For reducing edible oil consumption

EDIBLE oil crops are involved on the list of primary export items of Myanmar. As individual people of Myanmar consumes 4.5 visses of edible oil per year, its consumption rate is too high. Import of edible oil abroad spends much foreign exchange because edible oil cannot be produced at home sufficiently. As it is necessary to ensure edible oil sufficiency at home, efforts must be made for thriving edible oil crop plantations in the respective areas so as to increase the per-acre yield of edible oil crops. The Ministry of Health and Sports and the Ministry of Information must continuously perform the educative tasks for reducing edible oil consumption.

State Administration Council Press Release

Re-invitation to Myanmar citizens who reside in various regions for many reasons

1. Some student youths, State service personnel and citizens, with worries, have evaded to areas of EAOs and foreign countries due to the incitements and intimidation of NLD members, extremist followers, unlawful associations and terrorist groups such as CRPH and NUG, stimulation of CDM, and persons and organizations at home and abroad not wishing to restore peace and stability of the State since Tatmadaw assumed the State responsibilities on 1 February 2021.
2. They are further worried about the dictatorship statement and speeches of unlawful association and terrorist group CRPH and NUG, and some relevant persons. As they face no security guarantee and difficulties in socio-economic life in those areas, they wish to return to their native lands.
3. The State Administration Council will specifically ease restrictions for service personnel, intellectuals and intelligentsia, and persons from various arenas and citizens who, with worries, absconded from the country except for persons who committed murders, robberies, setting fires, mine explosions and intentional attacks on security troops, those who crowded to attack public service personnel and some people, those who destroyed government and private-owned buildings and those who are highly involved in the CDM activities by providing monetary assistance and other means.
4. As those who evade their native areas are also citizens, the State Administration Council will arrange their returns from the evaded areas to various parts of Myanmar.
5. As such, the information was released that if those who evaded to various areas, except for persons who committed any kinds of crime, wish to return to their native lands in Myanmar of their own accord due to multiple worries, the citizens abroad can contact nearby ward, village, township and district administration bodies and relevant embassies, military attaché offices and consulates in accord with the easing restrictions under the law.

Unite strengths of national people to overcome natural disasters

NOWADAYS, Myanmar manages manpower, money and materials to mitigate the impacts and risks of natural disasters across the nation all year round for easing tensions of the people whenever disasters fall.

In history, despite having experiences with severely dangerous natural disasters such as cyclonic storms, floods, torrential rains, earthquakes, Myanmar could overcome them successfully.

Myanmar experienced natural disasters based on natural situations within ten years from 2000 to 2010, with 23 per cent for the outbreak of fire, 11 per cent for flooding, 12 per cent for storms and four per cent for earthquakes, tsunamis and landslides.

The National Natural Disaster Management Committee operates the disaster management tasks in all seasons. Moreover, training courses on disaster risk reduction are conducted in relevant regions and states as well as districts to realize the motto: all survivors must be alive.

Not only Tatmadaw members but also volunteers and departmental staff perform rescue and relief tasks whenever disasters fall in any parts of the nation as soon as they have information.

When the rescue works end, the national committee arranges the distribution of relief supplies to the victims from disaster-affected areas. Hence, two central warehouses, 15 region and state warehouses, 46 district warehouses and 51 township warehouses store relief supplies so as to provide them to the victims in time.

The Department of Disaster Management warehouses distribute 22 items of relief supplies, including clothes, sheets of tarpaulin, plastic boxes, packets of instant noodles, women sanitary napkin and underwear, and mosquito nets to the victims on time.

As part of preparations to supply relief aid in time, the central warehouse in Yangon Region stores 17 items of relief supplies and regional development equipment for 15,000 households, whereas Yangon Region Disaster Management Department stockpiles relief items for 5,000 homes. These warehouses are ready to deliver the relief supplies to the affected people.

All the entire national people need to make concerted efforts to safely overcome the challenges of natural disasters in all seasons. In line with the motto: "Unity of strength", no matter how dangerous the natural disasters are, it is sure that the entire people would overcome them successfully.

When 'Tauktae' Batters the Land

By Maung Hlaing

ALMOST everyone knows 'gecko' which is defined in the dictionary as 'a lizard of the warm region, with adhesive pads on the feet'. However, we call 'gecko' (တောကီတုံ) 'Tauktae' in Myanmar.

According to the traditional belief of Myanmar people (especially of the children), gecko, or 'Tauktae' is regarded as a 'meteorologist' who can forecast the weather. When it makes a sound, we children ask him the questions -- 'Is it the rain?' or 'Is it the wind?' when its shouting ends with the question 'Is it the rain?', we believe that we may have a rainy day. Or when its shouting ends with the question 'Is it the wind?', we believe that we may have a windy day.

Believe it or not. But Myanmar children love to do so. In this way, 'gecko' or 'Tauktae' becomes a friend of Myanmar children. They really love 'Tauktae' very much. They love to listen to the shouts of 'Tauktae'.

