Speedy rehabilitation of storm-hit regions

The ASEAN-UN International Pledging Conference was held at Sedona Hotel in Yangon on 25 May.

The conference was attended by representatives from 51 countries and officials from 24 international organizations, and the respective countries and international organizations pledged to provide Myanmar with cash and other assistance.

For emergency relief and rehabilitation operation, the government has allocated an initial sum of K 5 billion to start with and so far it has spent to the amount of K 70 billion. The United Nations and its agencies took prompt action to carry out relief and rehabilitation mission with the contributions of international organizations.

Up to now the rescue and rehabilitation tasks have been carried out to some extent. And providing food, clothing and shelters to the victims are to be carried out with the aid of international community while striving for reconstruction of houses, schools, hospitals and dispensaries and resuming agriculture, fisheries and salt industry with the help of skilled workers.

At a time when the Government, the people and the Tatmadaw are making concerted efforts with the contributions of the UN, ASEAN and international community in that regard we firmly believe that the rehabilitation of storm victims will be materialized soonest.

2. The population of the country is 57,504,368 and the number of eligible voters is 27,369,957. Due to the severe Cyclone Nargis, 77,738 people were killed and 55,917 went missing totalling 133,655 in Yangon and Ayeyawady Divisions and Mon State. According to the Data Collecting Committee, 81,130 eligible voters were among the dead and missing. Therefore, the population of the country now stands at 57,370,713 and the number of eligible voters 27,288,827.

3. Therefore, the aggregate result of the referendum held in 325 townships—278 on 10 May, 2008 and 47 on 24 May, 2008—is as follows:

(a) Number of eligible voters in the entire Union	27,288,827
(b) Number of those who cast vote	26,776,675 (98.12 percent)
(c) Number of those who cast "Yes" vote	24,764,124 (92.48 percent)
(d) Number of those who cast "No" vote	1,631,712 (6.1 percent)
(e) Number of cancelled vote	380,839 (1.42 percent)

4. According to the Paragraph 3, the following table shows the voting of 26,776,675 voters in the referendum in the whole country:

(a) Number of those who went to the polling stations to cast vote	22,154,970 (82.74 percent)
(1) Number of those who cast "Yes" vote	20,215,637
(2) Number of those who cast "No" vote	1,575,257
(3) Number of cancelled vote	364,076
(b) Number of those who cast vote in advance	4,621,705 (17.26 percent)
(1) Number of those who cast "Yes" vote	4,548,487
(2) Number of those who cast "No" vote	56,455
(3) Number of cancelled vote	16,763

5. Therefore, 26,776,675 voters out of 27,288,827 eligible voters cast their votes in the referendum held in the Union of Myanmar accounting for 98.12 percent. Out of 26,776,675 who cast their votes, 24,764,124 cast "YES" vote. According to the Section 23 of the Referendum Law 2008, we hereby announce that 92.48 percent of the voters cast "YES" vote for the approval of the draft constitution of the Republic of the Union of Myanmar.

Mexico says US should focus on stemming gun flow

MEXICO CITY, 26 May—The chief of Mexico's war on drug gangs said Washington should concentrate on halting the flow of arms to Mexican drug cartels rather than haggle over how much aid to give Mexico's anti-smuggling operation.

Reacting to a vote by US lawmakers to trim an aid package for the drug war, Mexico's deputy attorney general, Jose Luis Santiago Vasconcelos, said an alternative would be to keep the cash in the United States and use it to curb illegal arms trafficking across the border.

"Some of us were talking, remarking that, well, this (sum of money) is all very well, but why don't we tell the Americans they could spend it on their (border security forces) to stop the flow of arms to Mexico," Santiago Vasconcelos said in remarks on local radio distributed by his office on Saturday.

Santiago Vasconcelos, the point man in Mexico's crackdown on drug smuggling gangs, said 97 per cent of the weapons used by Mexican drug gangs came from the United States.

He said Mexico would evaluate whether to accept any US offer of funds and under what conditions.

Mexico is spending seven billion US dollars of its own money to fund its 18-month-old crackdown on the powerful and violent cartels that smuggle Colombian cocaine north to US consumers.

EU employers slam new WTO proposals for Doha

BRUSSELS, 26 May—Europe's biggest employers lobby slammed a new set of World Trade Organization proposals intended to unblock a global trade deal on Friday, saying they were a "step backwards".

