Grow more oil palms for sufficiency of edible oil

An average person in Myanmar consumes about six viss of edible oil per year. Therefore, a total of 324 million viss of edible oil is needed every year for the entire population of the nation. Because of its soil, aquatic and climatic conditions, Taninthayi Division is suitable for growing oil palms and if the cultivation is extended year after year, there will be sufficient supply of edible oil for domestic consumption.

As the government is building transport infrastructure in the region, the Bokpyin-Kawthoung Road and Bokpyin-Taninthayi Road sections are serviceable in all weathers. The better the transport, entrepreneurs and farmers can extend the cultivation of oil palms on either side of the Kawthoung-Bokpyin-Taninthayi-Myeik Road.

To meet the domestic consumption of edible oil, it has been planned to put up to 500,000 acres of land under oil palm and cultivation of oil palms has been extended in Dawei, Myeik and Kawthoung Districts. So far, more than 150,000 acres of land has been put under oil palm.

About sixty oil palms can be grown on an acre of land and they bear fruit when they are four years old. If they are systematically cultivated, an acre of oil palms can produce from three to six tons of edible oil per year till the palms are up to 30 years old.

For development of the agriculture sector in Taninthayi Division, 500,000 acres have been put under monsoon paddy, 50,000 acres under summer paddy, 200,000 acres under rubber, 500,000 acres under physic nut and 30,000 acres under pepper during this cultivation season.

The government is fulfilling all the requirements for development of the agriculture sector. At a time like this, we would like to call on the entrepreneurs and local growers to try their best to meet the target yield of paddy and other crops and to extend the cultivation of oil palms up to 500,000 acres not only to ensure self-sufficiency in rice and edible oil but also to contribute to national economy.

Berlusconi, Briton charged with corruption

MILAN, 31 Oct—An Italian judge ordered on Monday that former prime minister Silvio Berlusconi stand trial on corruption charges along with British lawyer David Mills.

Milan magistrates had accused Berlusconi of paying Mills, the estranged husband of British Culture Secretary Tessa Jowell, a 600,000-US-dollar kickback for not revealing details of Berlusconi's media empire when he testified in two court cases.

Berlusconi's lawyer confirmed that Judge Fabio Paparella had ordered both Berlusconi and Mills to stand trial after preliminary hearings that started earlier this year. With the judge's order the two men were officially charged with corruption.

"They have been ordered to stand trial on corruption charges," lawyer Nicolo Ghedini told Reuters.

"The defence can't wait for the start of the debate on 13 March and hopes to have a judge 'super partes' who will exonerate Silvio Berlusconi swiftly," Ghedini said.

Both Berlusconi, who has faced a string of court cases, and Mills have denied the public prosecutor's allegations that Berlusconi paid the British lawyer the kickback in 1997

Iraqi state TV sports presenter, driver killed

BAGHDAD, 31 Oct— A sports presenter at state television station Iraqiya was killed with her driver in Baghdad on Sunday, an official at the station and police said, in the second murder of a sports reporter in five months.

Journalists and media workers are a frequent target of guerilla attacks and Iraqiya had another sports anchorman, Ali Jaafar, shot dead in May.

The Iraqiya official said Naqsheen Hamad was a presenter on Iraqiya's sports division, al-Atyaf.

She and her driver, Anas Qasim, went missing on the way to work on Sunday morning and police later said their bodies had been found in central Baghdad. Police said the bodies were among six found in different parts of the city on Sunday.

At least 85 foreign and Iraqi journalists have been reported killed since the US-led invasion in March 2003, according to media watchdogs.

The US military said in a statement a Marine was killed in combat in Iraq's western Anbar Province on Sunday, bringing the death toll for the month to the 100 mark.

October was already the deadliest month since January 2005 when 107 US troops were killed. The highest monthly toll was in November 2004 when 137 deaths were recorded.— MNA/Reuters

Presentations on laying down detailed basic principles for Chapter “Provisions on State of Emergency”

YANGON, 1 November

The following is the presentation made at the Plenary Session of the National Convention held in Nyaungnnapin Camp, Hmawby Township, Yangon Division, yesterday, by Chairman of National Convention Convening Work Committee Chief Justice U Aung Toe and Vice-Chairman of NCCWC Attorney-General U Aye Maung on clarification of the Chairman of the National Convention Convening Work Committee on laying down the detailed basic principles for the Chapter “Provision on State of Emergency” to be included in drafting the State Constitution.

Vice-Chairman of National Convention Convening Work Committee Attorney-General U Aye Maung. — MNA

Mr Chairman,

The President in proclaiming the ordinance should transfer the State power to the Commander-in-Chief of the Defence Services to restore the national situation to normal soon and to act as necessary. In some countries the State power is transferred to the Commander-in-Chief of the Defence Services in a state of emergency. By doing so, insurgency and violence can be crushed in time. And only then will the nation be able to restore peace and stability and prevent against the loss of sovereignty.

The Commander-in-Chief will be empowered to exercise all the powers and functions of the President, the Vice-President, members of the Union Government, members of the governments of Regions and States and the Self-Administered Areas beginning from the date the State power is transferred to the Commander-in-Chief of the Defence Services automatically. To make things clearer, the detailed basic principle saying that the aforesaid bodies at all levels are terminated from their duties beginning from the date the State power is transferred to the Commander-in-Chief of the Defence Services. But it is suggested that the President who transfers the State power to the Commander-in-Chief of the Defence Services and the Vice-Presidents should continue to remain in their same official position without being terminated from active duty.

Mr Chairman,

After the State power has been transferred to the Commander-in-Chief of the Defence Services with the approval of the National Defence and Security Council, he will have the power to enact necessary laws for the nation.

The period for the Commander-in-Chief of the Defence Services to exercise the State power is fixed at one year beginning from the date of the transfer. If the national peace and stability is restored to normal during the one year, the Commander-in-Chief of the Defence Services will transfer the State power back to the President who had entrusted the State power to him. If the term of the respective Hluttaws is not ended yet when the Commander-in-Chief of the Defence Services transfers back the State power to the President, those Hluttaws should carry out the legislative functions till the end of the term. But if their term are ended, those Hluttaws are automatically dissolved.