However, I was flabbergasted when I came across a news story carried by the Global New Light of Myanmar (GNLM) of 19-5-2021. According to the news, the Cyclone 'Tauktae' battered swathes of India, sending huge waves crashing onto its shores, turning streets into rivers and forcing hundreds of thousands of people to flee.

The colossal swirling system -- the biggest to hit the region in decades -- claimed lives in Kerala, Goa, Maharashtra and Gujarat as savage winds swept through flimsy homes and uprooted trees and electricity pylons. Mumbai authorities closed the airport and urged people to stay indoors, shifting about 600 Covid-19 patients in field hospitals "to safer locations" while sea levels swelled as high as three metres (10 feet) near the seaside town of Diu.

The cyclone made landfall in Gujarat on 17 May 2021 as an Extremely Severe Cyclonic Storm packing gusts of up to 185 kilometres (115 miles) per hour, the Indian Meteorological Department said. It had been downgraded to a Very Severe Cyclonic Storm by Tuesday (18 May 2021) morning.

It was 'Tauktae' that carried the evils. It was 'Tauktae' we hate most. How very bad 'Tauktae' is!

The AFP news made me recall the Cyclone Nargis that pounded Myanmar on 2 May 2008. In the city of Yangon, the streets were full of fallen trees. Many buildings were seen roofless. All the roads and streets were not a position to cope with vehicles. No sound of vehicles could be heard in the whole city, which was like a ghost town.

We faced the evil consequences of Cyclone Nargis. We ran out of electricity and water. There was no supply at all. To make matters worse, a transport service was not available. Due to the lack of power supply, filling stations could not work.

We have put ourselves in the place of the people living in India.

What I feel in my heart was that the Indian state of West Bengal, stricken by coronavirus after mass rallies were held for a key election, ordered a two-week lockdown in a bid to halt the spread. AFP also said: the cyclone interrupted the vaccine programme the country urgently needs to get its spiralling Covid-19 outbreak under control. The deadly weather system to exacerbated India's embattled response to a coronavirus surge that is killing at least 4,000 people daily and pushing the health system to breaking point. All offices, stores and public transport are told to close after the region reported its biggest surge yet in deaths and infections.

Cyclones are not uncommon along the South Indian coast and neighbouring regions, and they wreak major havoc when they strike. The region of the sub-continent which juts out into the Indian Ocean is an open area which rain-bearing winds lash. This region is an annual target of storms and cyclones. Indeed, India, Bangladesh and Myanmar annually take lashings from the monsoon and end-of-monsoon storms, which frequent their coasts, and sometimes move far inland.

As in the case of India, whenever a disaster strikes, our sympathy goes to the stricken, for we in Myanmar have suffered the devastating action of natural disasters. We never forget the cyclones which hit the Ayeyawady Region and the Rakhine State in the 1970s and Cyclone Nargis that hit Myanmar in the late 2000s. 'Tauktae' also reminded me of the storm-born heavy rains which precipitated flash-floods and general flooding in the flatlands and low-lying areas of states and regions.

Whenever a disaster strikes a country, its government will surely have to give the victims the immediate attention they need to alleviate their suffering.

After relief measures are applied with the help of international agencies, there will have to be widespread rehabilitation work, including the rehabilitation of the survivors, livestock, and agriculture.

Bringing relief to the stricken millions is no small matter. There is the mammoth task, for, the survivors are physically too weak and mentally too dispirited to take adequate care of those who have passed away, especially in their decomposed state. Relief workers, military personnel, police, volunteers and all who are able to pitch in to help will be mobilized, as has been the general rule.

The rehabilitation of villages along the river banks, after relief measures have been applied, will be another mammoth task, what with hundreds of them totally flattened. Though the supply of food and clothing to the survivors may not be difficult, the procurement of building materials, transportation, and actually helping the survivors rebuild from scratch requires mobilization of more volunteers and public-service personnel.

Damage done to millions of hectares of crops is substantial loss, for agricultural rehabilitation in the wake of a cyclone of such strength may prove too great a task. Sometimes, the problem of irrigation may crop up.

While we think of the unfortunate thousands and flash back on similar experiences here in our country, we hope the timely relief and rehabilitation measures will alleviate suffering and put our unfortunate neighbours back on the road to recovery.

Now, hotter days are still with us.

Water is diminished
In the month of Tagu ...

Water is dried up
In the month of Kason ...

Myanmar people say so. Before the monsoon sets in, the heat is unbearable. Due to the intense heat, we are looking forward to seeing the rain clouds to release some showers.

If it rains, we'll have a bath.

When Mom comes, we'll suck her breast.

When Dad comes, we'll split the coconut to eat.

In our childhood days, we were happy when it rained. We sang the childhood song while playing in the rain. The rain, indeed, is our friend.

We still love 'Tauktae', who invites fragrant rains to our agricultural country but not the 'Tauktae', an Extremely Severe Cyclonic Storm.