In a letter to EU Trade Commissioner Peter Mandelson, Business Europe said the proposals for lowering barriers to trade in industrial goods under the WTO's Doha round would give an "unfair advantage" to competitive sectors in emerging economies.

"We have indicated repeatedly that this deal needs to address the very high barriers to industrial and services market access in emerging countries for all exporters," the letter, which was distributed to media, said.

"Unfortunately, the latest WTO market access negotiating text is a step backwards for trade liberalization."

The Doha negotiations for a global trade deal were launched in 2001 in a bid to fight poverty and boost the world economy. But they have been hamstrung by deep differences among rich and poor countries and now risk years of further delay without a breakthrough soon, ahead of the US presidential election.

Roadside bomb kills police officer in Pakistan

ISLAMABAD, 26 May—A roadside bomb hit the car of a police officer in Pakistan's northwestern city of Peshawar on Saturday, killing him and his driver, police said.

Hundreds of people have been killed in a wave of bomb and suicide attacks across Pakistan since mid-2007, but violence had tapered off after the government that took office in March called for talks with Islamist militants to end militancy.

Most of the attacks have taken place in the northwest on the Afghan border where militants are very active. Peshawar is the capital of the North West Frontier Province (NWFP).

The latest bomb was the fourth since mid-February. The bomb hit the car of police officer Juma Khan as he was going to work in the morning.

"It was a remote-controlled device. Three passers-by were wounded in the blast," an official of the police bomb disposal department said. Meanwhile, residents in the North Waziristan tribal region on Friday found a body of an Afghan man, apparently hanged to death, by suspected militants on suspicion of being a spy for the United States.—MNA/Reuters

Israeli Army kills five militants in Gaza

GAZA, 26 May—Five Palestinian militants were killed on Friday by Israeli troops which raided into the Hamas-rule Gaza Strip, according to medical workers and militant groups.

An Israeli air strike east of the southern city of Rafah killed three Hamas militants, according to medical workers.

All the three belonged to the Ezzedine Al-Qassam Brigades, the armed wing of the Islamist Hamas said in a statement.

Israeli Ynet news website confirmed the confrontation, saying that an Israeli soldier was moderately wounded during exchange of fire with Palestinian gunmen in south Gaza Friday morning.

Meanwhile, the Islamic Jihad militant group said two of its fighters were killed by Israeli soldiers in the central Gaza Strip.

Denmark's Prince Joachim marries for second time

MOEGELTOENDER, 25 May — Denmark's Prince Joachim married French-born Marie Cavallier on Saturday in a tradition-steeped ceremony in an ancient church.

The second marriage for the second son of Queen Margrethe II and Prince Henrik of Denmark took place in the tiny village of Moegeltoender in southern Jutland, an enclave of just 895 people with one of Denmark's prettiest high streets.

Joachim's 32-year-old bride wore an off-white gown with a three-metre-long train designed by David Arasa and Claudio Morelli from fashion house Arasa Morelli. Cavallier, now Her Royal Highness

Princess Marie, held her veil in place with a tiara belonging to her new mother-in-law. The new Princess, whose background is Roman Catholic, has become a member of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of Denmark and has taken Danish citizenship.

Philippines to build disaster-resilient school buildings

MANILA, 25 May — The Philippine Government is launching a plan to build disaster-resilient school buildings to make schools less prone to damage during typhoons, said the National Disaster Coordinating Council (NDCC) on Sunday.

NDCC deputy chief Anthony Golez told local radio DZBB a school in Camarines Sur Province in the typhoon-frequented central Philippines will be the project's first beneficiary.

He said an international competition for designs for disaster-resilient school buildings was held recently in Manila and an entry from a Malaysian architect has won.

Golez said the government saw more need to make schools resilient to disasters after tropical storm "Halong" damaged more than 70 schools in the northern Luzon one week ago.

He also said earthquake drills for schools may be held in July for the National Disaster Consciousness Month. — MNA/Xinhua

Obama says Clinton "stirring up" Florida controversy

CHICAGO, 25 May — Democrat Barack Obama accused rival Hillary Clinton on Saturday of "stirring up" a controversy over the disqualified Florida primary election because it was her last hope of winning their party's presidential nomination.

