Industrial Development Committee holds meeting 1/2008 Government, entrepreneurs to make coordinated and integrated efforts for development of private sector

NAY PYI TAW, 26 Jan —The Industrial Development Committee held meeting No 1/2008 at the Ministry of Industry-1, here, this afternoon, with an address by Chairman of Industrial Development Committee Prime Minister General Thein Sein.

Also present were members of Industrial Development Committee the ministers, the Chairman of Yangon City Development Committee

Mayor, members of Myanma Industrial Development Committee and Work Committee the deputy ministers, chairmen of subcommittees, directors-general of the State Peace and Development Council Office and the Government Office, heads of departments, members of industrial zone supervisory committee and chairmen of management committees, the President of the Union of Myanmar

Federation of Chambers of Commerce and Industry, officials, industrialists and guests.

In his address, the Prime Minister said the ministers were assigned duties to supervise 18 industrial zones and 28 sub-zones for industrial development.

He said the government laid down four economic objectives for economic progress. He said the Head of State had given five guidelines on development of agro-based industries, increase of quantity and enhancement of quality of industrial products, production of new equipment, production of industrial equipment and creation of better foundations for the emergence of an industrialized nation.

The government provides technical assistance for the use of modern equipment in the industrial zones, the key to the industrial development and financial assistance for purchase of machinery, he said.

Continuing, he said, the government established modern workshops in Mandalay, Monywa and Taunggyi Ayethaya Industrial Zones. The operating of the Zones was undertaken in cooperation with the companies.

Service personnel to participate in regional development tasks

The government is implementing various projects for ensuring equitable development of states and divisions including border areas. At the same time, it is building many infrastructures in the transport, education, health and social sectors to achieve the goal.

So far, it has constructed roads stretching more than 60,000 miles and 230 bridges, with the length of 180 feet and above, across the nation, thus ensuring smooth transport and swift commodity flow.

In addition, the government is exerting strenuous efforts for the national education promotion plans to disseminate modern technologies to the youth of all regions. In the education sector, it has opened a large number of schools to ensure that all school-age children can attend classes and the youth can pursue higher education in their regions.

Similarly, the government has established specialist hospitals, hospitals and dispensaries and appointed doctors, nurses and health assistants in the medical facilities for providing better health care to the people.

These are not all. The government is building good basic foundations for development of all regions the length and breadth of the nation. Service personnel are therefore to take part in the projects with good volition for improving the living conditions of local people, while contributing towards development projects and economic enterprises in the regions where they are posted.

Obama with 13-point lead in South Carolina

CHARLESTON, (South Carolina) 26 Jan — Barack Obama has a 13-point lead on rival Hillary Clinton but his support has eroded slightly on the eve of South Carolina's Democratic presidential primary, according to a Reuters/C-SPAN/Zogby poll released on Friday. Obama's edge on Clinton slipped by two points overnight but remained in double digits, 38 per cent to 25 per cent, in the rolling poll, with John Edwards gaining two points to climb to 21 per cent and inch closer to second place. The poll has a margin of error of 3.4 percentage points. Obama, an Illinois senator who would be the first Black US president, had an 18-point lead over Clinton in the initial poll published three days ago but has seen his support fall from 43 per cent to 38 per cent. Obama and Clinton have battled fiercely over the last week, trading accusations about their records in an increasingly rancorous duel for the right to represent the Democratic Party in November's election.

Obama continues to enjoy strong backing among Black voters, who are expected to be more than half of the electorate in Saturday's Democratic primary. Obama won 55 per cent of blacks in the poll, with Clinton at 18 per cent.—MNA/Reuters

Verbal attacks stoke Kenya crisis, despite talks

NAIROBI, 26 Jan — Kenyans faced more turmoil on Friday after both sides in the country's deadly political crisis accused each other of trying to sink mediation efforts. Hopes of an end to violence that has killed nearly 700 people rose after President Mwai Kibaki met his rival Raila

Odinga for the first time since disputed 27 December polls. The two men shook hands and vowed to seek a solution. But in remarks to reporters, Kibaki's description of himself as the nation's "duly elected" leader brought an explosive reaction from Odinga's party, which says he stole the vote. "Kibaki lost the last general election and his claim to the presidency is illegal and illegitimate," Anyang' Nyong'o, a senior opposition figure, told reporters shortly after the talks, which were brokered by former UN chief Kofi Annan.—MNA/Reuters

Thailand launches raid, detains suspected insurgents

BANGKOK, 26 Jan — Local police and Army soldiers launched raids on two villages in Thailand's southernmost province of Narathiwat on Friday and detained 12 insurgents suspected of being involved in violence in the region during past years. Two combined groups of policemen and soldiers, on Friday raided Ban Lalae Village of Cha Nae District and Bagno Kubo Village of Rangae District respectively and arrested a total of 12 suspected insurgents, according to local news network The Nation. The report said the raids lasted more than four hours. All the suspects were taken for DNA test and questioning. MNA/Xinhua

Egypt, Jordan call for dealing positively with Gaza

CAIRO, 26 Jan — Egypt and Jordan shared the identical views on the necessity of dealing positively with the humanitarian situation in Gaza, Egyptian Foreign Ministry spokesman Hossam Zaki said on Thursday.

