Industrial development calls for harmonious cooperation

The government is working hard to boost production of industrial items for industrial development with the aim of industrializing the nation.

In that regard, 18 industrial zones have been set up in states and divisions so as to uplift the role of private-owned industries.

The government encourages establishment of factories of import-substitute products, improving the capacities of State-owned heavy industries. The greater scale the industrial zones boost production of quality items, the greater momentum the Myanmar's industrial sector will pick up.

Now, measures are ongoing to improve the position of the private-owned industries in order to meet the economic policies the government has laid down. The government has given entrepreneurs the green light to operate all forms of industries except heavy industries as private-owned or joint-venture ones.

In addition, the government is promoting the education standard of the nation to bring about a growing number of highly-educated people in the industrial sector for greater industrial development. In order to achieve such a prudent plan, it is opening more and more technological universities and government technical institutes across the country and nurturing younger generations. The State's industrial sector will make a better headway if the processes are implemented in a well-organized way.

So, the government, industrialists and researchers should work more closely by all means for industrial development in order that the nation will be able to transform itself into an industrialized one in the near future.

Russia, US begin working on new nuclear arms deal

Moscow, 6 Sept — Russia and the United States have started drafting a new nuclear arms reduction treaty, the Foreign Ministry said on Saturday.

“The sides have started working on specific articles of a future treaty, and agreed that work on them will be carried out by special working groups,” RIA Novosti and Itar-Tass quoted a foreign ministry official as saying.

The two countries concluded their fifth round of talks on an arms reduction treaty in Geneva on 2 Sept. Foreign Ministry spokesman Andrei Nesterenko said on Thursday that another round of talks will be held in Geneva on 21 Sept.

During their last meeting, the negotiators discussed the parameters of a new treaty, formulating wording that the presidents of both countries can agree to, Nesterenko said. President Dmitry Medvedev and US President Barack Obama agreed in July in Moscow on the outlines of a deal to replace the Strategic Arms Reduction Treaty (START 1).

START I, signed in 1991 and due to expire in December, places a limit of 6,000 strategic or long-range nuclear warheads on both countries and allows the inspection of weapons.—Xinhua

Fresh clashes in south Sudan kill 25

JUBA, 6 Sept — Twenty-five people have been killed and several more wounded in clashes in the tense oil-rich Upper Nile region of south Sudan, a military spokesman said on Saturday.

Heavily armed fighters attacked an ethnic Dinka settlement in Bony-Thiang, north of the state capital Malakal, early on Friday, Major General Kuol Diem Kuol, of the southern Sudan People's Liberation Army (SPLA), said.

“They killed 20, including the paramount chief, his two wives and three children, and wounded many more,” Kuol said. “They have burnt down the village and destroyed all the huts, and they have stolen very many cattle.”—Internet

Three killed, 880 people rescued from Philippine ferry

MANILA, 6 Sept — At least three people drowned and more than 800 terrified passengers, many roused from their sleep, were rescued early on Sunday from a ferry that listed and then sank in the southern Philippines, officials said. More than 80 people were missing.

Coast guard chief Admiral Wilfredo Tamayo said 880 of 964 passengers and crewmen on board the Superferry 9 were transferred to two nearby commercial ships and a navy gunboat hours after the ferry began to list off Zamboanga del Norte Province before dawn.

A search was under way for more than 80 people who remained miss-

Macedonia mourns boat accident victims

TIRANA, 6 Sept — Macedonia canceled all public events on Sunday to mourn 15 people who died when a tourist boat sank in a southern Macedonian lake, local media reported.

“I was deeply shaken by the tragic accident in the Ohrid Lake and the death of the Bulgarian citizens. In these difficult moments of national mourning, I would like to extend my deepest condolences to you and your people on behalf of the Macedonian government,” he said. There were 57 people, mostly Bulgarian tourists, on board. Fifteen passengers drowned, while 42, including two crew members, survived the accident.

Earlier reports had put the number of passengers on-board at 73. Police later corrected the number.

The boat, with a capacity of 42, was built in Germany in the 1930s. It was examined and given a license to operate last May.—Internet

Small plane crashes into Okla park, five dead

OKLAHOMA CITY, 6 Sept — A small aircraft plummeted into an Oklahoma park and burst into flames on Saturday after hitting a guide wire from a communications tower, killing all five people on board, investigators said.

