Education sector aims to turn out human resources for the State: Senior General

State Administration Council Chairman Prime Minister Senior General Min Aung Hlaing presides over the SAC meeting 6/2022 in Nay Pyi Taw on 21 July 2022.

NO matter what students learn in education at any school, they must have the knowledge to be able to stand on their own after completion of learning, said Chairman of the State Administration Council Prime Minister Senior General Min Aung Hlaing at the SAC meeting 6/2022 at the SAC Chairman Office yesterday.

Security measures related to politics

In his speech, the Senior General said that terror acts were taken action under the law. The Ministry of Home Affairs is taking responsibility for combating the terror acts and riots whereas the Tatmadaw is taking responsibility for State defence duty and armed insurrection. As the country is democratic, military administration is exercised at a minimum as much as possible.

So-called PDF terrorists brutally killed 52 members of the Sangha and one nun up to 20 July, most of them were killed in Sagaing Region. Similar cases happened in Magway Region. Moreover, so-called PDF terrorists also committed murdering educational staff, leaving 47 dead and 21 injured, and 25 staff went missing, totalling 93. Most of them were from Sagaing and Magway regions.

All the people are to strive for improvement of educational qualification of the entire people. Some school-age children

Announcement for opening reception centres to receive CDM staff, students and youths

THE State Administration Council has been striving for the all-round development of the country including economic, social, education and health sectors. In addition, security forces are performing their duties day and night so that the entire mass of national people in various regions across the Union should be able to lead their lives and earn their living in the peace of mind. The State Administration Council gives priority to achieving genuine and perpetual peace, building up the united strength of the national brethren.

In order to prevent the unnecessary loss of human resources, the State Administration Council has publicly invited the basic education staff who are absent from duty to resume their duties and those who take part in armed resistance under various names of groups, including PDFs, to return to the legal fold if they wish to, and is systematically receiving the returnees.

It is found that, due to the persuasion, instigation and coercion of CRPH and NUG terrorist groups, some CDM staff, students and youths went to the strongholds of some ethnic armed organizations and received training in arms, ammunition and explosives.

It is known that some of those who have completed the training no longer want to be involved in terrorist attacks and so they fled to the regions within and without the country and are working there for their living. When they see terrorist attacks with their own eyes, they cannot accept such terrible acts at all. On the other hand, they have come to believe in the government's five-point roadmap and its endeavour for endurable peace. Moreover, they want to live peacefully in their hometowns again with their parents and relatives. Nevertheless, they cannot do so because of the coercion and intimidation by CRPH and NUG terrorist groups and their subordinates, it is learnt.

Therefore, the government is taking measures to be able to open reception centres in border areas for those who would like to return home to their respective regions. Moreover, those wishing to return home can contact Tatmadaw units and police stations. It is guaranteed that they will be able to lead their daily lives peacefully.

Black gram prices volatile in July hitting maximum of K1.63 mln per tonne

THE prices of black gram (urad in India) have a bumpy ride in July. The price reached the highest of K1,630,000 per tonne, according to the bean market.

The black gram prices started to rise over K1.7 million per tonne starting on 2 July and they soared to K1,707,500 per tonne on 4 July.

Then, the price slid to K1,537,500 per tonne on 15 July. The figures reflected a decrease of K170,000 per tonne.

The price of black gram rose again to K1,670,000 per tonne on 16 July, showing an increase of K130,000 per tonne within five days.

On 21 July, the price dipped to K1,630,000 per tonne. So, the price was down by K40,000 per tonne.

However, the price remains high following robust demand by the leading buyer India and Kyat devaluation against the US dollar on the forex market.

Moreover, India agrees to purchase 250,000 tonnes of black gram and 100,000 tonnes of pigeon peas (tur) from Myanmar for five consecutive years from the 2021-2022 financial year to the 2025-2026FY, according to a press release issued on 18 July. Myanmar and India signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) on pulses purchase in June 2021 and India has officially released the pulses import quota.

Pulses imports are allowed via the five ports; Mumbai, Tuticorin, Chennai, Kolkata and Hazira. India extended relaxations of conditions regarding clearance consignment for black gram and pigeon peas until 31 March 2023.

The market for black gram needs to be observed. The price is correlated with India's demand, fuel price hike and forex rate.

Last September 2021, the prices hit an all-time high of K2 million per tonne when the US dollar exchange rate with Myanmar currency hit over K3,000 in the local forex market.