Egyptian Foreign Minister Ahmed Abul Gheit met with his visiting Jordanian counterpart Salaheddin Al-Bashir earlier in the day during which the two agreed on the need to maintain the chances of achieving peace and supporting the Palestinian National Authority in this regard, Zaki said.

Attended by the heads of the Egyptian and Jordanian intelligence services, the meeting was part of continuing coordination between Egypt and Jordan on all regional issues including the Lebanese crisis and the situation in Iraq, Zaki added.—MNA/Xinhua

Envoy says UN aide played down attacks on Israel

UNITED NATIONS, 26 Jan—Israel's Ambassador to the United Nations criticized the organization's humanitarian affairs chief on Thursday for failing to acknowledge the suffering caused by Palestinian rocket attacks against Israel from Gaza.

Israeli Ambassador Dan Gillerman was referring to comments last week by UN Under-secretary-General for humanitarian affairs John Holmes, who said Israel's decision to shut all border crossings with Gaza had led to a humanitarian crisis and was "collective punishment" for its 1.5 million people.

"I did not hear Mr Holmes describe the 4,100 rockets which have been launched at Israeli cities aimed at the killing of Israeli babies and children, innocents, as a humanitarian crisis," Gillerman told reporters.

"I want to remind Mr Holmes and everybody else who is so worried about the situation in Gaza that Israel left Gaza over two years ago completely," he said after a third day of discussions at the UN Security Council failed to produce agreement on a statement about the situation in Gaza.

Pakistan tests missile, rejects nuclear safety worry

ISLAMABAD, 26 Jan — Pakistan's Army chief dismissed on Friday fears that the country's nuclear weapons could fall into the hands of Islamist militants as the military test fired a nuclear-capable missile.

Pakistan is a staunch ally in the US-led war on terrorism but deteriorating security and political turmoil has raised international concern about the safety of its nuclear weapons.

General Ashfaq Kayani, who became Army chief in November when Pervez Musharraf stepped down to become a civilian president, rejected the worry as "unrealistic". Speaking at the test-firing of a medium-range Shaheen-1 (Hatf-IV) ballistic missile, he said such concerns were based on a "lack of understanding of Pakistan's command and control mechanisms".

British police swoop on child slave gang

LONDON, 26 Jan — Almost two dozen people were arrested on Thursday after police swooped on a Romanian child slave gang operating in Britain.

Six children aged under 10 were rescued in the pre-dawn raids and taken into care, after they had been forced to steal and beg on London streets and on public transport, Scotland Yard said in a statement.

Hundreds of police from forces in England and Romania were involved in the operation, codenamed Caddy, at several addresses in Slough, west London.

Authorities believe they have smashed a major operation, which trafficked young Eastern European children into Britain to steal, beg, pick pockets and target consumers at cash point machines on the streets of London.

Commander Steve Allen, who led the operation, said more arrests were expected.

"While many of these crimes committed appear to be low level, we have evidence that organized crime networks are exploiting and driving the most vulnerable members of their own community," he said in a statement.

B'desh court gives green light for Hasina trial

DHAKA, 26 Jan—The Bangladesh Supreme Court ruled on Thursday that a Lower Court could go ahead and prosecute detained former prime minister Sheikh Hasina for allegedly extorting more than 400,000 US dollars from a businessman, lawyers said.

The trial was suspended last Thursday after the High Court asked the Lower Court judge to stop proceedings while it heard an appeal.

The Dhaka Metropolitan Sessions judge, Mohammad Azizul Haque, on 13 January charged Hasina, her sister Sheikh Rehana and her cousin Sheikh Selim, a former minister in her Cabinet, with illegally taking 30 million taka (440,000 US dollars) from a businessman when Hasina was in power between 1996 and 2001. Both denied the charge.

Singapore frees six militants, nabs two

SINGAPORE, 26 Jan — Singapore has freed five militants belonging to the al-Qaeda-linked group Jemaah Islamiah (JI) and one member of the Philippines' separatist Moro Islamic Liberation Front (MILF), the government said on Thursday.

The Ministry of Home Affairs said in a statement that it has also detained two "self-radicalized" men and has placed another on restriction orders, under which his movements would be monitored for posing "potential terrorist threat".