When the President transfers the State power to the Commander-in-Chief, the latter will have enact necessary laws. The situation will be confusing if the respective Hluttaws also have the power to enact laws. Hence, the President should cease the power to enact laws of those Hluttaws at the time when the President has empowered the Commander-in-Chief to exercise the State power.

Hence, discussions are to be held and suggestions to be made whether the following detailed basic principle should be adopted or not.

“9. (a) In declaring a state of emergency under paragraph 8, the President shall declare the transfer of legislative, executive and judicial powers to the Commander-in-Chief to enable the latter to take necessary measures in order to restore the nation to normalcy. It shall be deemed that all the Hluttaws and leading bodies beginning from the date of declaration shall cease all their legislative functions. It shall be also deemed that when the term of the respective Hluttaws ended they are automatically dissolved.

“(b) Notwithstanding anything contained in the Constitution, all the members of the organizations and members of the leading bodies of the Self-Administered Division or Self-Administered Zone, except from the President and Vice-President, assigned with the approval of the Hluttaws in accord with the Constitution are terminated from their duties beginning from the date the State power is transferred to the Commander-in-Chief.”

Mr Chairman,

When the President entrusts the State power to the Commander-in-Chief in accord with paragraph (9), as the situation becomes impossible for the local administrative bodies to carry out the administrative and judicial functions, the Commander-in-Chief should strive to exercise the State power empowered to him to restore the national security and stability and community peace back to normal soonest. Only then will he be able to save the nation from the cause of the loss her independence and sovereignty again.

There should be a detailed basic principle saying that the Commander-in-Chief can empower a suitable organization or a persons to exercise the three organs of the State power on behalf of him.

Throughout history every time Myanmar faced the cause of the loss of independence and disintegration of the Union, the Tatmadaw had always saved the nation assuming the State power. Hence, a detailed basic principle “when there arises a state of emergency that could cause disintegration of the Union, disintegration of national solidarity and loss of national sovereignty, due to take over of sovereign State power or attempts therefor by wrongful forcible means such as insurgency or violence, the Defence Services Commander-in-Chief has the right to take over and exercise State power in accord with provisions of the State Constitution.” has been adopted. It is opined that another detailed basic principle that is in conformity with the said detailed basic principle should also be laid down.

As regards the exercising of the legislative, executive and judicial powers by the Commander-in-Chief who has been empowered to do so, discussions are to be held and suggestions to be made whether the following detailed basic principle should be adopted or not.

Chairman of National Convention Convening Work Committee Chief Justice U Aung Toe. — MNA

“10. The Commander-in-Chief of the Defence Services who have been transferred the State power shall have the power to exercise the legislative, executive and judicial powers. The Commander-in-Chief of the Defence Services shall exercise the legislative power by himself or shall form an organization with his own participation to exercise the legislative power. He shall empower a suitable organization or a suitable person to exercise the executive and judicial powers.”

Mr Chairman,

It has already been explained the restriction of a provision or provisions of the fundamental rights of citizens of an area as soon as the President declares a state of emergency in the said area. Similarly the Commander-in-Chief, as he is going to strive to the best of his ability to restore national peace and stability and safeguard sovereignty can have the power to restrict a provision or provisions concerning the fundamental rights of citizens. Only then will he be able to end disturbances soonest and create a peaceful situation. The fact should be laid down as a detailed basic principle.

Concerning the restriction of fundamental rights of citizens during a state of emergency, discussions are to be held and suggestions to be made whether the following detailed basic principle should be adopted or not.

“11. The Commander-in-Chief of the Defence Services during the declaration of a state of emergency shall restrict or terminate a provision or more than one provision of the fundamental rights of citizens, as necessary.”

Mr Chairman,

It has already been explained the detailed basic principle to be laid down for the President in proclaiming a state of emergency in normal circumstances. Concerning the matters to approve the transfer of State power to the Commander-in-Chief, the method to obtain approval, the method to obtain approval when the Hluttaw is in session and the Hluttaw is not in session, the matter to be presented by Commander-in-Chief to the President if the former cannot complete the duties empowered to him by the President in the stipulated time, whether the President has the power to extend the period, and the length of time for extension should be laid down as a detailed basic principle.

So, the acts of the President concerning the transfer of power to the Commander-in-Chief by him should be in accord with the Constitution, and the Commander-in-Chief will have to do for the accomplishment his task in exercising the State power during the fixed period in accord with the Constitution. If there is a firm reason that the matter cannot be accomplished in the specified time, the period should be extended. A detailed basic principle should be laid down to fix the length of time for the extension each time.

The President should submit the matter concerning the empowerment of State power to the Commander-in-Chief at the Pyidaungsu Hluttaw if it is in session and convene an emergency session of the Pyidaungsu Hluttaw to the present the matter if the Pyidaungsu Hluttaw is not in session. For the matter concerning the extension of the period, he should convene an emergency session to submit the matter to the Pyidaungsu Hluttaw. But the approval of the Pyidaungsu Hluttaw is not enough. As it is a matter of transferring the State power, it is assumed that it will be appropriate only if the President submits a separate report concerning the matter.

Hence, concerning the report and extension of period in transferring the State power, discussions are to be held and suggestions to be made whether the following detailed basic principle should be adopted or not:

"12. The President shall:

"(a) proclaim a state of emergency according to the paragraphs 8 and 9 and shall submit the matter concerning the transfer of State power to the Commander-in-Chief of the Defence Services to the Pyidaungsu Hluttaw if the Pyidaungsu Hluttaw is in session, and shall convene an emergency session of the Pyidaungsu Hluttaw if the Pyidaungsu Hluttaw is not in session to submit the matter.