Myanmar conveyed $395.703 million worth of over 522,332 tonnes of beans and pulses to foreign trade partners between 1 April and 8 July 2022 in the current financial year 2022-2023. The country shipped $303.5 million valued at over 385,195 tonnes of pulses and beans to foreign markets through the sea route, and $92.203 million valued at over 137,136.76 tonnes were sent to the neighbouring countries through land borders.

Myanmar exported US$1.57 billion worth of over two million tonnes of various pulses to foreign trade partners last financial year 2020-2021. The country shipped $966.4 million valued in 1.24 million tonnes of pulses and beans to foreign markets through the sea route, and $604.3 million worth of 786,920 tonnes were sent to the neighbouring countries through land borders.

Myanmar yearly produces approximately 400,000 tonnes of black gram and about 50,000 tonnes of pigeon peas. Myanmar is the top producer of the black gram which is primarily demanded by India, while pigeon peas, green grams and chickpeas are cultivated in Australia and African countries besides Myanmar. — NN/GNLM

Union spirit is the resolve to build a Union through mutual amity between all the nationalities

UNION spirit is the foundation of the historic independence struggle, and it will also be the cornerstone of the future democratic country. In fact, the Union spirit is the resolve to build a Union through mutual amity between all the nationalities. As a peaceful and stable democratic State will be built only with the Union spirit, we must nurture a highly qualified new general possessing a strong Union spirit.

able to stand on their own after completion of learning.

Need for economic growth

The government adopted the basic policies for economic development. Priority is given to operating production based on agriculture and livestock farms. Despite having many human resources, the country does not have adequate skilled labour in the agriculture and livestock sector. Hence, efforts are being made to create chances for students to learn higher education based on the agriculture and livestock sector and to engage in production. Double cropping and a high yield of crops can help earn increased income for farmers to have high socioeconomic status. Hence, it is necessary to achieve success in agriculture and livestock farms to improve the economy of farmers.

In the previous period, as the import volume of edible oil was large, edible oil crops and exportation were restricted. Farmers have a chance to freely grow the crops and freely export them. If they export agricultural produce via the UMFCCI for the interests of the State, their sales will be free and the State income will increase.

With regard to the implementation of businesses based on agriculture and livestock farms via enhancement of education, the Senior General said: "Concerning the education promotion plan, most of the people completed in the primary and middle school education. The majority of people are educated in high school and higher education. So, I see it is necessary to especially prioritize the enhancement of the education standard of the people in rural areas and in states where the majority of people complete only middle school education. In the country, the constitution stipulates that basic primary education is compulsory for all. But, primary education is not enough for the people at present. Such primary education is inadequate for catching up with the advancement of the world. As such, in its tenure, the government encourages the students to learn middle school education till grade 10 free of charge. If so, people from the rural areas will be skilled labour and educated persons. If we give training to them, they will have a wider knowledge and skills to contribute to their businesses. We set such an aim. Now, there are 127 districts. In the first wave, we will open some 50 high schools giving agriculture, livestock and mechanical techniques to the students. I have discussed with relevant Union ministers to do so. It is necessary to appoint graduates from veterinary science and agriculture to teach the students. We arrange that the staff discharging duties at Agriculture Department and Livestock Breeding and Veterinary Department will be assigned as contributing teachers at these schools. If so, I expect a large number of skilled labour will be turned into rural areas. So, we have to operate businesses based on agriculture and livestock farms.

"Moreover, such plans are not adequate. It is responsible for the private sector. The government is responsible for turning out the human resources. The rest is for the private sector. On one hand, the government arranges the supply of inputs, for example, supply of water, distribution of fertilizers and seeds in the agriculture sector and supply of feedstuffs, medicines, water and pedigree animals in the livestock sector. Participation of the government in the private sector will exist till a set time. Hence, the council will prioritize operations of agriculture and livestock farms."

With a view to achieving enduring peace, the government invited ethnic armed organizations to peace talks and those who came to the peace talks agreed to the establishment of the Union based on democracy and federalism in accord with the wish of the people.

Development of cotton cultivation required

He continued to say that there are 240,000 acres under cotton cultivation in the country, that the country is cooperating with industrialized nations to be able to produce high-quality long-staple cotton and manufacture high-quality fabric and that establishment of advanced garment factories will contribute to the development of the country's economy.

Higher living standards for rural people necessary

Due to the weaknesses of the socio-economic life, the living standard of the country's rural people is lower than those of other countries. The socio-economic life of the rural people will improve only when the agriculture and livestock breeding industries succeed.

Sufficiency in electric power plays a vital role in enhancing the living standard of the people but would it be beneficial only if renewable energy can be produced and so the country is taking measures to successfully implement hydroelectric power projects to minimize the emission of carbon dioxide in producing electric power.

