the start of the Spanish league season after straining a knee ligament during his side's Champions League third round qualifier against Wisla Krakow.

Club medical staff estimated the 26-year-old Argentine international, who sustained the injury to his right knee towards the end of Real's 3-1 win over the Polish side on Wednesday, would be out of action for two to three weeks.

Samuel, who joined Real for 25 million euros (30.20 million US dollars) from AS Roma in May, was set to make his league debut in his side's opening match of the season at Real Mallorca.

With new signing Jonathan Woodgate also out injured, Ivan Helguera is likely to have to drop back from midfield to join Francisco Pavon in the back four, while Guti should partner David Beckham in midfield.

Abramovich interest could upset Champions draw

MONACO, 27 Aug — Chelsea or CSKA Moscow could be forced out of the Champions League if it was discovered that Chelsea's Russian owner Roman Abramovich also had a controlling interest in the Russian champions, UEFA said on Thursday.

William Gaillard, UEFA's Director of Communications said after the two clubs were drawn in the same group in the opening phase of the competition, that if Abramovich had a controlling interest in both he would have to decide which club could stay in the competition.

"We do a superficial check of all clubs to establish that no individual owns more than 51 per cent of two clubs. Where we think there might be a problem we examine the situation more thoroughly.

"If it was found that Mr. Abramovich had a controlling interest in Chelsea and CSKA Moscow they could not both take part in the competition. He would have to decide which club would take part.

"We have to have this transparency under competition laws of the European Union and will carry out the necessary checks immediately."

UEFA are concerned because Sibneft, a company in which Abramovich has a controlling interest, signed a 54-million-dollars sponsorship deal with CSKA Moscow last March.

Trying to unravel details of Russian deal-making might tax the sharpest of legal brains, but Gaillard insisted that if there were any doubt, then either Chelsea or CSKA Moscow would not take part in the competition.

"If we find that any individual owns more than 51 per cent in two clubs, our rules are very clear. They cannot both compete," he said.

CSKA president Yevgeny Giner is a close friend of Abramovich, the former owner of Sibneft and still the company's major shareholder.

Sibneft, Russia's fifth largest oil company, pledged 18 million US dollars a year until 2006 to become CSKA's title sponsor.

US give tearful Hamm golden farewell

ATHENS, 27 Aug — The United States gave Hall of Famer Mia Hamm the perfect send-off on Thursday, beating Brazil 2-1 to win Olympic gold in the women's soccer tournament.

Abby Wambach powered home a header in the 22nd minute of extra time in Athens to give the US their second Olympic title after winning at the 1996 Atlanta Games.

For Hamm, widely regarded as the best ever female player, it was a fitting end to a glittering 17-year career, even though she made little impact on a disappointing game.

"They carried me tonight, that's for sure," said an exhausted Hamm, who insisted there would be no change of heart about her decision to retire.

"There are few times in your life where you get to write the final chapter the way you want things. I'm not going to be an athlete that says so and then comes back.

"I have been extremely blessed to finish my career this way. It's a wonderful feeling."

Earlier, world champions Germany edged past Sweden 1-0 in a repeat of the 2003 World Cup final to take a second successive bronze.

The Americans, who finished runners-up to Norway in Sydney four years ago, took the lead six minutes before halftime with a superb long-distance strike from Lindsay Tarpley.

Brazil striker Pretinha equalized in the 73rd minute, pouncing on a mistake from goalkeeper Briana Scurry to score from close range.

But Wambach settled American nerves in the second period of extra time, the big striker heading a Kristine Lilly corner into the roof of the net for her 18th goal in her last 20 games.

The 32-year-old Hamm, who helped the US win the World Cup in 1991 and 1999, never came close to scoring her 154th goal in 266 internationals.

But she was cheered every time she touched the ball by a raucous crowd of 10,000 that included Olympic swimming champion Michael Phelps.

Earlier, midfielder Renate Lingor scored a 17th-minute winner for Germany against Sweden in an absorbing bronze medal match.

Germany were indebted to goalkeeper Silke Rottenberg, who provided an Oliver Kahn-type presence for the world champions, also bronze medallists in Sydney four years ago.

Rottenberg made several brave stops to deny Sweden at Karaiskaki Stadium, the home of Greek club Olympiakos.

"I don't think Germany were better than us at all," said disgusted Swedish striker Victoria Svensson. "I hate losing to Germany, I'm sick of it." —MNA/Reuters

Deco set to replace Figo as Scolari names Portugal squad

LISBON, 27 Aug — Deco is likely to replace former captain Luis Figo in the Portugal line-up after coach Luiz Felipe Scolari on Thursday named the Brazilian-born midfielder in his 20-man squad for next month's World Cup qualifiers.