The six-passenger plane was on its way to Dallas when it crashed amid heavy fog near a baseball field in Tulsa, said Oklahoma Highway Patrol Lt George Brown.

“The wings came off. The engine came off,” Brown said. “When it hit, it rolled. It did catch fire. It rolled at least a couple of times, ejecting the occupants.”

Brown said the victims, who all died at the scene, were pilot Dr Stephen Lester, 48; his wife Dana, 48; daughters Laura, 16, and Christina, 13; and Dr. Ken Veteto, 50. All were from Tulsa. No one on the ground was injured.—Internet

Nokia strikes back against 'smart' rivals

HELSINKI, 6 Sept—Faced with increased competition from up-and-coming rivals, Finnish telecom giant Nokia plans to launch a slew of new products this year but analysts say it faces a tough battle to hold on to its position as the world's number one mobile phone manufacturer.

To fight back against Apple's iPhone and RIM's BlackBerry, Nokia announced plans to launch three new smartphones with touch screens, a portable notebook PC, and will tie up with Microsoft to use its popular Office software on its handsets.

Industry observers criticised the Finnish giant for its aging product lineup and for not bringing smartphones to market quickly enough to take on their up-and-coming rivals.

Analysts interviewed by AFP agreed that Nokia had not yet found a product to challenge the iPhone as most new Nokia devices use an outdated operating system to drive their phones.

"It is going to be 2011 before they have the right software to make a really competitive product," Richard Windsor, a London-based technology analyst for Nomura Securities, told AFP.

Drought a 'hiccup' in India growth story

NEW DELHI, 6 Sept—India's economy may stumble due to a widespread drought but analysts say it is set to return to strong growth in the medium-term thanks to its huge population and infrastructure spending.

The poor rains are "a near-term hiccup in the evolving rise of the Indian economy," said Rajeev Malik, economist at Australia's Macquarie Securities.

Analysts are betting demand generated by India's population of nearly 1.2 billion people and the need to modernise its dilapidated airports, roads, ports and other infrastructure will keep Asia's third-largest economy humming.

"Like China, India has ample long-term growth potential, especially with its large population and vast underdeveloped areas," said Sherman Chan, economist at Moody's Economy.com.

BEIJING, 6 Sept—The Canadian economy is showing signs of perking up after recording its first growth in 11 months in June.

But analysts believe that recovery from the recession in Canada will be slow and fragile with many obstacles looming in the way of economic health.

Statistics Canada on Monday reported an increase in Canada's gross domestic product of 0.1 percent in June, the first gain in 11 months. The GDP shrank an annualized 3.4 percent in the second quarter, the least of three consecutive declines, with cumulative output down by a record rate since the fourth quarter of 2008. US astronauts finish maintenance of space station

WASHINGTON, 5 Sept—Two US astronauts conducted a third and final space walk for shuttle Discovery's STS-128 mission on Saturday and finished outfitting and maintenance of International Space Station modules, NASA said.

According to NASA, Discovery's mission specialists Danny Olivas and Christer Fuglesang began the space walk at 4:39 pm EDT (2039 GMT), which lasted over seven hours.

The duo deployed a payload attachment system on the starboard truss and replaced a failed rate gyro assembly, which measures rates for any

Wildfire burning deep in Angeles National Forest

LOS ANGELES, 5 Sept—Although its western edge under control, the wildfire in Northern Los Angeles was burning deep in the Angeles National Forest on Saturday, fire commanders said.

As it was moving eastward into wilderness, the arson-caused fire has grown to be the biggest in the Los Angeles County history, the US Forest Service (USFS) said. Since its ignition on 26 Aug, the Station fire has destroyed 76 homes, mostly cabins; denuded some 241 square miles (about 386 square kilometers) of forest land; led to the deaths of two firefighters and cost 37 million dollars to fight so far.