Measures taken for restoring durable peace

With a view to achieving enduring peace, the government invited ethnic armed organizations to peace talks and those who came to the peace talks agreed to the establishment of the Union based on democracy and federalism in accord with the wish of the people. And more invitations have been made to some EAOs that have not come to the peace talks and, it would be good for the country's future if the remaining EAOs come to the table.

Finally, the Senior General said that, during his visit to the Russian Federation, he met responsible personnel of military and civil services, went on a study tour of universities, plants and workshops and had discussions on increased cooperation in various sectors, including the mutual friendship between the governments and military services, culture, science and technology, tourism, development of human resources. He concluded that although his working visit to the Russian Federation was short, it was fruitful and good for the country.

The council members participated in the discussions on promoting ranks of primary assistant teachers and assigning them, fulfilling for needs of rural health centres by region and state governments and other sectors.

In his response, the Senior General said action will be taken against the private schools which are not in line with the education policy. Staff are recruited for health units, and at present, house surgeons and nurses are assigned there. Arrangements are being made to increase plies of trains along Yangon-Pyay, Yangon-Mawlamyine and Yangon-Mandalay routes. Meetings are being held with ethnic armed organizations without restrictions and some organizations are being connected. Arrangements are being made to cultivate quality strains of trees for teak plantations across the nation. It is necessary to review the enactment of archive law for historic persons. — MNA

Making News Toxic and Propaganda

by Murderers of Self-Named Media from the Virtual World

By Min Khant

I WROTE an article with the title of 'Risks of Psychological Warfare, Fake News and Disinformation To Care About' in State-owned newspapers on 13-5-2022 about the propaganda campaigns of individuals and organizations from local and abroad under so-called media opposing the State Administration Council and Provisional Government temporarily assuming the State's responsibilities as per the provisions of the 2008 State Constitution as a response to the undeniable electoral frauds and the incidents of breaching the laws in 2020 general elections. The article was again described in Internauka, a Russian scientific journal and on the website of ai-news.ru in the Russian language.

how information warfare is being waged in a systematic manner.

In the early days of the political change in Myanmar, disinformation and misinformation floating have been carried out through social media platforms and premediated networks in order to conceal the truth why the Tatmadaw assumed the State's responsibilities in accordance with the Constitution due to the vote riggings with breaching laws in 2020 elections and then to disseminate the information among people that the military unjustly seized the control of the State as a coup. At the same time, the narratives of people, particularly their Facebook accounts and pages, who pointed out the vote riggings of the then NLD-led government in the grown up in the democratic transition period of Myanmar since 2010 in accordance with the 2008 State Constitution and are also a generation familiar with IT technology. In other words, it is also a generation that has been indoctrinated with one-sided ideologies and cultures using the open media and political situation of democracy. The active basic instincts of Gen Z were exploited.

Along with the various forms of demonstrations and protests, there emerged the CDM campaigns inciting civil servants not to go to their offices so as to paralyze the Government mechanism. In fact, although the instigators did not have capacities to take care of the staff who would join CDM, they managed to persuade some government staff to join CDM using incentives of money, rank and position. Although there appeared many narratives on social media platforms pointing out the possible failure of the CDM, such voices were not heard by the public as they were restricted by social media. At present in reality, the term CDM becomes dim and insignificant as the NUG terrorist group and the murderers from the virtual world have already ignored and rejected the CDMers. Some government staff who had believed in the instigations and propaganda are now in some border areas with ruined lives and their family lives are also shattered. Nevertheless, it is glad to see that the SAC government with full sympathy is re-inviting the CDMers.

When the Western bloc and subversive media outlets realized that the CDM campaign is less likely to succeed, they systematically changed the course of the people's non-violent movements into acts of terrorism through instigations of social media. Synchronously, a US citizen virtually provided online training courses on terrorism to Myanmar youths and moreover, a Singapore-based media revealed evidence showing that even Mr Sa-Sa from NUG terrorist group had attended the online courses. What they actually did was that they spread propaganda and made incitement to carry out acts of terrorism across the country by organizing and putting in front the low-educated persons, political extremists of NLD party supporters, and destructionists. That is the reason behind the rising number of motiveless killings of innocent civil servants and civilians after accusing them of 'dalan' (informers to authorities). To sum up, the actual perpetrators of the terrorist attacks occurring in Myanmar are the murderers of self-named media from the virtual world.