Obama, an Illinois Senator, is leading Clinton, a New York Senator, in delegates needed to win the Democratic nomination to face Republican John McCain in the November election. The delegates are awarded in state nominating contests that kicked off in January.

Florida's and Michigan's delegates were stripped of their rights to be seated at the party's August convention — when the nominee is formally chosen — because their contests were held too early in the year, in breach of party rules. Clinton, who won both contests, has long argued the delegates should be seated and awarded based on the popular vote. She made a trip to Florida this week to press her case.

"The Clinton campaign has been stirring this up for fairly transparent reasons," Obama told reporters on the plane from San Juan, Puerto Rico, to Chicago, adding she had not done so earlier in the race when she did not need the delegates to win.

"Let's not ... pretend that we don't know what's going on. I mean this is, from their perspective, their last slender hope to make arguments about how they can win, and I understand that," Obama said.

Neither Clinton nor Obama campaigned in either state before the primary elections, and the Illinois senator removed his name from the Michigan ballot. Obama spent three days campaigning in Florida this week.—MNA/Reuters

Police, locals clash in Naples trash protest

NAPLES, 25 May — Police clashed with demonstrators in a poor quarter of Naples on Saturday after a night of riots over the Italian Government's attempt to end the chronic rubbish problem by opening new dumps against locals' wishes.

Witnesses said two police officers and two protesters were hurt when police tried to remove a bus used as a barricade to block access to a landfill site at a quarry in the Chiaiano neighbourhood.

Police said protesters had thrown a petrol bomb.

The location of new dumps was being kept secret but clashes erupted overnight in Chiaiano, on the outskirts of the southern port city, after an official said it would be used for some of the trash piling up in the streets of Naples since the end of last year, when almost all dumps were declared full.

New Prime Minister Silvio Berlusconi has made the crisis a top priority and passed a decree this week allowing new landfill sites and making them military zones, to dissuade protests. —MNA/Reuters

UNSG promises to support China's quake relief efforts

YINGXIU (Sichuan), 25 May— United Nations Secretary-General Ban Ki-moon promised on Saturday to mobilize efforts from the United Nations to support China's quake relief and post-quake reconstruction.

Ban said Chinese leaders have shown outstanding leadership in quake relief, and the United Nations will firmly support China's relief and reconstruction endeavours.

The UN Chief said the United Nations and people all over the world will stand along with the Chinese people and work together to overcome the earthquake disaster.

He wished Chinese people a victory in quake relief. Ban made the remarks in an open area Saturday noon shortly after his arrival at Yingxiu town of Wenchuan Co-unity, epicentre of the 12 May earthquake, to express his sympathy for those who suffered from the devastating quake.

Ban won loud applause from the people standing around.

Yingxiu, in Sichuan Province, is one of the zones worststricken by the 8.0-magnitude earthquake, which had claimed 55,740 lives nationwide as of Friday noon, or 55,239 in Sichuan alone as of 7:00 pm Thursday.

Four officials punished for neglecting duties in S-W China

BEIJING, 25 May— Four officials in Dujiangyan of southwest China's Sichuan Province were punished for neglecting their duties during the disaster relief, said Li Chengyun, vice governor of Sichuan, on Friday.

He said that all those officials who failed to observe their duties will be punished.

Three of the officials were removed from their posts, including the former civil affairs official of the city, according to Monday's Guangzhou Daily website.

The details of the fourth official is still unknown.

The provincial government sent 12 supervision teams to the quake-hit areas, and 96 cases involving illegal market activities were uncovered.

Li also vowed to severely punish those who misappropriated rescue tents, which are urgently needed for sheltering five million homeless quake victims.

Social stability is also a major concern for the Sichuan Provincial Government, which has reinforced security guard on banks and department stores. —MNA/Xinhua

Quake-damaged railway reopens to traffic in Sichuan

CHENGDU, 25 May — The whole line of quake-damaged Baoji-Chengdu railway reopened to traffic Saturday after 283 hours of closure, allowing batch transport of disaster relief goods to China's quake-hit Sichuan Province.

No 977 train carrying urgently needed relief goods of tents and medicines passed through the railway's No 109 tunnel at 9:53 am Saturday, where a 40-car freight train derailed and was trapped, paralyzing the railway in the 12 May earthquake.