The USFS listed 7,000 homes as still being in harm's way. The risk to homes was significantly reduced as hand crews held the fire line to the north, south and west, said USFS spokeswoman Michelle Caldwell. A massive airborne firefighting effort helped save Mount Wilson, a site for a historic observatory and a number of TV and broadcasting transmitting stations, the USFS said.—Xinhua

Green technology may spark new US-China trade boom

WASHINGTON, 6 Sept — Many experts foresee a green trade boom between the United States and China due to their enormous energy demand, but when that will come and how large it will be remain unclear.

Energy experts differ so widely in their opinions on the issue that those who look forward to a boom consider its potential “huge.” Others, however, are more cautious in their outlook. “It’s going to be huge because it has to be huge...there is no choice but for the sector to become enormous,” said Julian L Wong, a senior policy analyst at the Center for American Progress.

Wong cited the International Energy Agency’s forecast that 26 trillion US dollars will be needed by 2030 to meet global energy demands.

With both China and the United States planning cuts in carbon emissions, the two — the world’s largest energy consumers — can play leading roles in developing renewable energy equipment and technologies, experts say.—Xinhua

India’s budget airlines leave rivals in vapour stream

MUMBAI, 6 Sept — India’s low-cost airlines are set to go from strength to strength as they grab market share from ailing premier carriers such as Air India, whose debts and losses continue to pile up, experts say.

Big airlines such as Jet Airways, Kingfisher and Air India are being hit by falling revenues due to tough economic conditions and high air fuel taxes.

The smaller, “no-frills” carriers such as Spicejet or Indigo, set up to open up the skies to the country’s burgeoning middle classes, have dealt better with the turbulent business conditions of the last year, analysts say.

At least seven budget airlines fly across India’s skies, with a 40-percent market share.

“By December-end, we estimate this to rise to 70 percent,” said Kapil Kaul, South Asia chief executive of the Centre for Asia Pacific Aviation (CAPA) consultancy.—Internet

Nightclub an unlikely school neighbour

RALEIGH, 6 Sept — A mother in Raleigh, NC, says she is concerned her daughter’s middle school is now neighbours with the Ugly Monkey Party Bar.

Nancy Locklin, whose daughter attends Exploris Middle School, said she is particularly concerned the downtown club’s name may draw the attention of students at the charter school, The (Raleigh) News & Observer reported on Friday.

“I don’t think my daughter would pay attention to a bar usually, but when it has a name on there that says party it’s just kind of interesting,” she said. “I’d hate for them to wish that they were old enough to go.”

Principal Kevin Piacenza said the school’s new location is the result of an attempt to keep the site downtown where there is a shortage of available space. The school relocated when it lost its former home in a property ownership merger.

The News & Observer said one point that may calm parents’ concerns with the Ugly Monkey is that the nightclub is not open during school hours.—Internet

A two-headed cobra snake has been born in China.

Twice the snake

Liu, a rail worker who breeds snakes as a hobby, said he was amazed when he first saw the reptile.

He had bought 10 snake eggs to hatch at his home in Jiujiang, eastern China’s Jiangxi Province, reports Dajiang Network.

“When the cobras hatched out, one of them had two heads,” said Liu.

He said the cobra was able to eat using both of its mouths simultaneously. Its four eyes were cloudy — but he expected that to change when the snake sheds its skin for the first time.

A spokesman for the local wild animal protection centre said the two-headed snake was most likely the result of genetic mutation.

Kokang Region remains peaceful and prosperous

Maung Nwe Sit

Kokang group of Shan State (North) Special Region is the first of its kind in returning to the legal fold. It returned to the legal fold in March 1989 and opened its headquarters in Laukkai. Since then it has been joining hands with the government in the tasks for regional development. Kokang Region has enjoyed peace and progress at the unprecedented level for a couple of decades, as a result. However, it was in August 2009 when the region saw an incident that had a strong negative impact on the peaceful life of local people.

As said in the news media, leaders of Kokang Special Region (1) U Phon Kya Shin, U Phon Kya Phu, U Phon Tar Shwin and U Phon Tarli breached the peace agreement and violated the law, and caused an undesirable problem, thus dragging the name of local people through the mire.

The issue rocked the region to some extent. Nonetheless, all the terrible problems went away and the region rose from the nightmare some time later.