As another obvious instance, when the Government reopened schools, colleges and universities for the education of the youths, and the future of the Nation, the media made various forms of propaganda and threats inciting children and youths not to go to schools, colleges and universities. On the ground, they are simultaneous, committing the inhumane crimes of blowing up and setting fire to schools. In spite of that, their attempts at propaganda did not succeed in full percent due to the genuine benevolence of the Government and people of parents who understand and care well about the education of children, and the future of the country and it is delightful to see most of the children are back to schools.

Making news toxic and spreading propaganda is not only in the political arena and education sector, such despicable acts can also be found in military issues.

There are certain reasons why the article was featured again in the academic journals and websites of the Russian Federation. It is because the Western media are waging an information war against the Russian Federation in the Russia-Ukraine conflict using fake news and misinformation like the similar ways highlighted in my article that was described in Myanmar newspapers. Otherwise, that is a clear instance proving how powerful countries like Russia besides the small country of Myanmar are under attacks of psychological warfare using such fake news and disinformation.

Along with the rapid development of information and technology in the 21st century, we all can see the attempts of making propaganda via social media platforms with the effective use of technology and money in a systematic manner. Making propaganda and information warfare are being accelerated taking advantage of the political change in Myanmar. In this article, I will make further explanations of 2020 elections, were restricted or removed with the help of the Facebook Newsfeed Algorithm and the Burmese language experts of Facebook Team.

At that point, the people in a strict environment with lockdowns and movement restrictions due to the COVID-19 pandemic were also incited in various ways to take the streets as a way out of suffocation. That circumstance was not a coincidence but systematic steps taken as per the theories from the book 'From Dictatorship to Democracy' by Gene Sharp, an American writer. All forms of demonstrations and protests seen in February 2021 such as people demonstrating in weird clothes and sexy fashions and the pot-banging strikes are the non-violent action methods of Gene Sharp. It can be assumed that Gene Sharp's methods and social psychology of the people were synchronically deployed. The main course linking all instigations is social media.

In reality, the youths under the beautiful name of Gen Z are the ones who have Recently, the KNDO and PDFs using cash assistance from external elements and young PDF members launched offensive attacks against the Ukrihta outpost of the Tatmadaw. However, they did not succeed in capturing the outpost and their attempt ended only in humiliating failure with heavy casualties. But they claimed that they had already captured the Ukrihta outpost when they started to launch attacks. Moreover, they also used a pile of dead bodies of PDFs and KNDO as if the Tatmadaw faced heavy deaths. In fact, the internal armed conflicts bring only losses to Myanmar and all national people and therefore, the SAC government has consistently emphasized the invitations to peace talks. The SAC chairman has marked 2022 as the year of peace and it clearly shows the determination of the SAC government in the course of the peace process.

If we observe the incidents, the subversive media outlets are instigating the brutal killings of PDF terrorists to provoke a state of terror in the general public when peaceful people are simply struggling for their lives. Yellow-coloured circle (1) pointing at 'Disinformation' covers news reports that are fabricated using photos and video footage that did not actually happen on the ground in reality. In fact, the news descriptions are the ones posted on online media attempting to conceal the murder crimes of PDF terrorists by depicting them as if the Tatmadaw committed crimes. To explain more about the fake news described in a green-coloured circle (2), such news is exaggerated based on the incidents that actually occurred in reality. Such fake news reports are usually featured false information and ideologies to make the readers confused.

According to the analytical data of the 'Fact Check', it is found that PDF terrorist groups upholding the dogma of 'everyone who differs from my attitude are my enemy' are wantonly killing the innocent civilians who do not support them as per the instructions of NUG. In the news about the killings of innocent civilians, the victims were found accused of dalan (informers to authorities).

If we observe the incidents, the subversive media outlets are instigating the brutal killings of PDF terrorists to provoke a state of terror in the general public when peaceful people are simply struggling for their lives. PDF terrorists kill everyone, who does not support them, regardless of considering who they are, including children, elders, monks and nuns after accusing them of 'dalan'. In some towns in remote areas, they even cruelly burn down civilian houses. However, the atrocities and cruelties of the PDFs are always concealed by the money-hunter of murderers under the name of media from the virtual world.

Therefore, the so-called news agencies under the name of media describing disinformation and fake news repeatedly by minding only how to get money are rather deserved to be called subversive media or the media without ethics indoctrinating people with wrong ideologies. In reality, they are not even worth using the term 'media' for it will negatively impact the typical media outlets. Their primary intention is to make people believe the disinformation and fake news so as to disintegrate the unity among people; cause dissension between people and the Tatmadaw, and provoke misleading impressions of the Tatmadaw. For the reason mentioned above, let me draw a conclusion of the article by urging the people not to believe the fake news of the subversive media but only to rationally consider the news and information on social media.