The railway, linking

Chengdu, provincial capital of Sichuan, with Baoji City in neighbouring Shaanxi Province, is a key north-south route in west China.

Chinese Vice Premier Zhang Dejiang inspected the tunnel's repair work Saturday, and stressed the importance to ensure an unblocked traffic on the artery line in order to guarantee timely arrival of disaster relief supply to the quake zone.

Airbus to announce additional cost cutting measures

PARIS, 25 May — Airbus, a subsidiary of the European Space and Defence Co (EADS), is planning to announce "additional cost cutting measures within the framework of the Power 8 programme" before this summer, the group's Chief Executive Officer (CEO) Louis Gallois has said.

Gallois, who was speaking Friday afternoon during an interview with the La Depeche newspaper, took time to reaffirm his desire to ensure that "the essential activities of Airbus remain in Europe and particularly around the Toulouse region". Defending the yet to be announced "additional measures," the EADS CEO said that "their effect would be felt in 2011 and 2012", and at the same time refuted rumours that tensions were hitting up between the company's management and labour unions. "As regards employment, there is no tension either among us (airbus) or among the employees of our subcontractors because of the increased workload," said Gallois. — MNA/Xinhua

Carter sees superdelegates prompting Clinton to quit

LONDON, 26 May — Former US President Jimmy Carter said on Sunday he expects Democratic superdelegates to reveal their choice for presidential nominee soon after the final primary in June and that Hillary Clinton will then have to quit the race.

In an interview with Sky News, Carter said he did not think Clinton was achieving anything by staying in the fight.

"I think not. But of course she has the perfect right to do so," he said while attending a literary festival in Britain.

"I'm a superdelegate ... I think a lot of the superdelegates will make a decision quite, announced quite rapidly, after the final primary on 3 June," he told Sky News.

"I have not yet announced publicly, but I think at that point it will be time for her to give it up," Carter said. — MNA/Reuters

DRC shuts Belgium embassy following diplomatic spat

KINSHASA, 25 May — The government of the Democratic Republic of Congo (DRC) Saturday recalled its Ambassador to Belgium and closed its diplomatic mission there following an ugly diplomatic spat, the local media has reported.

The move was part of a government response to an assertion by Belgian Foreign Minister Karel De Gucht, who was quoted as saying that his country had a "moral right" over its former colony, according to reliable sources.

Earlier this year, in widely published remarks, President Joseph Kabila had told a Belgian newspaper that Belgium would have to choose what kind of ties it wanted with its former colony. "It will have to decide whether it wants old-style master-servant colonial ties or modern relations based on mutual understanding and respect," said Kabila, accusing the former DR Congo colonial master of having what he described as a "bad attitude".

"The DR. Congo has also decided to close its consulate in Antwerp," the government said in a statement at the end of a Cabinet meeting Friday.

Ecuador records 125 explosions of Tungurahua volcano

QUITO, 26 May — Ecuador recorded 125 moderate explosions of the Tungurahua volcano in centre of the Andes Sunday, according to the Geophysics Institute (GI) of the National Polytechnic School.

"The volcanic activities continue with a high seismic level, mainly characterized by moderate explosions," the IG reported. There are also 32 earthquakes inside the mountain and continuous shocks for 17 times.

The ash emissions have caused an ash rain in Pillate and Guadalupe near the volcano. At the same time, those emissions have formed 3-kilometres-high clouds. Tungurahua volcano is 5,029 metres high and located about 135 kilometres south from Quito. Japan may end Iraq military mission in 2009

TOKYO, 26 May — Japan may end its supply support mission for US-led forces in Iraq next year, partly because of objections from the powerful opposition, according to media reports on Monday.

Japan has about 210 Air Force personnel in Kuwait, from where they airlift supplies to Baghdad and other parts of Iraq.

It withdrew its ground troops — sent to southern Iraq as a gesture of support to Tokyo's biggest ally, the United States—in 2006.

“Thinking about the state of Parliament, it is extremely difficult to extend” a special law which enabled the country to send troops to Iraq, the Asahi newspaper quoted ruling Liberal Democratic Party (LDP) heavyweight Taku Yamasaki as saying.