The five members of the Southeast Asian militant group JI and the Singaporean MILF member, detained between 2002 and 2005 under the city-state's Internal Security Act, were released between December and January, the statement said. It was not clear from the statement if the five JI members were Singapore nationals and the ministry was not immediately available to comment.

The ministry said in the statement the men "had cooperated in investigations and responded positively to rehabilitation which included religious counselling".

At least ten killed in bombing in E Beirut blast

BEIRUT, 26 Jan— At least ten people, including a senior police officer were killed in a powerful explosion in a Christian neighbourhood in eastern Beirut on Friday morning, the pan-Arab al-Jazeera TV reported.

The Lebanese private Future TV also reported the ten deaths, saying that Lebanese Internal Security Forces (ISF) Captain Wissam Eid was among the victims, adding Wissam Eid is a senior officer with the ISF's Intelligence Bureau.

Charred bodies could be seen at the site of the blast on the outskirts of Beirut, said the report.

Earlier, local LBC TV reported that the huge blast, which targeted a military vehicle in the Chevrolet neighbourhood northeast of Beirut, left at least three person dead and 16 injured. TV footage shows huge plumes of black smoke rising from the area and several cars burning. During the latest three years Lebanon has been rocked by a series of blasts, starting with the October 1, 2004 assassination attempt against Telecommunications Minister Marwan Hamade.

Around 200 German businesses enter China each year

FRANKFURT, 26 Jan — Around 200 German businesses open affiliates in China each year, Germany's leading business organization said Thursday.

The Association of German Chambers of Commerce and Industry (DIHK) cited the huge market and low labor and production costs when explaining its member's rush into the world's largest developing country.

Some 4,500 German businesses to date have invested in China's development zones and hi-tech zones, with around 200,000 people on their payrolls, DIHK reported, citing recent research findings.

The average annual turnover of German businesses in China ranges from 15 million euros (about 21.9 million US dollars) to 20 million euros (29 US million dollars), with an average number of employees between 100 and 120, according to the research. DIHK pointed to plagiarism, corruption, bureaucracy and lack of talent as the major obstacles facing German businesses in China, most of which deal with machinery-manufacturing and engineering.

Rogue trader blamed for $7b loss at French bank

PARIS, 26 Jan — A junior trader is being blamed for a record loss of seven billion US dollars in bad debts in one of the biggest frauds in financial history, French bank Societe Generale said Thursday.

The trader was identified as Jerome Kerviel, 31, who had worked at Societe Gene-rale in Paris since 2000 and earned a salary and bonus of less than 100,000 euros (145,700 dollars), bank executives said.

"The transactions which involve the fraud were simple — taking a position on shares rising, but hidden using extremely sophisticated and varied techniques," said Daniel Bouton, chairman of the bank, in a statement.

Bouton, failing to identify Kerviel's whereabouts, said he had confessed to the fraud and legal action would be taken against him.

"He is not here and we do not know when he will be back," said a colleague of Kerviel who answered his line at the bank's trading room in La Defence, the business district west of the French capital, reported The Times of London.

The bank has said several staffs "responsible for the supervision and controls on the operations concerned" with the scandal have been fired, and Bouton's offer to resign was rejected by the board. —MNA/Xinhua

Iran's petrochemical exports hit $4.3b in 10 months

TEHERAN, 25 Jan — Iran exported 7.026 million tons of petrochemical products, valued at 4.269 billion US dollars, in the first 10 months of its calendar year (from 21 March, 2007 to 20 January, 2008), local daily Kayhan International reported on Thursday.

Liquefied gas had the lion's share among export-bound products in terms of weight as its volume stood at 1.879 million tons, the report said, quoting the Iran Petrochemical Commercial Co (IPCC).

Based on predictions, the value of export-bound petrochemical goods will soar to five billion dollars by mid-March 2008. Iran exported 6.48 million tons of petrochemical products from 21 March to 21 December, 2007. The exports fetched the country 3.84 billion dollars.

Pars Special Economic Energy Zone (PSEEZ) in Assaluyeh, southern Iran, exported 3.058 million tons of petrochemical products to the world markets in the nine month period.

GM not happy with Indonesian sales

JAKARTA, 26 Jan — US top car maker General Motors said Thursday it had failed to tap Indonesia's fast growing auto market and was not pleased with the performance in the Southeast Asia's largest economy.

"Basically, we aren't satisfied with the Indonesian markets. Given the great potentials, the sales should have been bigger than we achieved," visiting GM Asia Pacific president Nick Reilly was quoted by leading news website Detikcom as saying.

Relying on the Chevrolet brand, GM booked sales of a mere 1,396 in the country last year. The 2008 sale target is put at 3,000 units.