Neo-colonialists, cohorts and certain western radio stations that resort to all possible ways and means to trouble Myanmar took full advantage of the incident by exaggerating the news with wild speculation. They drove a wedge between national races. However, the serious blow they dealt to the nation did not work at all because the inhabitants of Kokang Region by nature lead a stable, peaceful life with prosperous business.

Here, I would like to make some clarification to the historical backgrounds of Phon Kya Shin, Phon Kya Phu and Kokang Region. The Burma Communist Party (BCP) led by Thakin Than Tun that wanted to come to power through an armed struggle line went underground on 28 March 1948. At first, the BCP with some strength could occupy many towns and villages. However, it was reduced to a status in which its members stayed hiding in mountainous regions due to opposition of the public and the attacks launched by the Tatmadaw.

In the end, BCP troops with their bases deep in the Bago Yoma mountain ranges in Central Myanmar succumbed to the military operations jointly conducted by the people and the Tatmadaw, leading to the falls of Thakin Than Tun, Thakin Zin, Thakin Chit and Bo Zeya and devastation of the headquarters. The remnant BCP troops fled to the borders in the northeast part of Myanmar in 1970, and they established their Northeast BCP Headquarters. They lived on smuggling of precious stones and opium in border areas. Then, they started to organize local people for military purpose. Phon Kya Shin and some 170 troops active in Kokang Region fled to the neighbouring country due to the attacks of the Tatmadaw in 1967. The BCP troops in the neighbouring country politically mobilized Phon Kya Shin and members, providing them with funds and arms.

Ba Thein Tin, who became BCP Chairman in border areas following the assassination of Thakin Than Tun, mobilized national race armed groups.

They successfully organized leader Naw Hsai of Kachin insurgents, leader Phon Kya Shin of Kokang insurgents and national race armed groups, and the neighbouring country no longer accepted them. So, they reentered Myanmar and settled down in the north-east part of the nation. They were no longer aided by foreign countries, so they turned to smuggling of gems and narcotic drugs to raise their funds. The majority of the leaders became rich through such businesses.

Whenever BCP members had to launch attacks, they did not spare even minors of national races, but they dominated all the leading posts. So, national races became their slaves and broke away from the BCP in March 1989.

After taking up the State's duties in 1988, the Tatmadaw spent huge sums of funds and human resources on the projects for peace and progress of border areas. So, border areas developed leaps and bounds. Seventeen national race armed groups that abhorred the BCP and realized the benevolent attitude of the government returned to the legal fold and made peace. Then, they got involved in regional development undertakings. Kokang Region made peace earlier than any other armed group.

The mouthpieces of western neo-colonialists, allergic to peace and development of the whole Union resulting from armed groups' returning to the legal fold, aired that the national race armed groups, that had entered the legal fold, would continue their armed revolt against the government in a few months. However, peace groups threw themselves to the tasks for peace and development of their races, sustainable peace and development of the Union. They did not want to relapse in the armed insurgency through which they troubled the country and the national race of their own. Then, pessimists applied a different tactic, saying that the national race armed groups that had made peace were making money through narcotic drugs.

In practice, Mongla Region in Shan State (North) announced itself to be a narcotic drugs (poppy) free region in April 1997. Then, Wa, Kokang and Kachin peace regions tried to become poppy-free regions. Kokang Region saw buckwheat farms in place of poppy fields first.

The 17 major armed groups and over 20 small armed groups that had made peace took part in democratic processes ranging from drawing the State constitution at the National Convention to approving it. Now, they are working hard in concert for stability and development of the nation. But, Kokang Special Region (1) has seen four black sheeps who do not quit BCP-like habits and the practice of poppy growing for their wealth.

The 17 major armed groups and over 20 small armed groups that had made peace took part in democratic processes ranging from drawing the State constitution at the National Convention to approving it. Now, they are working hard in concert for stability and development of the nation.

They are U Phon Kya Shin, U Phon Kya Phu, U Phon Ta Shwin and U Phon Tarli. They came to engage in narcotics smuggling again, sidelining the interests of their own people. What's more, they committed an act that could harm the State as well as the region by violating the law. U Phon Kya Shin and his accomplices built an illegal arms factory in Yanlonkyaing Village in Laukkai and sold arms and ammunition. These amounted to encouraging transnational crimes and terrorist acts. Businesses of narcotic drug and arms smuggling are only being done by Mafia gangs from the western world. They are unacceptable and unforgivable. Destruction of peace and stability is a big crime committed against the people.