Transforming regional frameworks into national actions

AS the world enters its second year of living with the COVID-19 pandemic, the focus has shifted from containing the spread of the disease towards recovering from socio-economic disruptions. COVID-19 recovery frameworks have been articulated throughout much of the last 12 months, with emphasis on streamlining regional and national development strategies across all levels. Most notable among regional plans is the ASEAN Comprehensive Recovery Framework launched by South-East Asian countries as an exit strategy from the pandemic. Yet, to truly move ahead with the recovery, further efforts to align national actions with regional and international implementation can have a stronger impact. To better understand the support required by South-East Asian countries, the South-East Asia Policy Dialogue was organized in line with the launch of ESCAP's 2021 Economic and Social Survey of Asia and the Pacific: Towards Post-COVID-19 Resilient Economies.

Dr. Shuvojit Banerjee of the ESCAP Macroeconomic Policy and Finance for Development Division, a co-author of the report, emphasized how socio-economic impacts of the pandemic amplified the need for targeted investments in strengthening people and the planet. Thus, he called for continuity in policy support to build resiliency and invest in the 2030 Agenda, and applying a more integrated risk management approach to planning and policymaking. These core messages are reflected in the report, which outlines a "Building Forward Better" policy package that calls for investments in social services, digital access and green development, using fiscal space and a range of financing options.

Speakers Ms. Diandra Pratami, SDG Coordination Officer and economist from the United Nations Resident Coordinator's Office in Indonesia, Mr. Suriyan Vichitlekarn, Executive Director of the Mekong Institute, and Dr. Kensuke Tanaka, Head of the Asia Desk of the OECD Development Centre provided insights on actions required to effectively recover from the pandemic. Ms. Pratami highlighted the importance of obtaining buy-in from the Indonesian

Government to implement policy packages aimed at building back better, while Dr. Tanaka shed light on policy responses such as re-allocating resources towards digital health, e-learning, and industry 4.0 for South-East Asia.

As one of the major sub-regions of South-East Asia, the Mekong region faces distinct challenges. Mr. Suriyan Vichitlekarn underscored how the Mekong Institute has supported Mekong country representatives by enhancing their skills in translating regional policy frameworks and packages into actions suited to their national development strategies. Mekong Institute's peer-to-peer learning experiences and sharing of good regulatory practices across Cambodia, China, Lao People's Democratic Republic, Myanmar, Thailand and Viet Nam were also spotlighted as useful measures in building resilient and forward-looking economies.

The Third Month of the State Administration Council Government

By Kanaung

Also on 8 April, the Union Minister for International Cooperation and other officials held a brief presentation on the current developments in Myanmar to diplomats and heads of UN agencies. The officials presented matters pertaining to taking State's responsibilities by the State Administration Council according to the stipulations of the 2008 Constitution, and the plans to hold a free and fair multiparty general election in line with the 2008 Constitution, following which State power would be transferred to the winning party in accordance with democratic norms. Following the meeting, participants viewed the weapons, including homemade guns used by National League for Democracy supporters, displayed at the meeting hall.

On 9 April 2021, the Tatmadaw Information Team met the foreign Military Attachés based in the country and briefed them on the current political situation and the duties of the State Administration Council, and then replied to the questions raised at the meeting.

From 12 to 16 April 2021, the Tatmadaw. The guidance given to various stakeholders highlights these new roles and directions.

- Tatmadaw officers, other ranks and their families are kept informed on the various steps in state-building and nation-building being undertaken, and on the findings of the newly formed Union Election Commission (UEC), which is scrutinizing the details of voter lists for each township and regularly releasing its findings on electoral fraud during the 2020 general elections. The guidance given to various stakeholders highlights these new roles and directions. - On 8 April and 10 April respectively, the Vice-Chairman of the State Administration Council Deputy Commander-in-Chief of Defence Services Commander-in-Chief (Army) Vice-Senior General Soe Win met with officers, other ranks and families of Taunggyi Station and Yamethin Station. Discussions focused on new and renewable sources of energy, such as solar power and hydropower plants, and on the health, education, public transport and living standards of the people.

- On 9 April 2021, Vice-Senior General Soe Win attended the passing-out parade of the 124th intake (Thura Company) of the Defence Services (Army) Officers Training School in Bahtoo. He stressed unity within and among units and urged Tatmadaw members to strictly follow the military moral ethics. He then visited the military hospital in Bahtoo with gifts of food to encourage both military personnel and civilians taking medical treatment at the hospital. The Vice-Chairman also inspected the agriculture and livestock activities within the Tatmadaw grounds and met with trainees for the Infantry Platoon Commander Training in Bahtoo.