In a sharp contrast, fellow Detroit, Ford, has claimed its Indonesian sales surged 54 per cent to 6,309 units in 2007, the record year since the company's presence 18 years ago.

Israeli strike kills two Palestinians in Gaza

GAZA, 25 Jan— An Israeli airstrike on a car killed at least two Palestinian militants in the southern Gaza town of Rafah on Friday, security officials and medical staff said.

An Israeli Army spokeswoman confirmed the military had carried out an airstrike, saying that the target had been “terror operatives”.

Israel frequently carries out strikes against Gaza militants in an effort to stop them launching rockets and mortar bombs across the border into nearby towns in the Jewish state.

Rafah became the focus of international attention on Wednesday when tens of thousands of Palestinians poured into Egypt from the Gaza Strip to stock up on food and fuel which is in short supply due to an Israeli blockade.

The border wall was breached in a series of explosions.

Israel stepped up a blockade on the coastal territory which is controlled by Islamist Hamas, in an effort to clamp down on the militants.

US - led air raid kills 11 in Afghanistan

GHAZNI, 25 Jan— Nine police and two civilians were killed in an airstrike by US-led troops in Afghanistan, a provincial doctor said on Thursday, but the coalition said Taliban fighters had been killed.

The raid, which sparked protests, happened in a village outside Ghazni Town to the southwest of Kabul on Wednesday night, Dr Ismail Ibrahimzai, the head of the local public health department said.

“Nine police, including an officer, two civilians, one of them a woman, were killed in the raid,” he told Reuters. Five police were wounded, he said, adding they were in a vehicle patrolling the area when it was hit in the airstrike.

The US-led coalition confirmed the attack but said several Taliban insurgents were killed in the raid involving small-arms and aerial-delivered conventional munitions.

Coalition troops arrested nine suspected insurgents and destroyed a cache of explosives, it said in a statement. Civilian casualties fuel resentment of foreign forces in Afghanistan and the Western-backed government of President Hamid Karzai has repeatedly urged US and NATO troops to do everything they can do to minimise civilian deaths.

Indonesia military leader vows to reform armed forces

JAKARTA, 26 Jan — Indonesia's new military commander vowed on Thursday to push ahead with reforms of the armed forces, turning it into a law-abiding, professional body.

Indonesia's military wielded considerable political power under former president Soeharto, who ruled for more than three decades. During that time, it was involved in massacres, extrajudicial killings and human rights abuses, often conducted in the name of maintaining national unity.

But after Soeharto was forced to step down in 1998 and Indonesians embraced greater democracy, the military, known by its Indonesian acronym TNI, was stripped of its fixed quota of seats in Parliament.

“The TNI will complete and evaluate the reform process and maintain its neutrality in politics,” General Djoko Santoso told a news conference at military headquarters in Jakarta. He also vowed to increase soldiers' welfare, improve the Armed Forces' professionalism and play a wider role in disaster relief.

Human resource development and rural libraries

Gyobingauk Tin Maung Oo

Today, the world has been like a village thanks to the advanced communication system. Other sectors are also making dramatic progress due to inventions and innovations.

The globalization process has become acceptable to every country because no country in the world wants to be isolated from the international community. And every country has come to work hard to keep abreast of other countries. It has been common knowledge that natural resources alone are not enough to make a nation industrialized, and the process also calls for development of human resources.

Only with human resource development will it be possible for a nation to enjoy development by applying effectively the intellectual power, knowledge and innovative power of its people along with advanced technologies.

A nation with no human resource development will lag behind other nations in development in this Knowledge Age. That point forces the world nations to pay a serious attention to human resource development.

Human resource development means educational improvement and application of advanced technologies.

Human resource development means educational improvement and application of advanced technologies. With this concept, the Ministry of Education is now taking responsibilities for raising the education standard of the younger generations in order that their education standard can be on a par with that of the youth in developed countries in the 21st Century. As a result, there have been human resource development and golden opportunities for the youth to catch up with their fellow youths of other nations.

In Myanmar, rural population makes up more than 70 per cent. Therefore, it is required to expand the horizons of rural folks to achieve human resource development. Development of a nation rests largely on high living standard and human resource development of rural people of that nation.

The Ministry of Information is playing an important role in the plans for human resource development necessary for national development. It has set up self-reliant libraries in the villages in rural areas for improving the knowledge and reasoning power of local people.

The ministry is building more and more sub-printing houses, TV re-transmitting stations, and self-reliant libraries in states and divisions with the aim of enabling the people to know what is going on in the world.

The Information Division of the Information and Broadcasting Department was reconstituted into the Information and Public Relations Department on 24 January 1991. So far, the IPRD has opened 389 libraries and 55,755 self-reliant libraries throughout the nation since 2004-2005.