In connection with the case of the arms factory, Police Lt-Col Yin Htay of the Criminal Investigation Department filed a lawsuit at Lashio Police Station (1) on 18 August, 2009. Responsible persons Special Region-1 Chairman U Phon Kya Shin, Vice-Chairman U Phon Kya Phyu, Vice-Chairman U Phon Ta Shwin and U Phon Tarli were summoned to deal with the issue. But they did not turn up.

While fleeing Kokang region without trying to address the issue, U Phon Kya Shin and his accomplices took police force members from Yanlonkyaing border checkpoint at Myanmar-China border as hostages. Security force members tried to negotiate with U Phon Kya Shin's group to rescue the hostages. However, they did not accept and started firing inflicting casualties so the security troops had to open fire on them. We saw the news about their attacks on TV. Police force members were brutally killed.

After the attack, 11 Tatmadaw members fell and 34 wounded and 15 MPF members fell and 13 others wounded. From the side of Phon Kya Shin, eight dead bodies and 640 small and heavy weapons were seized. A battle by nature causes casualties from both sides. Nonetheless, U Phon Kya Shin's group committed treason against the State and brutally killed 15 of the captured police force members. They committed the massacre. They violated the terms of the agreement reached at the time of making peace with the State.

Many of the local people from Kokang region fled to China. But they have now returned to Laukkai.

Kokang Region Provisional Leading Committee of Shan State (North) Special Region (1) is maintaining regional peace and stability and protecting the local people in cooperation with the State. As a result, the region has returned to normal. The leading committee has urged the group of U Phon Kya Shin to address the issue in accord with the law and invited those who fled with U Phon Kya Shin to come and cooperate with the committee as they had nothing to do with the case. I have noticed that the persons acting as reporters for BBC, VOA, RFA and DVB to broadcast slanderous news about Myanmar by encouraging the rapacious acts of U Phon Kya Shin and his accomplices from the border region are Po Than Gyoung and Aung Kyaw Zaw, BCP communist remnants. Oh dear! leftists with extreme views become rightists.

Anyhow...

Kokang Special Region (1) has returned to normalcy with prevalence of peace and stability.

Nucleic Acid Testing introduced

YANGON, 6 Sept—Myanmar Molecular & Diagnostic Centre (MMDC) yesterday introduced the Nucleic Acid Testing (NAT) through the Real Time PCR technology for those wishing to work and attend schools abroad and for those wishing to receive the blood transfusion.

In the past, the Serology Tests were conducted for Hepatitis B and C and HIV. Now, DNA/RNA can be directly tested in blood by applying Real Time PCR technology to reduce the window period of the patients.

Anti-HCV antibody of Hepatitis C of the patient can be examined through NAT after having infected during a week. NAT can also be applied to conduct the test on the patient for infection of HIV after the victim had been infected within a week.

NAT is the best for reducing the window period from 20 to 25 days.

MMDC is giving molecular diagnosis services to the patients thrice a week with the use of Real Time PCR machines and CE marked Reagents imported from Qiagen Co of Germany. For more information, dial 01-374676 and 02-72985.

Epic gala for China's National Day celebration to debut in late Sept

BEIJING, 6 Sept— Being part of the performances marking the 60th founding anniversary of New China, an epic gala entitled "Road of Rejuvenation" will debut on 23 Sept in the Great Hall of the People in Beijing. The gala follows the grand drama "East Is Red" that celebrated the 15th anniversary of the founding of the People's Republic of China, and "Road of Chinese Revolution" that celebrated the 35th anniversary.

The event was directed by internationally acclaimed choreographer Zhang Jigang, who co-directed the opening ceremony of the Beijing 2008 Olympic Games together with Zhang Yimou in last summer.

In about 2.5 hours, some 3,200 performers will gather in the capital for a recapturing of China's contemporary and modern history since 1840. The performance will last till 5 Oct. China Central Television (CCTV) reported on Friday that the interior of the Great Hall of the People was temporarily adjusted just for the performance, which was rare in the hall's history.