- On 11 April, the State Administration Council Chairman met with officers, other ranks, and families of Yangon Station. He explained that the voting lists were under inspection, and that the findings of electoral fraud would be released. Based on the inspection results, actions would be taken under the law. He also briefed the Yangon Region Administration Council members and departmental staff on the transfer of State responsibilities from the Pro Tem President as a result of these circumstances. Government employees were requested to understand the situation and to continue to carry out their duties. He highlighted certain political issues and the Five-Point Road Map of the Council. The Chairman inspected the damage in the industrial zones of Hlinethaya and Shwepyitha townships, which had been burned and destroyed by violent mobs. Residents of those areas were provided with food assistance. - On 30 April 2021, the State Administration Council Chairman inspected Oil Refinery No. 1 in Thanlyin and the municipal operations in Yangon Region. The inspection tour focused on measures to resume operations in state-owned factories and to meet the country's fuel demands. Inspection tours were also conducted of the drainage system and river outlets in Botahtaung, Kyauktada and Lanmadaw townships, with a view to prevent or mitigate the impacts of flooding in Yangon.

Additional findings of electoral fraud

had embarked on an examination of voter lists used in the 2020 general elections since its appointment. It has been conducting on-the-ground checks in each township of the country. Starting from February, the UEC has been releasing — with full transparency — its findings on voter lists and the status of ballot papers (issued, received, used, and remaining, as well as shortage/loss and excess ballots) in the respective townships. Table 1 shows the townships for which UEC issued the outcomes of their examination in April.

The findings may be summarized as follows:

- Ballot papers were issued to each election sub-commission in exact numbers, comprising people on the voting roll. However, ground inspections showed missing ballots and extra (and used) ballot papers in significant numbers. These indicate illegal activities, such as ballot papers filled up and cast as votes by real voters, but now disappeared, and fraudulent ballot papers added to the real voting results outside of official channels.
- Significant numbers of ballot papers had the wrong candidates, while some non-NLD candidates were missing from ballot papers.
- Significant numbers of voters in the lists had no national identity cards (or citizenship scrutiny cards).
- The same citizenship scrutiny cards with identical identification numbers were recorded as “voters” in two or more locations, which is impossible without fraud; in other words, the citizenship scrutiny cards numbers were duplicated ill-

Progress is being made towards multiparty democracy, led by the new government and the Tatmadaw. The guidance given to various stakeholders highlights these new roles and directions.

Myanmar delegation led by the Deputy Minister of Home Affairs joined the 64th Session of the United Nations Commission on Narcotics Drugs held in Vienna, Austria via videoconferencing. The officials discussed the fight against illegal drugs and drug trafficking, including measures in Myanmar to reduce poppy cultivation and production rate. The government considers such measures to be a national duty.

Engagement of stakeholders

Progress is being made towards multiparty democracy, led by the new government and the elections.

- On 3 April 2021, at a meeting with officers, other ranks and families of the Meiktila Station, State Administration Council Chairman Senior General Min Aung Hlaing emphasized that the main task of the Tatmadaw is not only national defence, but also individual and collective efforts based on goodwill to elevate the Tatmadaw's image, the country and Myanmar people. - On 4 April 2021, the State Administration Council Chairman met with the officers, other ranks and families of Magway Station, the Magway Region Adgally and used for fraudulent voting.

All of the above constitutes electoral fraud.

explore possible options for national priority projects.

The Social Security Board had provided social security expected to be launched in January 2022, according to the original schedule. This will give impetus to the country's efforts to develop a cash assistance programme for social protection, since effective targeting and identification of poor households are linked to the robustness of the social protection management information system. At the same time, training of the workforce will be required in new technology and approaches.

Since 2017, there has been no progress on the draft law to prevent violence against women. Work on the draft law has now resumed led by the Ministry of Social Welfare, Relief and Resettlement, and the law is expected to be finalized and adopted in the near future.

In the third week of April, the government held discussions on the draft national report for the UN Committee on the Rights of the Child.

The Chairman of the State Administration Council, Commander-in-Chief of the Defence Services delivered a New Year message on 20 April for Myanmar New Year 1383. He emphasized that the State Administration Council was trying to restore peace and stability and generate socio-economic development, which are the two aspirations of the Myanmar people. He highlighted that the State Administration Council would join hands with all National ethnic peoples and exert utmost efforts to ensure a peaceful and stable socio-economic life for all, together with the unity and development of the State. Nation-wide efforts would be necessary to rebuild the national economy, reform existing important economic institutions, and build new ones to strengthen the economic infrastructure. He called for people's cooperation in the process.

On 21 April 2021, the Myanmar National Committee on Child Labour Eradication held a coordination meeting. The State Administration Council Vice-Chairman Vice-Senior General Soe Win addressed the meeting in his capacity as Committee Chairman. Child labour in Myanmar is driven by poverty and the need to earn income for the family. Child labour is common in many sectors and is a challenge for any developing country.

Socio-economic development

On 2 April 2021, the Ministry of Investment and Foreign Economic Relations held a coordination meeting with the respective ministries and organizations on development projects being implemented with the assistance of the European Union. The meeting emphasized the importance of information exchange and the need to update the respective development partners on implementation constraints and benefits to insured workers in private industries and workplaces during the COVID-19 outbreak. As of the end of March 2021, about 1.6 million insured workers had been paid up to K68,715.14 million during the COVID-19 pandemic. The current government has been able to continue the process.