An important role is played by the knowledge bank libraries, schools of practical life and libraries or window of the world in relaying knowledge to others. So, ensuring sustainable progress of the self-reliant libraries is a priority.

In this regard, it is needed to cooperate and coordinate with local authorities, social organizations for the processes — helping rural people cultivate the good habit of reading, keeping the publications and raising the funds, practising the borrowing system, setting up separate library buildings on separate plots, providing the facilities with reasonable furniture, and appointing librarians.

The plan also needs contributions of four communities—local authorities, social organizations, wellwishers and local people, and IPRD staff.

Members of the committees of the libraries concerned have to work hard in collaboration with relevant organizations for making sure that every village has a library, and sustainable development of the libraries so as to develop human resources.

The dam is the 207th irrigation facility in the nation and the 44th in Bago Division. The government has facilitated Bago Division with dams, sluice gates and diversion dams accounting for the 23 percent of the number existing in the whole nation.

In his address, Minister Maj-Gen Htay Oo said that the Ministry of Agriculture and Irrigation is making a constant effort for development of national economy through the agricultural sector. Boosting the agricultural production amounts to enhancing the socio-economic life of rural people.

He went on to say that the government is taking every possible step for self-sufficiency in rice and for exporting the surplus. Hence, the Head of State himself has given guidance, calling for the implementation of projects of dams and reservoirs as well as embankments and river water pumping projects the length and breadth of the nation while in the pursuit of underground water tapping projects for the agricultural purpose.

Not only that, the ministry is building small-scale and medium scale dams and reservoirs that can be completed in a short time while engaging in greening works in arid zones of Upper Myanmar. In the meantime, extended reclamation of fellow and virgin land is being carried out, he disclosed.

He said that relentless efforts are being made in the agricultural sector for boosting the per acre yield, for farmers to be able to apply double and mixed cropping, for acquisition of quality strain crops and for transforming from the manual farming to the mechanized farming.

As efforts are being made for self-sufficiency in rice and edible oil Bago Division has been able to exceed the target in that regard. At present, the eastern part of Bago Yoma can see a total of 43 dams and reservoirs and sluice gates benefiting 600,000 acres of farmland.

Water supply is of utmost importance in the pursuit of the projects for greening the 30-mile radius of Yangon all the year round that are being implemented under the guidance of Head of State Senior General Than Shwe, he added.

In conclusion, he said that Wagadok Supporting Dam will be capable of irrigating 1200 acres of farmland in Thanappin and Thongwa townships and of boosting the per acre yield. Moreover, it will be able to benefit 43,000 irrigated acres of Moeyungyi Lake.

Next, U Kyaw Zin Win of Thabyeyo Village, on behalf of local people in Bago Township expressed thanks for the emergence of the dam.

After that, the commander and the minister cordially greeted those present on the occasion.

Later, the commander unveiled the stone inscription of the dam and the minister sprinkled scented water onto it.

Afterwards, the commander and the minister formally opened the dam and had a documentary photo taken together with those present on the occasion.

Next, the commander and the minister inspected the dam.

The 86 feet and 6400 feet long dam is of earthen type and is able to store 32 600 acre feet. Its spillway is 255 feet long and is of reinforced concrete type.

Proper ways and means are to be sought for mutual benefits. Based on the industrial zones efforts are to be made for development of private industry, he said. The government also provided necessary assistance to the zones in accord with that it is sensible to bring about the development of the agricultural sector as the national economy is based on agriculture. However, it is required to have a vision and an outlook to set up the industries and to ensure the emergence of agrobased industry and woodbased industry. At present, woodbased industry is making progress as agrobased items. And steps are to be taken for the development of agrobased industry under the guidance of the Head of State.

Thanks to concerted efforts of the respective ministries and industrial zones extended production of new spare parts of machines is now under way for running of the State-run factories at full capacity.

As the private sector constitutes over 90 per cent of the economic sector of the State the government is giving priority to development of the private sector. In that regard, the government and entrepreneurs are to make coordinated and integrated efforts for development of the private sector, boosting the income of individuals and creating job opportunities, acquisition and dissemination of technology and saving foreign exchange.

At the same time, preventative measures are to be taken against land, water and air pollution. And efforts are to be made to minimize loss and wastage in the use of fuel with the application of Energy Saving Technology. He spoke of the need for entrepreneurs to take part in the drive for substituting bio-fuel. With this end in view, physic nuts are being grown across the nation for producing bio-fuel while extended cultivation of sugarcane is being launched for producing ethanol.

For development of the industrial sector efforts are to be made not only to produce import-substituted parts but also to produce export items capable of penetrating foreign markets. In the process, arrangements are to be

Forest and Forest Products Association to try hard for industrial development.