Opposition parties have dominated Parliament's Upper House since an election last July, and have taken advantage of their position to block many government policies.

The divided Parliament clashed earlier this year over military activities, when the ruling bloc pushed through a law which enabled a naval mission in support of US-led forces in Afghanistan by passing it twice in the Lower House with a two-thirds majority.

Colombia quake victims huddle in shelters, 11 dead

QUETAME, Colombia, 26 May — Hundreds of Colombians huddled in makeshift shelters on Sunday afraid to go home a day after a 5.6-magnitude earthquake damaged scores of homes and triggered landslides killing at least 11 people.

In the rural town of Quetame, the most seriously hit, families spent the night sheltered on the town's football field or in a public building after the quake knocked out water supplies and damaged or collapsed houses and its church.

“People are still really terrified about a second or third one coming,” Benedicto Enciso said as he sheltered with his companion and two children after their home was damaged. “We're trying to put up a tent for 20 people.”

Colombia's Red Cross said at least 11 people died and 54 were injured, with about 5,000 affected by damaged houses and buildings, President Alvaro Uribe visited the affected area, where landslides blocked a major highway from Bogota to Villavicencio near the epicentre, which was 33 miles (54 kilometres) southeast of the capital, the US Geological Survey said.

Cargo plane breaks in two at Brussels airport

BRUSSELS, 26 May — An American Kalitta Air cargo plane slid off the runway at Brussels's Zaventem airport on Sunday and broke in two but there were no casualties, the fire brigade spokesman said. The Boeing aircraft's five crew all escaped through an inflatable emergency slide, spokesman Francis Boileau said. Four of them had minor injuries.

Boileau did not know if the accident happened during take off or landing, but said that apart from its cargo of cars and equipment, the jet was full of fuel.

He said the plane came to a halt some 200 metres (650 feet) from the runway and only 10 metres (30 feet) from a railway line.

“There was a danger of an explosion just after the accident because it was full of kerosene, about 100 tonnes of it, and there was a big leakage when it broke,” Boileau said.

The fire brigade had secured the leakage within 30 minutes, he said.

“We see from the large tracks on the runway that the pilot tried to stop the aircraft, because he understood he could not bring it up into the air, and he drove it off the runway,” Boileau said.

Hamas does not accept Abbas forces at Rafah crossing

RAMALLAH, 26 May — A Palestinian official on Saturday denied reports that Hamas accepted the deployment of President Mahmoud Abbas' forces on a crossing point between Gaza and Egypt for the reopening of the passage. “We have offered to deploy the Palestinian National Authority's forces on Rafah crossing to implement the 2005 crossings agreement, but actually Hamas doesn't want any presence for the PNA,” said Yasser Abed Rabbo, a Palestinian negotiator.

He added that Rafah crossing can not be opened without the US-brokered protocol which was signed between the PNA, Israel, the European Union and Egypt when Israel left Gaza Strip in 2005.

The EU monitors and the PNA forces withdrew from the crossing in June 2007 when Hamas fought pro-Abbas forces and seized control of Gaza Strip.

By keeping on its grip on Gaza Strip, Hamas “boosts the Israeli pretexts to keep Rafah crossing closed,” Abed Rabbo said, stressing that all the pretexts must be removed to lift the siege on Gaza Strip. — MNA/Xinhua

Tanzania suspends food exports until mid-June

ARUSHA (Tanzania), 25 May— Tanzania has halted food exports at least until mid-June to boost the country's supplies and counterskyrocketing commodity prices, the east African country's Agriculture Minister said on Friday.

Tanzania and many other developing nations are grappling with a worldwide hike in commodity and fuel prices that have triggered riots and protests in several countries.

The nation of 40 million people has joined other food-growing countries which have imposed export curbs because of worries about domestic shortages.

"We face a crisis if we allow further food exports," Agriculture Minister Stephen Wassira was quoted by the state-run Daily News newspaper.

"The aim is to maintain food security. Even major food exporters have suspended exportation of food due to the global shortages. Why not us?"

Tanzania suspended maize exports and waived import duty on the cereal earlier this year to help buy 300,000 tons of maize. But Wassira lamented the slow pace at which the country had imported the grain.

"Due to biting global shortages and subsequent rising prices, the traders have managed to import only 8,070 tons of maize so far ... that is between January and now," he said.