"(b) normally extend the period to six months at a time for two terms if the Commander-in-Chief of the Defence Services presents a submission giving reasonable fact to him to extend the period if the Commander-in-Chief of the Defence Services has not yet accomplished his duties assigned to him. Concerning the matter, the Pyidaungsu Hluttaw emergency session shall be called."

Mr Chairman,

The Commander-in-Chief of the Defence Services after accomplishing the functions empowered to him by the President should forward a report concerning his accomplished tasks to the President. The President after receiving the report will have to revoke the ordinance to transfer State power to the Commander-in-Chief of the Defence Services. But the period in which the Commander-in-Chief of the Defence Services present the report will be in the term of the Pyidaungsu Hluttaw or after the end of the term of the Pyidaungsu Hluttaw. There should be detailed basic principles concerning the date to revoke the ordinance if the term of the Pyidaungsu Hluttaw is not ended yet, and the date to revoke it if the term of the Pyidaungsu Hluttaw is ended. There will be no constitutional disputes in the future only if the said dates to revoke the ordinance are fixed precisely.

Concerning the matter, discussions are to be held and suggestions to be made whether the following detailed basic principle should be adopted or not:

"13. The President shall, after receiving the report of the Commander-in-Chief of the Defence Services concerning the completion of the duties assigned to him, annul the order empowering the State power to the Commander-in-Chief of the Defence Services in accord with the paragraph 9 on the date of his submission after convening the Pyidaungsu Hluttaw if the term of the Pyidaungsu Hluttaw is not ended yet, or on the date he receives it from the Commander-in-Chief if the term of the Pyidaungsu Hluttaw is ended."

Mr Chairman,

Explanation will be made the functions of the President after he has revoked the ordinance to declare a state of emergency because of the danger that threatens the very existence of independence and sovereignty.

As all the ministers of the Union Government and members of the leading bodies of Regions and States and Self-Administered Division and Self-Administered Zones, except from the President and Vice-Presidents, are terminated from their duties beginning from the date the State power is transferred to the Commander-in-Chief.

When the Commander-in-Chief submits the report on his completion of the functions, the President shall annul the order suspending legislative functions of all Hluttaws and leading bodies and should invest in them the legislative function, their original duty.

In accord with the sub-paragraph (b) of the paragraph 9, all the members of the organizations and members of the leading bodies of the Self-Administered Division or Self-Administered Zones, except from the President and Vice-President, assigned with the accent of the hluttaws in accord with the Constitution are terminated from their duties. Hence, the President will have to re-constitute all the levels of the State administrative machinery in accord with the Constitution.

Hence, discussions are to be held and suggestions to be made whether the following detailed basic principle should be adopted or not:

"14. The President shall, after receiving the report of the Commander-in-Chief of the Defence Services in accord with the paragraph 13, revoke the suspension of legislative functions of all the Hluttaws and leading bodies if the term of the Hluttaw has not ended yet. The President shall assign duties to the new Constitutional executive and judicial bodies in accord with the Constitution. The bodies shall discharge duties only for the remaining period of the term of the Hluttaw."

Mr Chairman,

Hluttaws exist only during their term. According to the sub-paragraph (a), paragraph 9, the Hluttaws after the end of their tenure automatically ceases to exist. Although the term of the of the Hluttaws has ended, the Commander-in-Chief will exercise the three organs of power in accord with the Constitution. Here, an organization to help him and safeguard the nation is required.

Mr Chairman,

Detailed basic principles on sharing of the executive and judicial powers that were adopted at the Plenary Session of the National Convention held on 12 December 2005 concerning the powers and functions of the President as follows:

"To be able to discharge the duties assigned in accord with the Constitution or any of the law, the National Defence and Security Council led by the President shall be formed with the following persons:

1. President ;
2. Vice-President;
3. Vice-President ;
4. Speaker of the Pyithu Hluttaw;
5. Speaker of the Amyotha Hluttaw;
6. Commander-in-Chief of Defence Services;
7. Deputy Commander-in-Chief of Defence Services;
8. Minister for Defence;
9. Minister for Foreign Affairs;
10. Minister for Home Affairs;
11. Minister for Border Affairs."

The National Defence and Security Council should be empowered to safeguard the nation and help the Commander-in-Chief. The Commander-in-Chief in exercising the State power will have to consult with the NDSC to achieve greater success in his functions. In addition to the President and the Vice-Presidents, the Speaker elected by the Pyithu Hluttaw and the Speaker elected by the Amyotha Hluttaw also should be members in the NDSC. Even though the terms of Hluttaws have ended, the President, the Vice-Presidents, the Speaker elected by the Pyithu Hluttaw and the Speaker elected by the Amyotha Hluttaw should stay in power till the new President, the new Vice-Presidents, the new Speaker of the Pyithu Hluttaw and the new Speaker of the Amyotha Hluttaw have been elected in accord with the Constitution.

So, discussions are to be held and suggestions to be made whether the following detailed basic principle should be adopted or not:

"15. Even though the term of the Pyidaungsu Hluttaw has ended the President, the Vice-Presidents, the Speaker of the Pyithu Hluttaw and the Speaker of the Amyotha Hluttaw shall remain in their positions till the new President, the new Vice-Presidents, the new Speaker of the Pyithu Hluttaw and the new Speaker of the Amyotha Hluttaw have been elected in accord with the Constitution."

Mr Chairman,

In accord with the paragraph 12 (b), "The President shall normally extend the period to six months at a time for two terms if the Commander-in-Chief of Defence Services presents a submission together with reasonable ground to him to extend the period if the Commander-in-Chief of Defence Services has not yet accomplished his task empowered to him. Concerning the matter, the Pyidaungsu Hluttaw emergency session shall be called."

It has already been explained that the duty to safeguard the nation should be vested in the NDSC after the end of the Pyidaungsu Hluttaw term. If the Commander-in-Chief ask to extend the period of martial law as he has not completed the functions yet after the end of the Hluttaw term, the NDSC should give the green light.