On 5 April 2021, the Ministry of Social Welfare, Relief and Resettlement held a meeting on the development of the social protection management information system, which is

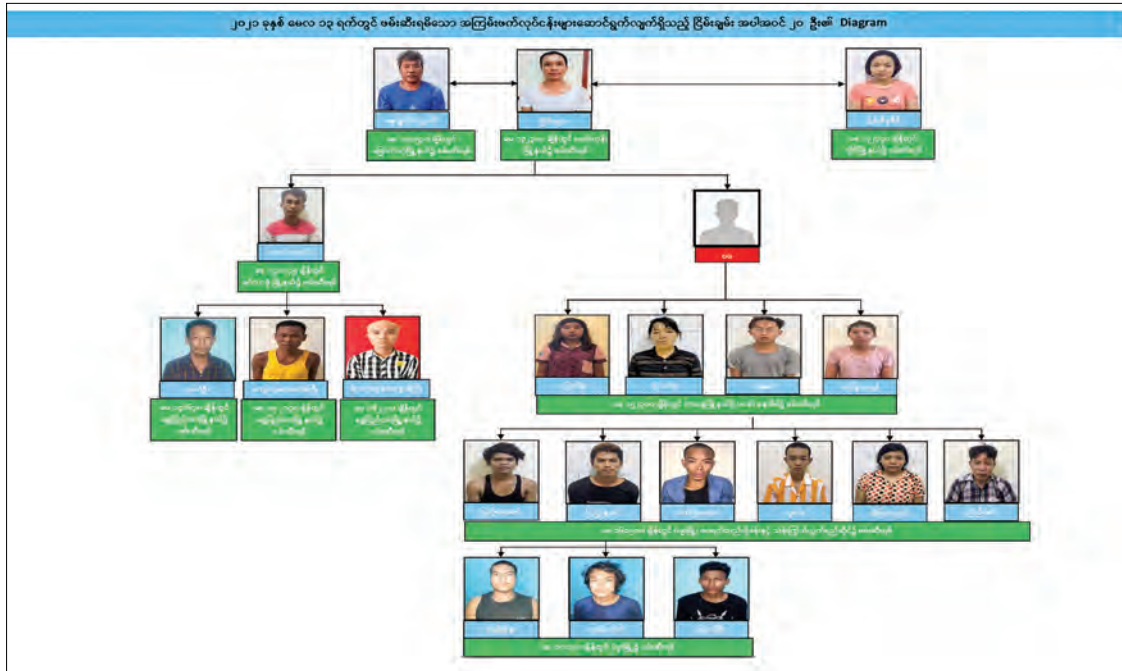

... the State Administration Council would join hands with all National ethnic peoples and exert utmost efforts to ensure a peaceful and stable socio-economic life for all, together with the unity and development of the State.

Nonetheless, the government is trying its best to address the problem.

Social relief work was undertaken by the government in April. A total of 30 million kyats were provided to more than 2,000 cyclone victims in Pwintphyu Township and 30,000 kyats each to 470 persons with disabilities under the Disability Support Programme of the COVID-19 Economic Relief Plan on 25 April.

Kagoshima overtakes Shizuoka in green tea output for Japan's top spot

KAGOSHIMA has overtaken Shizuoka in output equivalent to green tea sales, gaining the top spot in Japan, with differences in cultivation methods between the two prefectures and changes in consumer tastes behind the shift.

Kagoshima had output equivalent to 25.2 billion yen ($2.32 million) worth of green tea leaves sales in 2019, compared to Shizuoka's 25.1 billion yen, according to data released in March by the Ministry of Agriculture, Forestry, and Fisheries. Shizuoka thus lost the position as Japan's leader in tea output it had held since 1967 when data was first compiled.

Output in Shizuoka has decreased more than 40 per cent over the past decade, while Kagoshima's has remained constant.

As Kagoshima has extensive areas of flat land as compared to the rest of Japan, local tea farmers have promoted large-scale cultivation and capitalized on the growing demand for bottled tea.

In contrast, Shizuoka has continued to focus on high-grade tea.

Given the persistent contraction of the domestic market, however, both prefectures are stepping up efforts to increase exports.

At Kagoshima Horiguchi Seicha Co. in the city of Shibushi, one of the biggest tea producers in the southwestern prefecture, large unmanned, sensor-controlled tea-picking machines slowly move through the approximately 300-hectare farm harvesting leaves each April.

"Smart farming using advanced technology has given us leeway to promote other operations," said Daisuke Horiguchi, 38, vice president of the company. — Kyodo News ■

US hands Swiss bank red card in FIFA bribe scandal

SWISS Bank Julius Baer admitted it participated in money laundering of $36 million in bribes in the "FIFAgate" scandal over television broadcast rights, US officials announced on Thursday.

The bank admitted in federal court that it conspired to launder the funds through the United States to officials with FIFA and soccer federations in the Americas.

"Their behaviour has earned them the equivalent of a red card, and the money the bank now owes the US government is more than double what it admits to laundering," FBI Assistant Director-in-Charge William F. Sweeney Jr said in a statement.