Ghana plans tax cuts, subsidies to curb food prices

ACCRA, 25 May—Ghana's president announced a raft of tax breaks and subsidies late on Thursday to help its people cope with surging fuel and food prices which have provoked riots in neighbouring countries in poor West Africa.

In a televised address to the nation, President John Kufuor outlined plans to reduce taxes on some fuels and key grain imports, increase electricity subsidies and reduce operating costs for fishermen and farmers.

The measures require parliamentary approval. "In many parts of the world, including some neighbouring countries in our sub-region, these harsh trends have led to dislocation of economies, rioting and strikes," he said.

Thousands march against S Africa xenophobic attacks

JOHANNESBURG, 26 May—Thousands of people marched through South Africa's biggest city on Saturday, calling for an end to xenophobic violence that has killed over 40 African migrants and displaced tens of thousands. Thousands of people, carrying placards saying "Xenophobia hurts like apartheid", and "We stand against xenophobia" brought traffic to a standstill in Johannesburg's business district.

People in the Hillbrow flatland district, home to many African immigrants, cheered the march, organized by church organizations and labour unions. Police said townships around Johannesburg were quiet but shops were looted and burnt outside Cape Town late on Friday.

The South African

Government has been criticized for its slow reaction to the violence, the worst since apartheid ended 14 years ago, and for not adequately addressing poverty widely blamed for the bloodshed.

The conflict started in Johannesburg's Alexandra township on 11 May, and has spread to Cape Town and the eastern port city of Durban.

Russia hails China ties, defies Western critics

BEIJING, 25 May — Russian President Dmitry Medvedev on Saturday hailed ties with huge neighbour China as a key factor in global security, and said the sometimes uneasy neighbours were determined to boost co-operation even if it unnerved the West.

Medvedev, sworn in earlier this month, has inherited a country with a booming economy and international ambitions, but locked in disputes with its Western partners, which he implied were suspicious of Moscow's links with China.

His speech came a day after the two jointly condemned US plans to set up Eastern European bases for a missile defence system, although Washington shrugged off the remarks.

Analysts have said that this maiden foreign trip to ex-Soviet Kazakhstan and China was intended to demonstrate that Russia had other allies to counterbalance strained relations with Europe and the United States and will pursue a balanced foreign policy.

"[Chinese President] Hu Jintao and I agreed that Russian-Chinese cooperation has become a major factor of global security, without which important decisions are impossible," he told students at the elite Peking University.

"Discover China" cultural festival kicks off in Italy

ROME, 25 May — The biggest cultural festival China has ever staged in Italy, "Discover China", began in Rome Friday, showcasing China's culture to Italians.

The festival is the largest cultural event between Italy and China since the successful "Year of Italy" in China in 2006. At the opening ceremony, President of Foundation Music for Rome Gianni Borgna expressed deep condolences for the victims of China's recent mega-quake disaster.

As an ancient country currently undergoing massive economic and cultural changes, he said, China has a lot to show to the Italian audience.

The festival will offer the Italian people a chance to know more about China through music, dance and other arts, he said.

Chinese Vice Culture Minister Chen Xiaoguang said that Italy and China are both ancient countries enjoying a long history and a rich culture, cultural exchanges have become an important part of Sino-Italian relations, pushing bilateral relations forward.

The music festival in Rome will show to the Italian audience China's rich art and culture through various performances, opening a window for Italians to know more about China, Chen said.

The festival will last till 8 June, during which Chinese artists will present music, opera, drama, dance, martial arts, cooking, Chinese medicine and exhibitions. —MNA/Xinhua

Jose rules out Blues return

Former boss not planning shock return

Jose Mourinho

LONDON, 25 May — Jose Mourinho has told Sky Sports News he will not be returning to Chelsea as manager.

Chelsea are on the lookout for a new manager after the club decided to axe Mourinho's successor at Grant was sacked following Chelsea's failure to pick up any silverware last season when they lost in the Champions League final, Carling Cup final and finished second in the Premier League.

A host of top names have been linked with the vacant manager's post including Frank Rijkaard, Guus Hiddink, Mark Hughes and Sven Goran Eriksson.

Agent-Sven to Mexico City chief linked with return to international management

Eriksson has also been linked with the Chelsea post vacated by Avram Grant but Padilla is firmly of the opinion that a return to international management is in the offing.