Concerning the matter, discussions are to be held and suggestions to be made whether the following detailed basic principle should be adopted or not:

"16. The National Defence and Security Council shall normally extend the period to six months at a time for two terms if the Commander-in-Chief of the Defence Services presents a reasonable submission to extend the period as the Commander-in-Chief of the Defence Services has not yet accomplished his duty assigned to him."

Mr Chairman,

If the Commander-in-Chief submits the report on completion of his functions in accord with the paragraphs 8 and 9 to the NDSC, the NDSC should annul the order to empower the Commander-in-Chief to exercise State power in accord with the paragraph 9.

As regards the matter, discussions are to be held and suggestions to be made the delegates should discuss whether the following detailed basic principle should be adopted or not:

"17. In connection with the matter of transferring the State power to the Commander-in-Chief by the President after declaring a state of emergency, the National Defence and Security Council shall, after receiving the report on the completion of the functions of the Commander-in-Chief, shall declare to annul the order empowering the Commander-in-Chief to exercise State power in accord with the paragraph 9."

Mr Chairman,

The President after annulling the order to empower Commander-in-Chief to exercise the State power will have to a general election during the fixed period beginning from the date he abrogates the order. A new President should be elected in accord with the Constitution. The President should form the National Defence and Security Council and should and empower it to exercise the State power during the interim period when the new President has not been elected yet.

The legislative, executive and judicial sectors of the State will be able to run as usual only if the NDSC heads the nation during the interim period. And only then will the nation be able to enjoy peace, stability and progress. Of the three organs of powers, the legislative power is the highest. Hence, it should be exercised only by the NDSC.

To be in conformity with the above detailed basic principles, the NDSC should empower a suitable organization or a suitable person to exercise the executive and judicial powers at Union, Region, State, Self-Administered Division and Self-Administered Zone levels during the interim period.

Hence, discussions are to be held and suggestions to be made whether the following detailed basic principle should be adopted or not.

“18. The National Defence and Security Council shall:

“(a) exercise the legislative power, executive power and judicial power before the Hluttaws are formed in accord with the Constitution.

“(b) have the right to exercise the State power till the time a new President has been elected and Union level organizations formed in accord with the provisions contained in the Constitution. In so doing, the National Defence and Security Council shall exercise the legislative power by itself. The National Defence and Security Council shall empower a suitable organization or a suitable person to exercise the executive and judicial powers at Union, Region, State, Self-Administered Division and Self-Administered Zone levels.”

Mr Chairman,

In exercising the State power, the NDSC should form administrative bodies at different levels, leading bodies of Self-Administered Division and Self-Administered Zones and Union Election Commission with suitable persons whose qualifications meet the stipulations contained in the Constitution and assign duties to them to run the State machinery as usual. As the terms of the members of the Region and State Hluttaws who are also the members of the leading bodies of the Self-Administered Division and Self-Administered Zones have ended, the NDSC fills the posts with persons whose qualifications meet the prescriptions contained in the Constitution.

Hence, discussions are to be held and suggestions to be made whether the following detailed basic principle should be adopted or not.

“19. The National Defence and Security Council shall form the constitutional bodies at different levels, leading bodies of Self-Administered Division and Self-Administered Zones and Union Election Commission with suitable persons whose qualifications meet the stipulations contained in the Constitution and assign duties to them.”

Mr Chairman,

It will be necessary to form the leading bodies of the Regions, States, Self-Administered Division and Self-Administered Zones in accord with the provisions of the Constitution. The only method to do so is to make preparations to hold a general election. The period to hold the general election should begin from the date the order to transfer State power to the Commander-in-Chief is annulled. If the time limit is too long there can be delays in implementing the provisions of the Constitution and if the time limit is too short there can be a shortage of time in making preparations to hold a general election. Hence, it will be appropriate if the period is fixed at six months.

Hence, discussions are to be held and suggestions to be made whether the following detailed basic principle should be adopted or not.

“20. The National Defence and Security Council shall hold a general election in accord with the provisions of the Constitution within a period of six months beginning from the date on which the order is annulled in accord with the paragraph 17.”

Mr Chairman,

To run the State administrative machinery normally, the NDSC will form the bodies included on the paragraph 19 and assign duties to them. There should be a precise period from the bodies to discharge their duties. They should continue their functions till legislative, executive and judicial bodies have been formed according to the Constitution after the elections.

In connection with the matter, discussions are to be held and suggestions to be made whether the following detailed basic principles should be adopted or not.

“21. The bodies formed according to the paragraph 19 shall continue to carry out their functions till legislative, executive and judicial bodies have been formed according to the Constitution after the general election.”

Mr Chairman,

The President will have to head the NDSC to exercise the State power provisionally. As the Head of State is the President, the NDSC is exercising the sovereign power of the State on behalf of the President.

Hence, discussions are to be held and suggestions to be made whether the following detailed basic principle should be adopted or not:

“22. The National Defence and Security Council shall exercise the State power in the name of the President.”

Mr Chairman,

If a state of emergency is declared because of the situation that is endangering the national defence and security and the rule of law in some parts or the whole of the nation, a foreign military intrusion, or worsening political, economic and social conditions of the nation, the President should empower the suitable administrative bodies and civil bodies to exercise the executive and judicial functions on behalf of him during the emergency rule. Similarly, the Commander-in-Chief while provisionally exercising the State power will have to entrust the executive and judicial functions to the military organizations, civil administrative bodies and civil bodies.

The NDSC while exercising the State power will have to form administrative and judicial bodies as stated in the paragraph 18. Military and civil bodies and military and civil staff will have to discharge their duties.

The main duty of those military and civil bodies is to restore the national stability, community peace and the rule of law. As they are serving the nation not in a peaceful and stable environment, they can face many difficulties. As they will have to do their duties at the risk of their lives, they should be protected by the Constitution.

During period of the declaration of a state of emergency or during the time the Commander-in-Chief is provisionally exercising the State power or during the time the NDSC is provisionally exercising the State power, the measures taken by the military bodies and the civil administrative bodies and the military and civil personnel on behalf of the President or the Commander-in-Chief or the NDSC should be legitimate. There should be a detailed basic principle concerning the matter.

