Grow more teak and hardwood plants for national economic development

Myanmar, being a land where teak naturally grows well, has vast tracts of thriving teak plantations. The wealth of forest resources contributes a lot to the nation's economic development.

The government of Myanmar is systematically conserving aquatic and terrestrial resources. It is protecting the flora and fauna of the nation's natural forests in accordance with its forest law. The Ministry of Forest, in cooperation with related ministries, is establishing watershed forests, natural forests and teak plantations.

To contribute to greening the environment and development of natural forests, plants are being grown along the Bago mountain range. Teak and ironwood plantations are being established in forest reserves and protected forests in Pyu, Ottwin and Yedashe townships in Toungoo District.

Plantations of teak, gum-kino and other kinds of timber are thriving in Paunglin, Mahuya and Kalihtaw forest reserves in Hlegu Township in Yangon Division. Teak saplings were collectively grown in Taikkyi Township in this rainy season.

The work of greening the Bago mountain range and establishing plantations of teak and firewood trees is being done on a wide scale in several townships in Thayawady District. Plantations of various kinds of timber are thriving there.

Teak forests are important for the national economic development as well as for greening the environment. Climatic conditions depend on forests. Therefore, it is necessary to extend the cultivation of various kinds of hardwood trees, including teak and ironwood, to ensure regular climatic conditions and national economic development.

US-Colombia deal could fuel arms purchases

BARILOCHE, 28 Aug-Venezuela's Hugo Chavez has raised the stakes for Friday's meeting of South American presidents by threatening to break relations with Colombia over plans to give US troops a 10-year lease on its bases.

Chavez says the US has loosed "winds of war" on the continent — a position few diplomats share following tours by

US and Colombian officials seeking to calm fears of neighbouring nations. Even so, the bases deal has created uncertainty about regional stability and provided yet another justification for nations to spend big on their militaries.

Venezuela has poured about $4 billion into Russian weapons to counter the threat Chavez sees from the billions in US military aid to Colombia. Ecuador is buying 24 Brazilian warplanes and six Israeli drones to keep a closer watch on its borders. Bolivia has opened a $100 million line of credit with Russia to buy weapons.

Tests raise life extension hopes

A drug discovered in the soil of a South Pacific island may help to fight the ageing process, research suggests. When US scientists treated old mice with rapamycin it extended their expected lifespan by up to 38%.

The findings, published in the journal Nature, raise the prospect of being able to slow down the ageing process in older people.

However, a UK expert warned against using the drug to try to extend lifespan, as it can suppress immunity.

We believe this is the first convincing evidence that the ageing process can be slowed and lifespan can be extended by a drug therapy starting at an advanced age.

Cold storages in Myeik contributing to main business of Taninthayi Division

It has been my knowledge for long that fishing is the primary source of income of Taninthayi Division. But only on my six-day tour of the division in the early July, could I embrace the unique opportunity to visit the cold storages in Pahtet Island and Inlay Myaing Industrial Zone in Myeik.

On the morning of 11 July, we left Hseiknge jetty in Myeik by motorboat for Pahtet Island on the other bank of Myeik.

Myanmar's waters is a rich source of various species of fish and prawns in abundance, as evidenced by a large number of species of fish, many of which I had never seen. We observed the processing and packing of fish, prawns, cuttlefish, and soft crab for exporting.

Before entering the cold storage, we had to put on full dress, hats, surgical masks and jungle boots and wade in the water added with pesticide liquid as part of the power store, power supply room and compressor room, and observed the cleaning of dried fish and prawn and the process of production of dried prawn.

We later dropped in the Basic Education Middle School (branch) in Pahtet village in Kyunsu Township. We learnt that the company built and handed it over to the Ministry of Education.

West Nile virus mosquito found in Switzerland

ZURICH, 28 Aug—A mosquito capable of spreading the deadly West Nile virus to humans has been detected in central Europe for the first time, Swiss scientists said Friday. The Asian rock pool mosquito—or aedes japonicus—has colonized an area of 1,400 square kilometers (540 square miles) in central Switzerland, Zurich University researchers said. They found the species in 122 of 3,500 locations tested over the past year.

"This is the first time we have proved that an invasive mosquito species is breeding and spreading in central Europe," said parasite expert Alexander Mathis.

The Asian rock pool mosquito is native to Japan, Korea and China, but has also spread to North America. In western Europe, it has previously been detected in France and Belgium. The US Centers for Disease Control says lab experiments show the mosquito can transmit Japanese encephalitis and West Nile virus.

Both diseases can cause serious harm in humans and are potentially fatal. In the United States, West Nile virus infected more than 1,300 people and killed 44 last year.