Secretary of the Industrial Development Committee Chairman of the Myanmar Industrial Development Committee Minister for Industry-1 U Aung Thaung said that the IDC pursued the Head of State's guidance on five objectives for industrial development.

Coordination meetings for industrial development were held whenever opportune. Collaborative measures will be taken for development of the private sector, economic growth, job opportunities, and boosting production of value-added products, he said.

He said that agricultural produce-based industries, forestry, meat and fish, and mineral production industries have been designated as priorities for industrial development.

He also reported on plans for production of bio-diesel.

The government organized steps for building foundry plants, forging shops and mould factories for development of industrial zones, he said.

Now, industrial zones have made progress to an extent in producing motor cycles, three-wheeled motor cycles and vehicles, he said.

Chairman of Myanmar Industrial Development Work Committee Minister for Industry-2 Maj-Gen Saw Lwin said that in 2007-2008 Mandalay Industrial Zone produced 1938 jeeps; Meikhtila Industrial Zone, 420; and Taunggyi Industrial Zone, 309. Likewise, Mandalay Industrial Zone produced 1832 trucks; South Dagon (2) Industrial Zone, 1143; and Dagon Seikkan Industrial Zone, 777. Regarding the production of motorbikes, Yenangyoung Industrial Zone produced 6000 motorbikes; and Pakokku Industrial Zone, 3000. In addition, Mandalay Industrial Zone produced 1000 three-wheeled motorcycles; and Yenangyoung Industrial Zone, 590. Mandalay Industrial Zone produced three-ton trucks; and South Dagon Industrial Zone, 60. But, Mandalay Industrial Zone could produce only five buses.

The minister also said auto manufacturers of the industrial zones are granted permission to produce the quota of vehicles, to import permitted spare parts, to produce parts domestically, to ensure quality products and to take systematic measures in issuing licences in accord with the directives of Myanmar Industrial Development Committee.

He continued that the auto industry is developing as the industrialists on their part are importing moulds, welding machines and paint blowers for the production of quality cars, inventing moulds and dies for domestic production of car bodies and trying to ensure production of quality products to win markets.

Mandalay, Monywa, Taunggyi and (Ayethaya) industrial zones where foundry and forging shops have been established are not only repaying the State loans but also boosting production. The minister next reported on the functions of the subcommittees under the work committee.

Minister for National Planning and Economic Development U Soe Tha reported on industrial development in States and Divisions and the plans for development of the industrial sector.

Minister for Science and Technology U Thaung also reported on progress of training programmes being provided for technicians of industries.

Minister for Labour U Aung Kyi submitted reports on peace and stability at factories and workshops, settling the disputes between employers and employees and protection of social lives of workers.

Chairmen of Industrial Zone Supervisory Committees and industrialists submitted reports on requirements for development of the industrial sector.

Next, the industrial zone in-charge ministers reviewed and discussed the reports.

After attending to the needs, the Prime Minister said that it is necessary to set up industries for the uplift of living standard of the people. After assessing today's reports, he said that the requirements will be fulfilled equally to improve the local industries for their long-term existence.

The Prime Minister stressed the need to set up the agro-based industries according to the nature of the nation. Therefore, he cited that priority is to be given to establishment of the industries. In addition, emphasis is to be placed on setting up of import-substitute industries, he said. He added that the systematic plans are to be implemented for ensuring human resources development. In conclusion, the Prime Minister urged them to make concerted efforts for development of the industrial sector.

After the meeting, the Prime Minister

Clinton, McCain win

“New York Times” endorsements

WASHINGTON, 25 Jan — The New York Times on Thursday endorsed Democratic Senator Hillary Clinton and Republican Senator John McCain for their party’s nominations to contest the US presidential in November.

In selecting Clinton, a New York Senator, the influential newspaper’s editorial board said her experience gave her an advantage over her chief rival in the Democratic race, Illinois Senator Barack Obama, though on the major issues they were not that different.

Clinton is embroiled in tight nomination battle with Obama, who would be the first African American president if elected. Former North Carolina Senator John Edwards has been running in third place. In backing McCain, the Times editorial board said it had strong disagreements with all the Republicans running for president, but among them, the Arizona Senator was an easy choice.

S’pore detains two for posing potential terrorist threat

SINGAPORE, 25 Jan — The Singapore authorities announced on Thursday that they have recently detained two men and restricted one man’s movements for posing potential terrorist threat.

The three men were involved in “activities that posed a potential terrorist threat”, the Ministry of Home Affairs said in a statement.

Two of the men, Muhammad Zamri Bin Abdullah, 26, and Maksham Bin Mohamed Shah, 26, were detained under the Internal Security Act, while the third man, Mohammad Taufik Andjah Asmara, 26, was issued with a Restriction Order on December last year.