Hence, discussions are to be held and suggestions to be made whether the following detailed basic principle should be adopted or not.

“23. During the time a state of emergency has been declared, the measures taken officially by a local administrative body or a member of the body, or a civil body or a member of the body, or a military body or a member of the body, formed in order to take measures to restore security, stability, community peace and the rule of law soon on behalf of the President or during the period the Commander-in-Chief is exercising the State power or during the period the National Defence and Security Council is exercising the State power, shall be legitimate. No legal action shall be taken against them for those legitimate measures.”

Mr Chairman,

It has already been explained the detailed basic principles that should be adopted for the Chapter “A State of Emergency”. The collection of all the detailed basic principles is presented as follows:

“1. If the President learns that the administrative functions cannot be carried out in accord with the Constitution in a Region or a State or a Union territory or a Self-Administered Area, he shall, after coordinating with National Defence and Security Council, issue order having the force of law to declare a state of emergency.”

“2. In the matters concerning the declaration of a state of emergency in accord with the paragraph 1, the President shall have the power to:

“(a) exercise the executive power of the Region or State or Self-Administered Area concerned. Moreover, he shall form a suitable organization and entrust the executive power to an organization concerned, or to a suitable person.

“(b) In doing so, out of the legislative matters of the respective Regions and States and the Self-Administered Areas, the President shall have the power to exercise the legislative power concerning the executive affairs. But the legislative power shall not be entrusted to any organization or any person.”

3. (a) when there arises or there is sufficient reason to occur a state of emergency endangering life and property of the people in a Region or a State or a Self-Administered Area or in any part of them, the President after consulting with the National Defence and Security Council may issue an order having the force of law to declare a state of emergency.

“(b) If not all the members of the National Defence and Security Council can attend the meeting in which the President consults with the National Defence and Security Council as prescribed in the above paragraph (a), the President may, after coordinating with the Commander-in-Chief of Defence Services, the Deputy Commander-in-Chief of the Defence Services, the Minister of Defence and the Minister of Home Affairs who are the members, declare a state of emergency in time. The declaration shall be submitted to the National Defence and Security Council soonest for approval.”

“4. In connection with the declaration of a state of emergency in accord with the paragraph 3, the President shall:

“(a) take the assistance of the Tatmadaw to ensure local administrative bodies and members, and civil bodies and members to effectively carry out their functions in accord with the existing laws in order to swiftly restore the situation of an area where a state of emergency has been declared.

(See page 7)