Militants attack international troops in N Afghanistan

KABUL, 6 Sept — Taliban inlitions attacked a patrol team of NATO-led forces in Balkh Province north of Afghanistan early Sunday but caused no damage, a local official said. "The militants fired rocket propelled grenade on a patrol team in the wee hours of Sunday in Sholgara district, causing no loss of life," Syed Kamal the governor of Sholgara district told Xinhua. He also said that the forces came under attack were from Sweden that has some 300 troops deployed in Afghanistan. Meantime, Zabihullah Mujahid who claims to speak for Taliban outfit in talks with media via telephone from undisclosed location said the militants had inflicted casualties on the troops.

However, Syed Kamal utterly rejected the Taliban claim, saying there were no casualties on the troops. Taliban militants have shifted their activities from their traditional base in the south to the relatively peaceful northern region. Two-year-old, three others dead in La domestic incident

HOLDEN, 6 Sept — A man shot his estranged wife and son to death inside a home on late Sunday, then killed himself in his car when deputies tried to pull him over, authorities said. His 2-year-old grandson also died, possibly while trying to escape out a second-story window, and his pregnant daughter-in-law was shot and critically injured, said Livingston Parish Sheriff's Office Chief of Operations Perry Rushing.

Rushing said the shootings appeared to stem from an ongoing dispute between the 50-year-old man and his wife, who had a restraining order against him. Police were called to the home in Holden, about 70 miles northwest of New Orleans, around 10:30 pm on Saturday. They found the man's 49-year-old wife and 26-year-old son dead inside and the 2-year-old dead outside. Rushing said it wasn't clear whether the boy was shot or died from falling out the window as his mother tried to escape with him.—Internet

Workers find Bay Bridge crack; Shutdown could last

SAN FRANCISCO, 6 Sept — Crews working on a seismic retrofit of the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge on Saturday found what authorities called a “significant crack” in the eastern span that could keep the California landmark closed beyond a planned holiday weekend shutdown. During an inspection, workers discovered a problem with a steel link that helps hold up the bridge’s eastern portion, senior bridge engineer Ken Brown told the San Francisco Chronicle. The link — part of a network of eight similar pieces — is about two inches thick and was cracked halfway through. “The crack is significant enough to have closed the bridge on its own,” Caltrans spokesman Bart Ney said at a news conference on Saturday night. “We have to make this repair before we reopen the bridge.” Ney added “it’s very possible that this could prevent us from opening Tuesday morning,” when the work week resumes and the bridge had been set to reopen.

46 new A/H1N1 flu cases confirmed in Europe

STOCKHOLM, 6 Sept—A European health agency said on Saturday that 46 new A/H1N1 flu cases were confirmed in European countries within the last 24 hours.

The news cases were reported from two countries, 24 from Luxembourg and the rest from Switzerland, the European Center for Disease Prevention and Control (ECDC) said in its daily situation report.

The cumulative number of confirmed cases of the A/H1N1 flu virus in the EU (European Union) and EFTA (European Free Trade Association) countries increased to 48,269, with 16,835 cases in Germany, 13,192 in Britain, 2,624 in Portugal, 2058 in Italy and 1,839 in Greece, the ECDC said.

The ECDC publishes a daily situation report about the H1N1 flu cases in the EU and EFTA countries based on official information from these countries.

Obama agrees to release White House visitor log

WASHINGTON, 6 Sept—US President Barack Obama has agreed to release the names of visitors to the White House, said the government on Friday.

“We will achieve our goal of making this administration the most open and transparent administration in history, not only by opening the doors of the White House to more Americans, but by shining a light on the business conducted inside,” Obama said in a statement. “Americans have a right to know whose voices are being heard in the policymaking process.”

According to the president, every visitor would be released no matter he comes to the White House for “an appointment, a tour, or to conduct business”. However, visitors who come to attend meeting of sensitivity will not included, such as possible nominees for key posts and some officials concerning national security affairs.

Macao’s A/H1N1 confirmed cases climb to 1,189

MACAO, 6 Sept—Macao reported 60 newly confirmed cases of Influenza A/H1N1 on Saturday, bringing the cumulative number of such cases to 1,189 so far.