Zamri was “self radicalized” through propaganda in publications, videos and the internet, and intended to go overseas to join a mujahidin network to “wage armed jihad and die a martyr”, said the statement, adding that Zamri succeeded in influencing Maksham and Taufik with his pro-armed jihad ideology.

Meanwhile, the authorities have released five Jemaah Islamiyah detainees since December last year, it said.

The men were released as they “had cooperated in investigations and responded positively to rehabilitation, including religious counselling”, according to the statement.—MNA/Xinhua

Ban says panel to review UN security worldwide

GENEVA, 25 Jan — United Nations Secretary-General Ban Ki-Moon said on Wednesday he was setting up an independent panel to review the safety and security of UN staff and offices worldwide after the deadly bombing in Algiers.

Ban, who earlier held talks with Algerian Foreign Minister Mourad Medelci in Geneva, was speaking at a memorial service for 17 UN employees who died in the twin blasts last month.

The bombs, one of which hit UN buildings, killed at least 41 people and were claimed by al-Qaeda. “In the light of recent events, and after consulting with the Algerian authorities and receiving their agreement, I am setting up an independent panel of experts to review the safety and security of UN personnel and premises,” Ban said.

In 2003, 22 people, including the UN envoy Sergio Vieira de Mello, died in a bombing of the UN office in Baghdad. That attack prompted the UN to pull out its international staff from Iraq, leaving only local staffers to conduct minimal activities. In recent months that UN expatriate staff have progressively returned.

“Such a panel will address the strategic issues vital to United Nations staff security around the world,” Ban said.

Four Brazilian policemen arrested for robbery

RIODE JANEIRO, 25 Jan — The Brazilian authorities have arrested four policemen who were photographed robbing a driver of his truckload of beer.

A policeman and another man stopped the truck Friday afternoon, and then forced the driver to pull over somewhere out of the way, before they and some other people waiting there started to unload the beer, Brazilian daily O Globo quoted the driver as saying Wednesday.

Three policemen who passed by on patrol joined the robbers later instead of stopping them, and within 15 minutes the truckload worth 14,075 reais (about 7,800 US dollars) was gone, the victim added.

The robbers focused so much on the beer that they did not notice residents nearby were shooting them with cameras. Soon after the pictures were sent to the police and the newspaper, the four policemen were put into custody.

New bird flu outbreak found in N Thailand

BANGKOK, 25 Jan — A new bird flu outbreak has been found at a farm in Thailand's northern province Nakhon Sawan Province, local media reported Thursday.

Thailand's Livestock Department official Somboon Srisuthep was quoted as saying on Thursday that the presence of H5N1 virus was suspected at Sri Thai Farm in Chumsaeng District, Nakhon Sawan, where thousands of chickens were found dead, according to the Bangkok Post website report.

A lab test conducted in nearby province Phitsanulok confirmed the chickens had died of the bird flu virus, the report said. Officials have now ordered a quarantine of all avian livestock and requested the blanket disinfection of all poultry farms in the area within a five-kilometre radius of the infected farm.

Malaysia to stockpile food, possibly fuel

KUALA LUMPUR, 25 Jan — Malaysia plans to set up a national food stockpile to safeguard the country against rising prices and possible shortages, local newspapers said on Thursday.

The plan, outlined to local media on Wednesday, could also see the establishment of a petroleum reserve, even though Malaysia was a net energy exporter, the newspapers added.

"It is possible," economist Kamal Salih, who is advising the government on the new measures, was quoted as saying in the New Straits Times.

Caring for aged project launched in Beijing

BEIJING, 25 Jan — The China Association of Social Workers (CASW), a non-governmental organization, has launched a large-scale project to care for the elderly here on Wednesday.

According to the CASW's plan, about 20 centres for the service for the elderly will be set up in provinces with large populations of old people in the next five to eight years. All the centres will have facilities for senior citizens' housing, entertainment and recovery, sources with the CASW said.

Under this project, an elderly service network will be set up and forums spreading health care knowledge for the senior citizens will be held regularly.

"The long-term promotion of the project is arduous, but it will certainly be significant in developing a better system of elderly service in the country," said Zhou Tienong, vice-president of the association.

Western Tibet jolts by third earthquake this month

LHASA, 25 Jan — An earthquake measuring 5.5 on Richter Scale hit Gerze County in western Tibet Autonomous Region at 2:43 am Beijing Time on Wednesday, the third quake in the region this month.

The epicentre was located at 32.4 degrees north and 85.2 degrees east, about 100 kilometres to the east of Gerze County seat in Ngari Prefecture, according to the China Seismological Monitoring Network.

An earthquake measuring 6.9 on the Richter Scale rocked the same area on 9 January followed by another of six degrees on 16 January.