- “(b) issue martial law order. In doing so, the President shall prescribe in the martial law order the administrative powers and functions and judicial powers and functions concerning community peace and the rule of law entrusted to the Commander-in-Chief of the Defence Services. The Commander-in-Chief of the Defence Services shall exercise the powers and functions or empower them to a suitable military administrative official.”
- “5. The President when issues an ordinance having the force of law and declares a state of emergency, shall:
- “(a) specify the area covered by the ordinance and the duration.
- “(b) if necessary, restrict or revoke one or more provisions of the fundamental rights of the citizens residing in the area affected by a state of emergency declaration.”
- “6. The President from the date of the promulgation shall present the measures taken in accord with the paragraphs 1 and 2 and the measures taken in accord with the paragraphs 3 and 4:
- “(a) to the nearest Pyidaungsu Hluttaw session within 60 days for approval.
- “(b) shall cause to convene a special session of the Pyidaungsu Hluttaw for approval, if the Pyidaungsu Hluttaw has not any schedule to hold a session within 60 days.”
- “7. (a) If the Pyidaungsu Hluttaw session approves the submission of the President concerning the matters prescribed in the paragraph 6, the ordinance having the force of law shall be still in force till the fixed time and date.
- “(b) In addition to the approval, if the period of the ordinance is extended, the ordinance having the force of law shall be still in force till the extended time and date.
- “(c) The ordinance shall cease to have effect from the date on which it is disapproved by the Pyidaungsu Hluttaw session.”
- “8. When there arises or there is sufficient reason to arise a state of emergency that may cause disintegration of the Union, disintegration of national solidarity and loss of national sovereignty, due to take over of sovereign State power or attempts by wrongful forcible means such as insurgency or violence, the President after consulting with the National Defence and Security Council shall proclaim an ordinance and shall declare a state of emergency. The proclamation shall stipulate that the area that the ordinance is in force is the entire nation and that its duration is one year from the date it is proclaimed.”
- “9. (a) In declaring a state of emergency under paragraph 8, the President shall declare the transfer of legislative, executive and judicial powers to the Commander-in-Chief to enable the latter to take necessary measures in order to restore the nation to normalcy. It shall be deemed that all the Hluttaws and leading bodies beginning from the date of declaration shall cease all their legislative functions. It shall be also deemed that when the term of the respective Hluttaws ended they are automatically dissolved.
- “(b) Notwithstanding anything contained in the Constitution, all the members of the organizations and members of the leading bodies of the Self-Administered Division or Self-Administered Zones, except from the President and Vice President, assigned with the approval of the Hluttaws in accord with the Constitution are terminated from their duties beginning from the date the State power is transferred to the Commander-in-Chief.”
- “10. The Commander-in-Chief of the Defence Services who has been transferred the State power shall have the power to exercise the legislative, executive and judicial powers. the Commander-in-Chief of the Defence Services shall exercise the legislative power by himself or shall form an organization with his own participation to exercise the legislative power. He shall empower a suitable organization or a suitable person to exercise the executive and judicial powers.”
- “11. The Commander-in-Chief of the Defence Services during the declaration of a state of emergency shall restrict or terminate a provision or more than one provision of the fundamental rights of citizens, as necessary.”
- “12. The President shall:
- “(a) proclaim a state of emergency according to the paragraphs 8 and 9 and shall submit the matter concerning the transfer of State power to the Commander-in-Chief of the Defence Services to the Pyidaungsu Hluttaw if the Pyidaungsu Hluttaw is in session, and shall convene an emergency session of the Pyidaungsu Hluttaw if the Pyidaungsu Hluttaw is not in session to submit the matter.
- “(b) normally extend the period to six months at a time for two terms if the Commander-in-Chief of the Defence Services presents a submission giving reasonable fact to him to extend the period if the Commander-in-Chief of the Defence Services has not yet accomplished his duties assigned to him. Concerning the matter, the Pyidaungsu Hluttaw emergency session shall be called.”
- “13. The President shall, after receiving the report of the Commander-in-Chief of the Defence Services concerning the completion of the duties assigned to him, annul the order empowering the State power to the Commander-in-Chief of the Defence Services in accord with the paragraph 9 on the date of his submission after convening the Pyidaungsu Hluttaw if the term of the Pyidaungsu Hluttaw is not ended yet, or on the date he receives it from the Commander-in-Chief if the term of the Pyidaungsu Hluttaw is ended.”
- “14. The President shall, after receiving the report of the Commander-in-Chief of the Defence Services in accord with the paragraph 13, revoke the suspension of legislative functions of all the Hluttaws and leading bodies if the term of the Hluttaw has not ended yet. The President shall assign duties to the new Constitutional executive and judicial bodies in accord with the Constitution. The bodies shall discharge duties only for the remaining period of the term of the Hluttaw.”
- “15. Even though the term of the Pyidaungsu Hluttaw has ended the President, the Vice-Presidents, the Speaker of the Pyithu Hluttaw and the Speaker of the Amyotha Hluttaw shall remain in their positions till the new President, the new Vice Presidents, the new Speaker of the Pyithu Hluttaw and the new Speaker of the Amyotha Hluttaw have been elected in accord with the Constitution.”
- “16. The National Defence and Security Council shall normally extend the period to six months at a time for two terms if the Commander-in-Chief of the Defence Services presents a reasonable submission to extend the period as the Commander-in-Chief of the Defence Services has not yet accomplished his duty assigned to him.”
- “17. In connection with the matter of transferring the State power to the Commander-in-Chief by the President after declaring a state of emergency, the National Defence and Security Council shall, after receiving the report on the completion of the functions of the Commander-in-Chief shall, declare to annul the order empowering the Commander-in-Chief to exercise State power in accord with the paragraph 9.”
- “18. The National Defence and Security Council shall:
- “(a) exercise the legislative power, executive power and judicial power before the Hluttaws are formed in accord with the Constitution
- “(b) have the right to exercise the State power till the time a new President has been elected and Union level organizations formed in accord with the provisions contained in the Constitution. In so doing, the National Defence and Security Council shall exercise the legislative power by itself. The National Defence and Security Council shall empower a suitable organization or a suitable person to exercise the executive and judicial powers at Union, Region, State, Self-Administered Division and Self-Administered Zone levels.”
- “19. The National Defence and Security Council shall form the constitutional administrative bodies at different levels, leading bodies of Self-Administered Division and Self-Administered Zone and Union Election Commission with suitable persons whose qualifications meet the stipulations contained in the Constitution and assign duties to them.”
- “20. The National Defence and Security Council shall hold a general election in accord with the provisions of the Constitution within a period of six months beginning from the date on which the order is annulled in accord with the paragraph 17.”
- “21. The bodies formed according to the paragraph 19 shall continue to carry out their functions till legislative, executive and judicial bodies have been formed according to the Constitution after the general election.”
- “22. The National Defence and Security Council shall exercise the State power in the name of the President.”
- “23. During the time a state of emergency has been declared, the measures taken officially by a local administrative body or a member of the body, or a civil body or a member of the body, or a military body or a member of the body, formed in order to take measures to restore security, stability, community peace and the rule of law soon on behalf of the President or during the period the Commander-in-Chief is exercising the State power or during the period the National Defence and Security Council is exercising the State power, shall be legitimate. No legal action shall be taken against them for those legitimate measures.” — MNA

No one signs in Shwepyitha although trickery is used

People see no long-term relations between 88 generation students group and NLD although they are supporting each other in their own interest

NAY PYI TAW, 1 Nov — Members of the Shwepyitha Township National League for Democracy in launching the signature collection campaign lied that film stars were the first to sign in the petition. Although the NLD members are trying to trick people with such lies, the people refuse to do so as they have no interest at all in the so-called campaign.

Chairman of Shwepyitha Township NLD U Kyi Aye on 27 October told a party member that the township NLD members asked the persons they had close relations to sign in the paper, but those persons did not oblige.

There is widespread criticism concerning the campaign jointly launched by the so-called '88' generation students group and the NLD. People are saying that as the demands made by the '88' generation students group are aimed at winning the release of the two so-called NLD leaders, NLD members have signed in the petition and are taking part in the campaign; that the '88' generation students group include the point most desired by NLD members with the presumption that the campaign will achieve success only with the NLD participation; and that the two groups are supporting each other for their own interest. The public view is that the two groups will not be able to join hands long as their political convictions and opinions are different from one another. — H

Drought-hit Spain looks to penalize heavy water use

MADRID, 31 Oct—Spaniards who use "excessive" amounts of water may have to pay more for it in future, the government said on Monday, seeking ways to curb water use after two years of drought. After the worst drought on record in 2005 and below average rainfall again in the year ended on 30 September, the country's reservoir levels dropped to their lowest in a decade. Environment Minister Cristina Narbona said she was planning to guarantee a minimum amount of clean water for everyone and would raise prices above that limit. "In principle, in line with a proposal made by Ecologists in Action, we suggest a minimum of 60 litres (13 gallons) a day per person," she said. MNA/Reuters

WHO to launch new guidelines on safe wastewater use

AMMAN, 31 Oct—The World Health Organization (WHO)'s Centre for Environmental Health Activities will launch a third edition of its "Guidelines for the Safe Use of Wastewater, Excreta and Greywater" in Amman, the international body said in a statement on Monday.