The newly confirmed cases comprised 36 female patients and 24 male patients whose ages ranged from two to 66, Macao’s Health Bureau said.

Statistics from the Bureau showed that some 12 patients who tested positive for the A/H1N1 virus were still receiving medical treatments at local hospitals, but their health conditions remained stable.

T rex for sale: Dinosaur fossil on block in Vegas

LAS VEGAS, 6 Sept—Museums and high-rolling natural history buffs will get a crack at buying a fossilized Tyrannosaurus rex next month at a Las Vegas Strip auction. Experts say the 170 bones discovered about 17 years ago in South Dakota represent more than half the skeleton of a 40-foot-long, 7.5 ton dinosaur that lived 66 million years ago.

Auctioneer Bonhams & Butterfields is hoping that bids for the T rex dubbed “Samson” will top $6 million when it is sold on 3 Oct at the Venetian hotel-casino in Las Vegas. A similar T rex fossil sold in 1997 for $8.3 million and is now housed at the Field Museum in Chicago. That dinosaur, named “Sue,” is 42 feet long and has more than 200 fossilized bones.

Tom Lindgren, a natural history specialist for Bonhams & Butterfields, said “Samson” is the third most complete T rex skeleton ever discovered, and one of only 42 specimens discovered in the last 100 years with more than 10 percent of the bones. “This represents the pinnacle of paleontology,” Lindgren told The Associated Press on Friday.

High fives as Spain crush Belgium to near World Cup

MADRID, 6 Sept—European champions Spain moved to within touching distance of the World Cup finals after coasting to a 5-0 win over Belgium in La Coruna on Saturday. Valencia duo

David Silva and David Villa both scored twice with Barcelona defender Gerard Pique also on target in the five-goal romp and the scoreline should have been more emphatic.

The double from Villa, who also missed a penalty, raises his international goals tally to 33 in just 51 games as he closes in on the national record of 44 held by Real Madrid striker Raul. Spain have a flawless seven wins at the top of Group 5, six points ahead of second-placed Bosnia Herzegovina who won 2-0 at Armenia. If Spain beat Estonia in Merida on Wednesday and Bosnia fail to beat Turkey they will qualify for the World Cup finals with two games to spare.—Internet

Villa and Silva double as Spain crush Belgium 5-0 in World Cup qualifying

MADRID, 6 Sept—Valencia pair David Silva and David Villa scored twice apiece to lead Spain to a 5-0 rout of Belgium in a World Cup qualifier on Saturday. Silva opened the scoring with the first just before the break and the reigning European champions hit even better form in the second half.

Villa, who had missed a first-half penalty, and Gerard Pique netted within a minute before Silva and Villa were on target again as Spain cruised to the stylish victory. Vicente del Bosque's side maintained their 100 percent record to lead Group Five by six points from second-placed Bosnia, who beat Armenia 2-0 earlier in the day. Belgium is fourth, 14 points off the pace. — Xinhua

Ibrahimovic's late strike gives Sweden 2-1 win over Hungarian in World Cup qualifier

BUDAPEST, 6 Sept—Barcelona striker Zlatan Ibrahimovic scored in injury time to help Sweden defeat Hungary 2-1 in a World Cup qualifier here on Saturday.

Just as the match looked to end in a 1-1 draw, Ibrahimovic led a Swedish counterattack in the third minute of extra-time. Hungarian goalkeeper Gabor Babos's attempted clearance from the edge of the box bounced off Ibrahimovic and rolled into the Hungarian goal. Hungary coach Erwin Koeman said losing to a last minute goal was hard to take. After seven games, Hungary has 13 points and Sweden 12 in Group 1. Hungary will host Portugal on Wednesday, when Sweden faces Malta.—Xinhua

Rooney accused of diving by angry Slovenia

LONDON, 6 Sept—Wayne Rooney found himself embroiled in a diving controversy after the England striker's tumble earned a controversial penalty in his side's 2-1 friendly victory over Slovenia. Just days after insisting he would never dive, Rooney was accused by Slovenia players of going to ground too easily following Bostjan Cesar's tug on his shirt in the first half at Wembley on Saturday.