Teetotallers suffer more than heavy drinkers

London , 28 Aug-People who spurn alcohol tend to be miserable social misfits, research suggests.

Teetotallers had significantly higher levels of depression and anxiety than moderate drinkers, a study found. They were also likely to lack social skills, it was claimed.

Abstainers suffered even more mental problems than the heaviest drinkers who consumed too much alcohol. The happiest folk were those who averaged two glasses of wine, a bottle of beer, or a shot of spirits a week, the British and Norwegian scientists discovered.One reason why non-drinkers were more gloomy could be that they have few friends, the study, which questioned almost 40,000 Norwegians, suggests in the journal 'Addiction'. Internet

Laughing gas biggest threat to ozone layer

DUBLIN, 28 Aug—Nitrous oxide or 'laughing gas' has become the main man-made substance damaging the planet's protective ozone layer and is likely to remain so throughout the century, scientists said.

The study, by the US National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, said tighter limits on emissions of nitrous oxide, which is also a powerful greenhouse gas, would be a "win-win for both ozone and the climate". "Nitrous oxide emission currently is the single most important ozone-depleting substance emission and is expected to remain the largest throughout the 21st century," the scientists wrote in yesterday's edition of the journal 'Science'.

Nitrous oxide has overtaken chlorofluorocarbons (CFCs) as the main ozone threat. About 10 million tonnes of nitrous oxide a year - a third of world emissions come from human activities including fertilisers, fossil fuels, livestock manure and industry. Laughing gas is perhaps best known as an anaesthetic. --Internet

Spanish treble into the group stage of the Europa League

MADRID, 28 Aug-A 56th minute penalty scored by midfielder Javi Martinez helped Athletic Club Bilbao to a 1-1 draw away to Norwegian side Tromsoe and assured the Primera Liga club's place in the group stage of the Europa League.

The 1-1 draw was enough for Athletic to take advantage of the 3-2 win from the home leg in the San Mames Stadium a week ago and means that Spain has three representatives in the Europa League. Meanwhile Valencia and Villarreal enjoyed comfortable nights, thanks to the easy wins they had taken in the first leg tie of their respective qualifying rounds.

Villarreal had won 3-1 against Dutch side NAC Breda and the side coached by Ernest Valverde had few problems against a demoralized rival and was leading 3-0 after just 37 minutes. Santi Cazorla and two Guiseppi Rossi penalties sealed the tie in the first half, while Jonathan Pereira, Marcos Senna and Kiko rounded the win off in the second half and ensured a 9-2 aggregate win.—Xinhua

Bundesliga clubs reach Europa League group stages

BERLIN, 28 Aug - Bundesliga clubs Bremen, Hamburg and Berlin all reached the group stages of the UEFA Europa League on Thursday. While Hamburg and Bremen secured comfortable wins, Berlin needed to rely on a fantastic effort by Gojko Kacar and three goals in the final 15 minutes. With a 6-3 result against FK Aktobe from the first leg, Werder Bremen traveled to Kazakhstan in order to seal the deal of reaching the Europa League group stages in an easy-going fashion. And so they did, Pizarro netted the opener with just eleven minutes on the clock.

Pizarro's second strike in injury time meant Bremen were taking a comfortable 2-0 lead into half time. The score remained unchanged for the second 45 minutes and Bremen look forward to further international highlights.Just like their northern rivals Bremen, Hamburger SV also took a comfortable lead from the first leg into the second encounter. 5-1 was the final scoreline in Guingamp last week and with a 3-1 home victory they secured a place in the Europa League group stages. — Xinhua

Braz also claimed that CSKA has agreed to make a temporary trade between Love and Obina. "Vagner Love is a very attractive player. However, it is very complicated to bring him here to Flamengo. Palmeiras has the edge due to Obina. We will have to sit and wait to see what develops," declared Braz.

The window to trade players internationally ends on 31 August, creating the necessity for the Brazilian club to act quickly.

Apple denies battery problem with exploding iPhones

PARIS, 28 Aug—US technology giant Apple on Friday rejected reports that overheating batteries had caused some of its iPhone devices to explode in users' hands, blaming incidents in France on "external pressure".

French authorities have opened an investigation into the safety of the cult smartphone, following claims by several users in France and elsewhere that their iPhone screens had shattered in a dangerous manner during use.

"As of today, there has been no confirmed incident linked to battery overheating in the iPhone 3GS, and the number of cases we are investigating amounts to less than a dozen," the firm said in a statement to AFP.

"The iPhones with broken screens that we have been able to analyse so far show, in all cases, that the cracks were caused by an external pressure upon the iPhone," the company added.—Internet