"We already know what the Mexican FA are looking for - we'll accept their terms if they call us again," Padilla told Mexican newspaper La Jornada from Manchester.

"If the Mexican FA decide to take him, he will be their coach and the Mexican national team will be his number one choice.

"It's a contract up to and including the next World Cup, after that we'll see what happens. But for the moment it's a two-year contract."

Padilla rubbished suggestions that Eriksson, who has managed in Italy and Portugal, would have trouble adapting to life in Central America.—Internet

Engelaar impresses in Dutch 3-0 win

ROTTERDAM (Netherlands), 25 May — Netherlands beat Ukraine 3-0 in a Euro 2008 warm up on Saturday with a solid midfield performance from Orlando Engelaar.

Dirk Kuyt opened the scoring with a well-placed header midway through the first half and playmaker Rafael van der Vaart set up Klaas Jan Huntelaar seven minutes before the interval to double the lead. After 63 minutes, Van der Vaart showed his brilliance again when a 50-metre pass set up substitute Ryan Babel to score the third goal with a chip over goalkeeper Vyacheslav Kornezenko seconds after the winger had come on.

"I am satisfied with the result and some phases we played good football, although we have to realise that our opponents are not preparing for a major tournament," coach Marco van Basten told reporters.

In the absence of several key players, Engelaar seized his chance to cement a place in the squad with a good performance as holding midfielder.

Roma beat Inter to retain Italian Cup

ROME, 25 May — Goals by Philippe Mexes and Simone Perrotta gave AS Roma a 2-1 win over Serie A champions Inter Milan in the Italian Cup final on Saturday.

Roma retained the trophy and gained some revenge for missing out on the league title after French defender Mexes glided unmarked into the area to smack a David Pizarro corner into the net in the 35th minute.

Italy midfielder Simone Perrotta scored after a one-two with Montenegro forward Mirko Vucinic to double Roma's lead in the 53rd minute.

Inter's Portuguese midfielder Pele, on as a substitute, pulled a goal back just before the hour with a remarkable shot from 25 metres.

Italian President Giorgio Napolitano handed the trophy to Roma captain Francesco Totti, who was unable to play because of injury.

"We shared this festival with our wonderful fans," Roma coach Luciano Spalletti told a news conference.

"We didn't need this victory to show that we are not much inferior to Inter. I told the lads before the game that they had done a great championship and they had the chance to make it really great."

Ireland sneak 1-1 draw on Trapattoni debut

DUBLIN, 25 May — Ireland snatched a 1-1 draw with Serbia on Saturday in what new coach Giovanni Trapattoni hailed as a good start to rebuild the team which failed to qualify for Euro 2008. Substitute Andy Keogh equalized in the last minute after Serbia substitute Marko Pantelic had put the visiting side ahead 15 minutes from time in the friendly at Croke Park.

Trapattoni, appointed in February, said the team had improved compared to their performance against Brazil in a 1-0 defeat in Dublin in February and it was a good first step ahead of the qualifiers for the 2010 World Cup.

"I am happy because we didn't deserve to lose this match," Trapattoni told a news conference. "We certainly made a step ahead this evening."—MNA/Reuters

Capello wants ambitious England

Three Lions chief in call to players

LONDON, 25 May — England coach Fabio Capello has set his sights on guiding England to the 2010 World Cup final.

Capello, who took over as England manager from Steve McClaren, is confident he can enjoy success with the national side.

The wily Italian believes England need to be ambitious if they want to achieve success and Capello has called on his players to change their mentality.

Capello told The FA's official website: "I think I can take England further than Bobby Robson in 1990, why not? I have always worked to arrive at the top, why should I think differently?

"I have been with Roma, Juventus, Milan, Real Madrid and always wanted to go to the very top. I don't understand why people feel differently. We need to be ambitious."

"We have good material here and have been competitive against every team. My ambition is to arrive at the top. You have to work to change the mentality."

"I believe we can do that but the players must also believe. By September I will have the full picture."

Capello is keen to see build on the success enjoyed by England's club teams, inspiring the players to bring their domestic form into the international stage

"England had two teams in the Champions League final and they are ambitious teams. You have to transmit the same ambitions in the England team," added Capello.