It was the latest twist in the scandal which shook up the international footballing body, forcing long-time chief Sepp Blatter to step down in 2015.

The legal saga began with the arrests in May 2015, and involves "racketeering" by officials in the two continental federations in the Americas, CONMEBOL and CONCACAF, in exchange for the rights to broadcast continental competitions.

Julius Baer admitted the wrongdoing and entered into a three-year deferred prosecution agreement with US authorities. As part of this agreement, the bank has agreed to pay more than $79 million in penalties, including a fine of $43.3 million, the Justice Department statement said. — AFP ■

Airbus to raise plane production, sees aviation post-COVID recovery

AIRBUS said on Thursday it will produce more single-aisle planes in 2023 than before the coronavirus crisis as the European aerospace giant sees the aviation sector ascending from the pandemic.

The aircraft maker had slowed its production early on in the pandemic last year as COVID-19 and border closures caused a massive drop in air traffic, severely denting the earnings of airlines.

"The aviation sector is beginning to recover from the COVID-19 crisis," Airbus chief executive Guillaume Faury said in a statement. The company said it expects the commercial aircraft market "to recover to pre-COVID levels between 2023 and 2025, led by the single-aisle segment".

Airbus is "therefore providing suppliers with an update of its production plans, giving visibility in order to schedule necessary investments and secure long term capacity and production rate readiness, in line with the expected recovery," it said.

Airbus shares soared at the Paris stock exchange following the announcement.

Airbus is currently producing 40 planes of the A320 family per month but the company said it would increase the average rate to 45 during the last three months of this year. It added that suppliers should "prepare for the future by securing a firm rate" of 64 A320 planes by the second quarter of 2023. — AFP ■

Nike says split with Neymar over refusal to cooperate with sex assault probe

NIKE said Thursday it parted ways with Neymar last year after the superstar Brazil attacker "refused to cooperate in a good faith investigation" as the company probed an employee's claim that he sexually assaulted her. The apparel giant said in a statement that its investigation into the alleged 2016 incident — which was reported to the company in 2018 — was inconclusive. "No single set of facts emerged that would enable us to speak substantively on the matter," the company said. In a Wall Street Journal article reporting the assault allegation, a spokeswoman for Neymar said the player denies the claim. "Neymar Jr. will vigorously defend himself against these baseless attacks in case any claim is presented, which did not happen so far," she said in a statement, adding that Nike and Neymar split for commercial reasons. — AFP ■

Construction of new Mingalar Market completed 63%

ACCORDING to the officials, the government is constructing a new Mingalar Market in Mingala Taungnyunt Township spending K68 billion, and about 63 per cent of the market has been completed.

The market will be a 17-storey building with a two-storey basement car park and is being constructed by modern machinery, expert engineers and skilled labourers following the COVID-19 health rules of the Ministry of Health and Sports.

There will be banks, restaurants and supermarkets on the ground floor. From 6th to 13th floor including two-storey basement car park can accommodate more than 700 cars. There will also be shops and warehouses on the 9th and 10th floors while the offices will be on 11st and 13th floors. There will be more than 1,000 shops from the 5th to 8th floors managed by the construction companies. The YCDC will relocate the vendors from the ground floor to the 4th floor who lost their shops in old Mingalar Market, which caught fire.

The officials now speed up the building construction. If the new Mingalar Market is completed, it can benefit more than 40,000 people, including vendors, staff, and customers, so the market will become alive more than before. — Pwint Thitsar/GNLM

Maize price rises due to strong demand from Thailand, local buyers

MANDALAY pulses traders say prices of maize in the Mandalay market have risen in recent days due to strong demand from Thai and local buyers.

The price of maize has risen sharply since the first week of May, from K28,000 per three-basket bag before Thingyan to K31,000 today, according to U Soe Win Myint (Soe Win Myint brokerage) from Mandalay.

In addition to the foreign demand, the resumption of the operation of feedstuff mills that use the maize as the raw materials has made the price increase, he added.

Both maize farmers and traders are reportedly satisfied with the current price. Farmers are reminded to take care of the maize fields as they are often infested with FAW insects this season.

At this time when maize prices are good, maize grown from various regions is actively entering the Mandalay market, and it is reported that maize from YeU, Kyunhla townships in Sagaing Region and Nay Pyi Taw, Tatkon, Pyinmana townships will enter the market in the coming July. — Min Htet Aung (Mdy Sub-Printing House)/GNLM

Japan takes top source of FDI in Myanmar this FY

JAPAN is the largest foreign investor in Myanmar so far, with three Japan-based companies putting the foreign direct investment of US$518.76 million in the past seven months (October-April) of the current financial year 2020-2021, as per data released by the Directorate of Investment and Company Administration (DICA).

Singapore stood as the second-largest investors this FY with an estimated capital of $388 million from 13 enterprises, followed by China investing $166.75 million in Myanmar.

Japan focuses more on responsible businesses. Therefore, it thoughtfully considers and learns before they make investments. It is expected that investments from Japan will increase this year, DICA stated.