According to the statement released by the WHO Eastern Mediterranean Regional Office, the guidelines are of great significance to the region, where most countries are facing severe water shortages and wastewater is increasingly being regarded as an essential source for agriculture.

The guidelines, serving as the basis for development of international and national standards and regulation for managing the use of wastewater and greywater, are intended to maximize public health protection and the beneficial use of them, statement said.

About 35 officials, experts, managers in the field of health, agriculture and wastewater management from 17 Eastern Mediterranean countries, along with WHO experts, will participate in the opening of the "Regional Workshop on Health Aspects of Wastewater Reuse in Agriculture" on Monday in Amman to review and launch the guidelines.—MNA/Xinhua

China's missile systems on show in east China

ZHUHAI, 31 Oct— China Aerospace Science and Industry Corporation (CASIC) will exhibit around 20 types of missiles at the 6th China International Aviation and Aerospace Exhibition.

CASIC said the missile defence system will demonstrate China's capability to defend the country's airspace and territory.

The missiles on show include anti-craft missiles, coastal defence missiles and ground-to-ground missiles. Yin Xingliang, general manager of CASIC, told Xinhua that China's missile system had reached the technical level of developed countries in the late 1990s..

Flash floods hit southeast Ethiopia, killing 15

ADDIS ABABA, 31 Oct—Fifteen people were killed and 12,000 villagers feared displaced in southeast Ethiopia after a river burst its banks during torrential rainfalls that have stricken the area for the past two days, the Integrated Regional Information Networks (IRIN) reported Monday.

The humanitarian news agency quoted Sisay Tadesse, spokesman of the country's Disaster Prevention and Preparedness Agency, as saying that the Wabe Shebelle river burst its banks on Friday night and flooded adjoining areas after heavy rains in Ethiopia's highlands.

The worst-affected area is Gode, about 650 kilometres southeast of the country's capital Addis Ababa, and the towns of Kelafo and Mustahil, said Sisay.

He said 13 people were killed in Kelafo, 750 kilometres southeast of Addis Ababa, and two in Mustahil, 90 kilometres farther south.

He added at least 20 villages were still submerged on Monday in Kelafo and 15 around Mustahil.

Bomb kills 25, wounds 60 in Baghdad's Sadr City

BAGHDAD, 31 Oct— A bomb blast ripped through a crowd of labourers in a square in Baghdad's Shiite Sadr City District on Monday, killing 25 people and wounding 60, Iraqi Interior Ministry sources said.

The labourers were gathering to wait for job offers, the sources said. Sadr City is a stronghold of radical Shiite Muslim cleric Moqtada al-Sadr, who heads the powerful Mehdi Army militia.

Sunni Arab guerillas battling US forces and the Shiite-led government have in the past struck Sadr City with car bombs and mortar shells. In July, more than 60 people were killed when a car bomb blasted through a Sadr City market.

Prime Minister Nuri al-Maliki and his US backers have been struggling to bring stability to Iraq more than three years after the US-led invasion. Sectarian violence kills about 100 people a day and political wrangling is hampering reforms.

Maliki and US President George W Bush agreed at the weekend to accelerate efforts to build up Iraqi security forces after days of public tension between the two leaders.

Bush's Republicans face possible loss of control of Congress in 7 November mid-term elections, with dismay over his Iraq policy a critical factor in voter intentions. Opinion polls show growing numbers of voters want to see US troops starting to come home.

So far 99 US troops have been killed in combat in Iraq in October, the bloodiest month since January 2005.

Building effective Iraqi security forces is a key plank in Bush's plans for an eventual withdrawal of the 140,000 US troops.

Maliki told Reuters on Thursday he could get violence under control in six months if the US military gave his forces more weapons and responsibility.— MNA/Reuters

Bayern hold Sporting to secure European progress

MUNICH, 1 Nov— Injury-hit Bayern Munich secured a place in the last 16 of the Champions League thanks to an uninspiring goalless draw at home to Sporting Lisbon on Tuesday.

Sporting were by far the better side in the Group B match and they almost made the breakthrough in the 76th minute when Joao Moutinho cracked the bar with a 20-metre free kick.

For Bayern, Roy Makaay arrowed a shot just wide in the 11th minute and blasted over the bar in the second half, while Sporting keeper Ricardo had to save brilliantly to keep out a Martin Demichelis header a minute from time.

Bayern have 10 points from their four group games and are guaranteed a place in the top two. Inter Milan are second on six points after they won 1-0 at Spartak Moscow in an earlier kickoff, while Sporting are still in the hunt with five.

With senior players Lucio, Mark van Bommel, Owen Hargreaves and Lukas Podolski out because of injury, and Bastian Schweinsteiger suspended, Bayern looked clueless going forward and fragile at the back.

PSV beat Galatasaray 2-0 to reach last 16

EINDHOVEN (Netherlands), 1 Nov— Second-half goals by Timmy Simons and Arouna Kone gave PSV Eindhoven a 2-0 win over 10-man Galatasaray and a place in the last 16 of the Champions League on Tuesday.

Simons opened the scoring on the hour with a close range header and Kone settled the Group C match six minutes from time.

It was PSV's third consecutive win and ensured they would progress as one of the top two teams after just four matches.

PSV are second in the group on goal difference with 10 points behind leaders Liverpool, who beat Bordeaux 3-0. "Finally a beautiful night with qualification after four matches, but we should not forget that it was tough to-night" Ronald Koeman told reporters. "Galatasaray played a good first half, though we hardly gave away anything.

The Dutch side made a careful start against the Turkish champions, who desperately needed a win to keep alive their chances of progressing from the group.

The visitors came close to scoring in the fourth minute when right back Sabri Sarioglu broke free down the wing and shot from 25 metres forcing PSV goalkeeper Gomes to save at full stretch.

PSV's only clear chance in the first half came six minutes later when Ibrahim Afellay set up Arouna Kone although keeper Faryd Mondragon managed to save at the near post.