Hong Xuefeng, an official with the prefectural government of Ngari, said the three earthquakes had affected almost 2,000 people in 394 households, damaged 331 houses and 140 sheep pens, leaving losses estimated at 3.86 million yuan (533,000 US dollars).

The occupants of at-risk homes have been accommodated in tents. The prefectural and county governments have allocated funds, food and tents for the area.

Albania drafts new law to jail match-fixers

TIRANA, 26 Jan — Albania's sports ministry and anti-corruption groups have joined forces to draft a new law that would send match-fixers to jail, officials said on Friday. The country's culture minister last month accused the president of the national soccer federation of "selling" two Euro 2008 qualifiers.

Prime Minister Sali Berisha also branded the national soccer team a "mafia group".

"Unfortunately, Albania has not escaped the virus of the fixing of matches and other sports races," Deputy Culture and Sports Minister Ekrem Spahia said in a statement on Friday.

He said writing the "Clean Feet" draft law would make those responsible of match-fixing liable to up to seven years in jail while also bringing Albanian laws in line with the European Union's.—MNA/Reuters

Guinea captain Feindouno gets two-match ban

SEKONDI, 26 Jan — Guinea captain Pascal Feindouno has been handed a two-match ban for stamping on an opponent in his team's 3-2 victory over Morocco in the African Nations Cup on Thursday.

The midfielder, who scored two goals and set up another at Accra's Ohene Djan Stadium, got a straight red card in the 67th minute.

"The Disciplinary Committee of the Confederation of African Football (CAF) has handed a two match ban to Guinea captain Pascal Feindouno," CAF said on their Web site (www.cafonline.com) on Friday.

Benin coach to expand on bribery claim

SEKONDI, 26 Jan — Benin coach Reinhard Fabisch said he is willing to make an official affidavit, giving details of an attempt to bribe him at the African Nations Cup finals in Ghana.

The German alleged on Thursday he had been approached at the weekend to try and fix his country's opening match at the tournament which they lost 1-0 to Mali on Monday.

The Confederation of African Football on Friday demanded he sign an affidavit within 24 hours or face charges of bringing the game into disrepute.

"I am prepared to do all that is necessary to clarify this. I have not yet been told what is wanted of me but I will be happy to do it," he told Reuters in Sekondi on Friday.

"To want clear up the issue and to protect other teams and African football from this happening again," he said.

"When something like this happens I have a duty to report it and bring it to the public's attention.

Mali draw leaves Nigeria floundering

SEKONDI, 26 Jan — Nigeria's African Nations Cup hopes suffered another blow on Friday after a 0-0 draw with Mali left them floundering in their opening round group.

Nigeria are third in Group B with just a single point, three behind second placed Mali.

The draw confirmed Ivory Coast, who have six points, as the first team to qualify for the quarterfinals.

Nigeria, despite their star-studded attack, failed for a second successive game to score.

Mali might have snatched victory with seven minutes to go when Seydou Keita hit the woodwork with a thunderous drive.

Nigeria did have an effort ruled offside in the 80th minute. The flag went up against striker Yakubu Aiyegbeni, who had the most of the Nigerian chances in the first half.—MNA/Reuters

Las Vegas casino hotel engulfed in flames, no injuries

LOS ANGELES, 26 Jan — A three-alarm fire on top of the Monte Carlo casino hotel in Las Vegas forced evacuations and shutdown of the Las Vegas Strip Friday morning, with no injuries reported.

The fire started around 11 am local time at the Las Vegas Strip hotel. It was reported that the fire was burning on the south side of the hotel along the top floors sending black plumes of smoke into the sky.

Fire officials said there were no known injuries and they have almost contained the fire, however, eyewitnesses told local television channels that embers were falling and sparking smaller fires.

A former hotel worker said that the top floor of the hotel contains suites. The cause of the fire is not officially determined yet, but there are reports that welders were working on the roof of the hotel. — MNA/Xinhua Smoke and flames rise after a fire broke out at the Monte Carlo hotel-casino in Las Vegas, Friday, on 25 Jan 2008. The fire, which was reported around 11 am, Friday halted gambling at the casino as it spread from the center of the building across the roof. No major injuries were reported, said Clark County spokesman.

Police find over dozen dead in north Sri Lanka

COLOMBO, 26 Jan — Police found more than a dozen unidentified bodies, some with their hands tied behind their backs, in northern Sri Lanka on Thursday, the military and a witness said.

Rights groups have reported hundreds of abductions and disappearances in recent months after the military and separatist Tamil Tigers resumed a two-decade civil war, which has cost nearly 70,000 lives since 1983.

Police found the decomposing bodies in a grave in the north central district of Anuradhapura after a report by a local resident, a military spokesman said.