Additionally, Thilawa Special Economic Zone is a symbol of development in Japan's investments in Myanmar. Besides, Japan is a development partner of Myanmar.

Japan has been providing comprehensive support in developing the infrastructure, including railway, road, and research in Myanmar through the Japan International Cooperation Agency.

Since the 2016-2017FY, FDI of over $440.367 million has flowed into the Special Economic Zones (SEZs) from 15 Japanese businesses under the Special Economic Zone Law.

The DICA's data showed that Japan's investment in Myanmar stood at $768.456 million in the last FY2019-2020, $42.77 million in the 2018-2019FY, $134.5 million in the 2018 mini-budget period (April-September), $384 million in the 2017-2018FY, $60 million in the 2016-2017FY and $219.79 million in the 2015-2016FY, respectively. — KK/GNLM

Price of Seintalone mango exported to China plummets this year

GENERAL Secretary U Kyaw Soe Naing of the Myanmar Mango Market and Technology Development Association said that the price of Seintalone mango (Diamond Solitaire) exported to neighbouring China has plummeted this year compared to that of last year.

Last year, Seintalone mangoes fetched around 120 Yuans per 16 kg basket. But this year, the price of Seintalone mangoes dropped down to under 100 Yuans per 16 kg basket.

“The price of mangoes plunged this year compared to that of the previous year. The traders received only around or less than 100 Yuans per basket. This could not make the profit under the market condition,” said U Kyaw Soe Naing.

“Besides, more than thousands of mango loaded trucks are stranded in Kyin San Kyawt checkpoint at the Myanmar-China border. As a result, the quality of Myanmar mangoes exported to China is declining, and the prices are also dropping exponentially. The export of Seintalone mango to China has also fallen by half this year than last year,” he added.

The price of Seintalone mango exported to China has plummeted because China has closed some checkpoints because of COVID-19. Their inspection of the products is taking a longer time than previously.

At present, Myanmar has been exporting around 10 or 15 mango loaded trucks to China daily. Those mangoes are from Sagaing and Katha townships, according to the association.

There are more than 200 mango species in Myanmar. Among them, Seintalone, Shwehintha, Padamyar Nga-Mauk, Yinkwe and Machitsu mango species are grown chiefly. Also, Myakyauk and Kyauk-taing mangoes from Monywa, Sagaing region are also produced from the area.

Mangoes are grown primarily on the Ayeyawady region on about 46,000 acres of land, followed by the Bago region with 43,000 acres and the Mandalay region with 29,000 acres. Besides, there are more than 24,000 acres of mangoes in Kayin State, over 20,400 acres in Shan State and over 20,000 acres in the Sagaing region. — NN/GNLM

Corn export tops $246.9 mln in five months

Thailand gives the green light to corn imports through Maesot under zero tariff (with Form-D), between 1 February and 31 August.

MYANMAR Customs Department's statistics showed corn exports to foreign countries had generated over US$246.9 million in the first five months (October-February) of the current financial year 2020-2021.

Myanmar corn exports by sea have come to an end due to the lack of demand, Chair U Min Khaing of the Myanmar Corn Industrial Association said.

Myanmar has been delivering corns to the neighbouring countries Thailand and China via the land border. The shipment to Singapore, Malaysia and Viet Nam abruptly stopped owing to zero demand, he added.

“The lack of demand by sea is attributed to the political changes and disruption in the logistic sector,” said U Min Khaing.

Myanmar is conveying corns to Thailand through the land border, with a tonne of maize fetching up about 8,000 baht.

As Myanmar revoked the two-per-cent withholding tax exemption on corn exports during the new wave of coronavirus, the corn price is expected to fall, he added.

The withholding tax exemption status for corn exports to Thailand duly expired amid the pandemic. The two per cent WHT had to be paid starting from 1 May.

“The two per cent WHT was levied on corn exports through the land border. During the pandemic, the tax was temporarily exempted. At present, the exempt status is revoked. Consequently, the lower commodity price is likely to happen,” U Min Khaing said.

Thailand gives the green light to corn imports through Maesot under zero tariff (with Form-D), between 1 February and 31 August.

Thailand has granted tax exemption on corn imports between February and August. However, Thailand imposed a maximum tax rate of 73 per cent on corn import in order to protect the rights of their growers if the corns are imported during the corn season of Thailand, as per the notification of the World Trade Organization regarding corn import of Thailand, said a corn exporter.

With the local corn consumption growing, Myanmar's corn export to foreign markets is expected to reach 1.6 million tonnes this year, the association stated. Myanmar is the second-largest exporter of corn among regional countries. At present, corn is cultivated in Shan, Kachin, Kayah and Kayin states and Mandalay, Sagaing and Magway regions.

Myanmar has three corn seasons- winter, summer and monsoon. The country yearly produces 2.5-3 million tonnes of corns.

The corn crop is mostly demanded by the feedstuff processing business. Therefore, it is the potential business for both domestic and external markets, said an official of the Ministry of Commerce.