Portugal play Latvia in Riga on September 4 and are at home to Estonia four days later in Group Three, which also includes Slovakia, Russia, Liechtenstein and Luxembourg.

The 31-year-old Figo, a former World Player of the Year, has announced he is taking an indefinite break from international football after leading his team to the final of Euro 2004, where Portugal lost to Greece.

Figo's decision to take a break followed midfielder Rui Costa's retirement from the international game, leaving Fernando Couto as the only survivor of the so-called "golden generation".

Couto was not named in the squad, however, due to injury, Scolari said.

Brazilian Scolari kept faith in goalkeepers Quim Silva and Ricardo Pereira, leaving out former number one Vitor Baia, who won the Champions League with Porto last season.

Defender Marco Caneira, who has joined Valencia on loan from Girondins Bordeaux this season, earned a recall, along with forwards Luis Boa Morte of English Premier League club Fulham and Porto's Hugo Almeida.

Roma coach Prandelli ready to quit

MILAN, 27 Aug — AS Roma coach Cesare Prandelli is ready to stand down due to family reasons, the Serie A club said on Thursday.

Former Parma coach Prandelli took over at Roma in June after Fabio Capello left for Juventus but he missed some of the pre-season preparations due to his wife's health problems.

"Cesare Prandelli this evening indicated to the club his desire to offer his resignation in order to best deal with the matters relating to his family," Roma said in a statement.

The club said it would give him "the necessary time to calmly evaluate his future".

Prandelli did not travel with Roma to their pre-season friendly matches in the United States, Canada and Japan in July.

The Serie A season starts on September 12 while Roma begin their Champions League campaign against Dynamo Kiev three days later.

Roma, who finished runners-up in Serie A last season, will also face Real Madrid and Bayer Leverkusen in Champions League Group B.

Everton reject Man United, Newcastle bids for Rooney

LONDON, 27 Aug — Everton have rejected bids from Premier League rivals Manchester United and Newcastle United for England striker Wayne Rooney, the club said on their web site on Thursday.

Manchester United earlier confirmed they had made a bid late on Wednesday, the day after Newcastle offered 20 million pounds (35.94 million US dollars) for the 18-year-old Rooney. —MNA/Reuters

Lt-Gen Ye Myint inspects upgrading of Kanma-Thayet-Minhla Road, thriving monsoon paddy

YANGON, 27 Aug — Member of the State Peace and Development Council Lt-Gen Ye Myint of the Ministry of Defence, accompanied by Chairman of Mandalay Division Peace and Development Council Commander of Central Command Maj-Gen Ye Myint, Chairman of Magway Division Peace and Development Council Col Zaw Min and officials, inspected upgrading of Kanma-Yaynatha Road, bridges along it and thriving monsoon paddy and crops on 24 August evening.

On arrival at the jetty of Mindon Creek in Yaynatha Village, Deputy Superintending Engineer U Soe Myint of Bridge Construction Project Special Group-13 of Public Works reported on completion of soil test to build Mindon Creek Bridge, site chosen for the bridge and the design.

Local people and vehicles cannot pass through Mindon Creek in the rainy season. So, they go 78 miles long route from Kanma to Thayet via Mindon through Patheingyi Road. On completion of the bridge, the locals can take shorter time to travel 28 miles and one furlong long road from Kanma to Thayet all the year round. Therefore, the bridge can benefit over 17,000 local people from 24 villages on the route. Arrangements are being made for building the bridge as well as upgrading the road.

Lt-Gen Ye Myint and party inspected condition of Natmitauk-Thayet Road and thriving monsoon paddy along the road, and they arrived in Thayet.

On 25 August, they saw over upgrading of roads and bridges, cultivation of monsoon paddy and crops and development of Thayet by car. At the junction of Thayet-Mindon Road and Thayet-Minhla Road, Lt-Gen Ye Myint inspected conditions of the roads and gave instructions on upgrading tasks and extension of the roads. They also inspected extension of 60 miles long Thayet-Minhla Road.

At Baw Village, Lt-Gen Ye Myint met local people and heard reports on cultivation of monsoon paddy and development of the village. At Thin Creek Bridge, they inspected the road and instructed them to perform maintenance and durability of the bridge.

It is 170 feet long bailey Bridge and it can withstand 13-ton of loads. The bridge was built by Public Works last year. At present, the bridge develops the line of transportation for commodities and over 34,000 local people from 39 villages along the road in Thayet and Minhla townships all the year round.

Before completion of the bridge, the 112/2 miles long road connected Minbu with Thayet via Mindon-Padan Road. Now, the new road is 86 mile long. Next, they proceeded to Magway through Minhla-Minbu Road. On 26 August, Lt-Gen Ye Myint met officers, other ranks and families of the local battalion at Bandoolla Hall in Thayet.