Galatasaray's hopes of a positive result were hit seven minutes before the interval when Stjepan Tomas was sent off for a foul that stopped Jefferson Farfan running through on goal. Without the Croatian central defender Galatasaray coach Erik Gerets was forced to reorganize his side and PSV manager Ronald Koeman responded by bringing on Jason Culina as an extra winger.

Drogba haunts Barcelona with last-gasp strike

BARCELONA, 1 Nov— Didier Drogba scored deep into stoppage time to earn Chelsea a dramatic 2-2 draw at Barcelona in a highly charged Champions League Group A match at the Nou Camp on Tuesday.

Eidur Gudjohnsen scored against his former Chelsea teammates to put Barcelona 2-1 up after 58 minutes but Chelsea struck back just before the finish to steal a point.

The result makes Chelsea almost certain of progress but jeopardizes the European champions' chances of making a successful defence of their crown. They now drop to third place in the group two points behind Werder Bremen and five behind Chelsea after the Germans won 3-0 at Levski Sofia.

Barca got off to a dream start when midfielder Deco, a former pupil of Jose Mourinho's at Porto, cut in from the left, sped towards the area and unleashed a low drive that fizzed into the net past the outstretched Hilario in the second minute.

Ronaldinho should have made

Chelsea back four following a neat one-two with Gianluca Zambrotta.

But the Brazilian skied his shot over the bar after the Argentine teenager had cut a neat pass into his path from the byline.

Stand-in goalkeeper Hilario came to Chelsea's rescue 15 minutes later when he produced a fine full-stretch save to turn a stinging shot from Xavi past the post after the midfielder had exchanged passes with Ronaldinho.

Chelsea came out firing on all cylinders after the break and Dutch winger Arjen Robben gave Barca two more scares, Valdes producing another sharp save to stop a close-range header and the Dutchman firing over the bar after a great combination between Frank Lampard and Ashley Cole.

Valencia through after 2-2 draw at Shakhtar

DONETSK (Ukraine), 1 Nov— Valencia qualified for the knockout phase of the Champions League after twice coming from a goal down to claim a 2-2 draw at Shakhtar Donetsk in Group D on Tuesday.

The outcome gave Valencia, who won their first three games, 10 points and ensured progress. AS Roma are second on seven after a 1-1 home draw with Olympiakos Piraeus, who, like Shakhtar, have two points. In a see-saw match, Donetsk relied on their Brazilian imports, with Jadson drawing first blood two minutes into the game by curling a free kick over the wall.

Shakhtar had more opportunities soon after, with Brazilian Matuzalem hitting a post in the ninth minute and Julius Aghahowa denied by Valencia keeper Santiago Canizares four minutes later.

Fernando Morientes evened the score at the 18 minute mark when he reacted sharply to a loose ball as the Shakhtar defence failed to clear a free kick.

Fernandinho put the home side ahead again after 28 minutes when he fired in a drive from more than 20 metres that eluded Canizares.— MNA/Reuters

Roadside bomb kills 3 NATO soldiers in Afghanistan

KABUL, 1 Nov — Three NATO soldiers were killed when their patrol ran into a roadside bomb in Afghanistan's eastern province of Nuristan on Tuesday, military officials said, as violence surged ahead of the first winter snowfalls.

A fourth soldier was wounded in the blast, a NATO spokesman said. The nationality of the soldiers was withheld, but US troops form the bulk of NATO force deployed in the remote, mountainous province.

NAY PYI TAW, 1 Nov—Member of the State Peace and Development Council Lt-Gen Kyaw Win of the Ministry of Defence and Chairman of Shan State (North) PDC Commander of North-East Command Brig-Gen Aung Than Htut on 29 October inspected thriving crop plantations on the highlands along the road between Nyankhwan Village and Kongyan, and the bridges along Nyankhwan-Tarshwehtan-Kongyan Road.

Lt-Gen Kyaw Win had a meeting with servicemen of Kongyan Station, township level departmental officials, members of social organizations and townsenders at Kongyan Station. The officials reported on regional development and current developments in the agriculture, education and health sectors. The commander gave a supplementary report.

Lt-Gen Kyaw Win attended to the needs and spoke of the need for the departmental officials in Kongyan Township, Laukkai District, to make concerted efforts with national outlook in the tasks for civil administration and regional development. Collaborated endeavours are also to be exerted for ensuring development of the agricultural sector, ensuring local food security and success in cultivating poppy-substitute crops, he said. And harmonious efforts are to be made under the supervision of respective government departments and local administrative organs for the development of the health sector, he stressed.

He presented gifts to the families of the officers of the local station, exercise books and stationery to the students, and gifts to the departmental staff.

On the inspection tour of Kongyan Township people's hospital, he said that medical staff are to make efforts to win the trust and reliance of the people in providing health care to local people.

He also inspected the Thanlyin Bridge (Tarper) near Tarper Village. Next, he viewed the thriving crop plantations on highlands along Tarper-Monesi-Tamoeyne Road. He met with servicemen of Tamoeyne Station, departmental officials, social organizations, Vice-Chairman-1 of Special Region (5) U Zaw Yaw, head of Special Region-2 Lwekan GAD U Bauk Lar, townsenders and local people.

The head of Tamoeyne GAD gave an account of regional development tasks. The commander gave a supplementary report.

In response, Lt-Gen Kyaw Win said that Tamoeyne Region in Kutkai Township, Muse District, is enjoying development including the agricultural and livestock sectors due to supervision of local administrative bodies at different levels, and participation of local people with Union Spirit. He called on local people to take part with Union Spirit in building a peaceful, modern and developed democratic nation with flourishing discipline being implemented by the government.

He also urged departments, and local people to contribute towards the drive for successful implementation of the State's seven-step Road Map. Next, he cordially greeted the attendees and presented gifts to them.

INSIDE

The government is fulfilling all the requirements for development of the agriculture sector. At a time like this, we would like to call on the entrepreneurs and local growers to try their best to meet the target yield of paddy and other crops and to extend the cultivation of oil palms up to 500,000 acres not only to ensure self-sufficiency in rice and edible oil but also to contribute to national economy.