Cesar clearly pulled Rooney's shirt briefly, but the contact didn't seem strong enough to warrant the fall from the Manchester United star, who was also tugging on his opponent's jersey. Slovenia also complained that Rooney had fouled Cesar in the same incident, leaving the defender with an ankle injury that will keep him out of a World Cup qualifier against Poland in midweek.—Internet

French hopes of automatic qualification in balance

PARIS, 6 Sept—Former champions France's hopes of making the 2010 World Cup finals suffered another blow here on Saturday when the 1998 winners were held to a 1-1 draw by Romania in their Group Seven qualifier.

France, who travel to a must-win qualifier with group leaders Serbia, who they trail by four points on Wednesday, took the lead through veteran captain Thierry Henry early in the second-half only for Julien Escude to put through his own net a few minutes later. France's controversial coach Raymond Domenech conceded that it had been a tough evening.

Top seed Safina ousted in US Open Third round

NEW YORK, 6 Sept—Little-known Czech Petra Kvitova pulled off the biggest upset in this year's US Open on Saturday as she outclassed world number one Dinara Safina 6-4 2-6 7-6 in the third round.

Kvitova, ranked 72nd in the world, will play Belgium's Yanina Wickmayer for a spot in the quarterfinals. Safina's defeat marked the first time this year she failed to reach at least the semifinals of a grand slam tournament. —Xinhua

Oudin, Isner stun past champions at US Open

Melanie Oudin of the United States celebrates her upset victory over Maria Sharapova of Russia during the third round of the US Open tennis tournament in New York.—INTERNET

NEW YORK, 6 Sept—Melanie Oudin's face was flushed from a mix of exertion and excitement and maybe even a bit of bewilderment — “Yes, I DID beat Maria Sharapova!” running through her mind — when she stepped out of the US Open locker room and saw Mom.

The pair embraced, kissed each other on the cheek, and Leslie Oudin told her 17-year-old daughter: “I'm very proud of you.” Then they hugged some more, holding tight.

Melanie Oudin is still very much a kid from Marietta, Ga, enjoying the trip of her life in the Big Apple, playing foosball in the players' lounge and using words like “amazing” and “cool” as she works her dizzying way through the draw at Flushing Meadows. Oudin's latest win was the biggest so far: She knocked off three-time Grand Slam champion and former No. 1 Sharapova 3-6, 6-4, 7-5 Saturday to reach the US Open's fourth round.—Internet

Brilliant Brazil reach World Cup finals

Argentine coach Diego Maradona (centre) looks on as Brazil's players celebrate their third goal against Argentina during their FIFA World Cup South Africa-2010 qualifier match at the Gigante de Arroyito stadium in Rosario, Santa Fe, Argentina, on 5 September.

INTERNET

ROSARIO, 6 Sept—Five-time champions Brazil, inspired by Real Madrid superstar Kaka, qualified for the World Cup finals thanks to a 3-1 win over bitter rivals Argentina. The result maintained Brazil's proud record of never having missed a World Cup. It also piled more pressure onto Argentina coach Diego Maradona whose team are clinging onto the fourth and final automatic qualifying spot from the South American zone. In a first-half played at a breathless pace, the tackles came thundering in and it was hardly surprising that Brazil's two opening goals were the product of set pieces.

Indoor plants found to release volatile organic compounds

SCIENCE DAILY, 6 Sept—Potted plants add a certain aesthetic value to homes and offices, bringing a touch of nature to indoor spaces. It has also been shown that many common house plants have the ability to remove volatile organic compounds—gases or vapours emitted by solids and liquids that may have adverse short- and long-term health effects on humans and animals—from indoor air.

But take heed when considering adding some green to your environment; in addition to giving off healthy oxygen and sucking out harmful VOCs, a new study shows that some indoor plants actually release volatile organic compounds into the environment. A research team headed by Stanley J. Kays of the University of Georgia's Department of Horticulture conducted a study to identify and measure the amounts of volatile organic compounds (VOCs) emitted by four popular indoor potted plant species.—Internet

Ficus benjamina, a popular houseplant, was found to emit VOCs.