During the last FY2019-2020 ended 30 September, the country exported 2.2 million tonnes of corns to the external market, with an estimated value of $360 million, the Ministry of Commerce's data showed.

As per data from the Ministry of Commerce, Myanmar exported 1.5 million tonnes valued at $270 million in the 2018-2019FY, 1.4 million tonnes of corn worth over $290 million in the 2017-2018FY, 1.2 million tonnes of corn worth $250 million in the 2016-2017FY, and, 1.1 million tonnes of corn worth $300 million in the 2015-2016FY. — HH/GNLM

Farmers to get monsoon paddy cultivation loans of K150,000 per acre in 2021

MYANMAR Agricultural Development Bank (MADB) announced that the bank would provide the monsoon paddy cultivation loans amounting to K150,000 per acre in 2021 with a five per cent interest rate. The bank will provide the loans as of the end-September.

The bank has extended the repayment period of April 2021 for its agricultural loans for the 2020 winter crop season by the end-July 2021 for the convenience of the farmers, according to MADB.

The 2021 monsoon paddy cultivation loans will be available from 26 May to 30 September at MADB's branch banks across the country.

The farmers need to pay out the old lands to get the new 2021 monsoon paddy cultivation loans. Those who wish to have the new loans need to contact the bank's relevant district and township branches as soon as possible. Under the Ministry of Planning and Finance, the Myanmar Agricultural Development Bank has been providing agricultural loans annually to farmers from across the country since 1954.

Nearly 18 million acres of monsoon paddy and summer paddy are cultivated annually in Myanmar. In the 2019-2020 financial year, about 17.31-million acres of paddy were cultivated. According to the Ministry of Agriculture, Livestock and Irrigation, this budget year is the lowest year for paddy cultivation in five years.

The country cultivated 17.82 million of summer and monsoon paddy in 2015-2016FY, 17.70 million of paddy in 2016-2017FY, and 17.93 million paddy in 2017-2018FY 17.86 million of paddy in 2018-2019FY and 17.31 million of paddy in 2019-2020FY, it is learnt. — ACM/GNLM

Tottenham hold talks with former boss Pochettino: reports

TOTTENHAM have made contact with former manager Mauricio Pochettino — currently boss of Paris Saint-Germain — about a return to the club, according to widespread reports in the British press on Friday. The 49-year-old left Spurs in November 2019 after five years in charge and was replaced by Jose Mourinho, who was sacked last month. Media reports say it is understood the London club have spoken to the Argentine, who replaced Thomas Tuchel at PSG in January, regarding the potential prospect of a second spell in charge in London. PSG missed out on the Ligue 1 title for only the second time in nine seasons and lost to Manchester City in the Champions League semi-finals but won the French Cup. The French club on Thursday issued an interview on their interview featuring Pochettino, who has 12 months left on his contract, talking about doing "great things in the future". — AFP ■

Nadal, Djokovic and Federer in same half of French Open draw

Rafael Nadal, Novak Djokovic and Roger Federer, the three most successful men in Grand Slam tennis history, were on Thursday all drawn in the same half of the French Open. PHOTO: AFP

RAFAEL NADAL, Novak Djokovic and Roger Federer, the three most successful men in Grand Slam tennis history, were on Thursday all drawn in the same half of the French Open.

Having slipped to number three in the world, it was always likely that Nadal, the 13-time champion, would face top-ranked Djokovic before the final.

The two great rivals could now meet in the semi-finals this year.

Djokovic has lost three finals to Nadal at the French Open in 2012, 2014 and then last year, when the Spaniard swept to victory, 6-0, 6-2, 7-5.

Djokovic, the 2016 champion, is top seed and could possibly face 2009 winner Federer in the quarter-finals. All three men are chasing history at the French Open which starts on Sunday.

Nadal and Federer, seeded eight, are locked on 20 Grand Slams each while Djokovic, who has 18, can become the first man in over half a century to win all four majors on more than one occasion. — AFP ■

Man City, Chelsea eye Champions League glory in Porto final

Manchester City and Chelsea's Champions League final clash in Porto will be their third meeting in six weeks. PHOTO: POOL/AFP/FILE

PEP Guardiola's Manchester City are 90 minutes away from the trophy they so desperately crave but a Chelsea side transformed in recent months stand in their way in Saturday's all-English Champions League final in Porto, the Portuguese city which was named as a last-minute host. It is the third final of Europe's elite club competition to be played between two Premier League sides, and the second in just three seasons, and so this is a match-up that underlines the strength of the cash-rich English game. And these are the two clubs whose own transformations in the last two decades under mega-rich foreign owners have done the most to change forever the landscape of the Premier League. Not so long ago, the idea of Chelsea and City meeting in the biggest club game of all would have been laughable. Their only previous encounter in a final came in 1986 in the short-lived Full Members Cup, when Chelsea won 5-4 at Wembley. That was before the Premier League and modern Champions League existed, before Roman Abramovich bought Chelsea in 2003 and before the Abu Dhabi takeover of City in 2008. — AFP ■