Cooperate with health staff in fighting TB

THE government is implementing the national strategic plan 2021-2025 in cooperation with local and foreign partner organizations as part of efforts to ensure the people stay away from major infectious diseases.

Currently, a plan is underway to decline the outbreak of tuberculosis disease in the country to less than 10 TB patients per 100,000 people in 2035 under the national strategic plan. In this regard, health institutions such as hospitals, clinics and rural health centres are playing a pivotal role in implementing the strategic plan.

On a recent day, the annual TB evaluation meeting took place at the Ministry of Health where the Union Minister for Health stressed the need for analyzing the strong and weak points of the work process in regions and states based on their experiences, adding future plans should be discussed openly.

Health staff members from different health institutions search for TB patients in society for luring them to take medical treatments for a brighter future. Thanks to their efforts, the number of TB patients is declining year by year in order to build a safe society free from tuberculosis, one of three major diseases TB, malaria and HIV/AIDS.

Thanks to collaborative efforts among the Ministry of Health, partner organizations and the people need to beef up the plan for enabling the people to have easy access to basic healthcare services and strive for achieving the set missions in 2030. The six components of the Stop TB strategy are: pursue high-quality DOTS expansion and enhancement, address TB/HIV, Multidrug-Resistant TB and the needs of poor and vulnerable populations, contribute to health system strengthening based on primary health care, engage all care providers, empower people with TB and communities through partnership, and enable and promote research.

by year in order to build a safe society free from tuberculosis, one of three major diseases TB, malaria and HIV/AIDS.

Only when the current generation is free from TB impacts can new generations build a healthier society and environment. If so, healthy youths will have the capacity to build a powerful country in the future.

As a saying goes: if you want success and growth in the future, the best time to act is now, all the entire people of Myanmar including authorities and health personnel should start the efforts to accelerate the enhancement of the health standard of the people with the fulfilment of healthcare services in full swing so as to lessen infection of tuberculosis disease among other common diseases. Those wishing to see a healthy nation in the future need to join the project of TB control.

Lotus in the mire

One may experience nausea and vomiting if he sees the mire, of which not only is the colour unattractive but the smell is awful. However, a beautiful lotus blossoms out of this mire. According to the metaphorical teachings of Buddha, the lotus flower is pure and beautiful, and it also carries the image of goodness and elegance. Ancient poetic also composed the golden lotus in the middle of a muddy lake.

Saya Thein Pe Myint and Saya Mya Than Tint also co-authored a novel, "The Lotus in the Mire", around 1960 (more than 60 years ago). It became a masterpiece. I have heard that both of them liked the original story and adopted it without translating it into Myanmar. Just as Sayagyi Shwe U Daung adopted Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's Sherlock Holmes novels as Detective Maung San Shar in Myanmar and Dagon Taryar created a Myanmar character called "May" adopted from a western country, "Lotus in the Mire" may have been written to suit Myanmar audience.

As for me, I fully support and welcome the arts which inspire people to strive for excellence and to make every endeavour to develop the nation without giving up at any cost despite all the troubles, crises, oppression and rejection.

Despite being fought to the point of extinction for ten years by the US Army, patriotic Vietnamese bravely fought against the Americans until the US Army fled the country hastily. I remember reading many poems during the 1969s and 1970s that called for a victory in the Vietnam War.

Ho Chi Minh, Chairman of the Viet Nam Party, also lead and mobilized the people to unite. The US Army and the Vietnamese People's Liberation Army differed in size and strength like gorillas and ants. The General of the Liberation Party executed white American soldiers in many battles.

We learned the following from the US-Viet Nam War of Invasion,

- (a) Financial strength is not the key
- (b) Modernization of ammunition and multiplication is not the key
- (c) Manpower is not a pri-

- mary factor
- (d) Ship, aircraft, helicopter, cannon, and fighting aids are not important
- (e) Isn't it the mindset of a man who dares to risk his life and fight for the country?
- (f) Just like the attitude of the thirty Myanmar com-
- rades that would fight against the British rule by sticking to any means possible to acquire independence.
- (g) The diary of Che Guevara, a revolutionary hero who bravely took part in the Cuban revolution, and Fidel Castro, the Cu-
- ban revolutionary leader (translated by Saya Linyon Maung Maung, Saya Soe Myaing) is inspiring. As a university student, I hated colonial capitalism bitterly. We know that we will see some of the various methods used to inter-

WHO Europe warns of 'challenging' Covid-19 autumn and winter

The strategy pushes increased vaccine uptake in the general population, a second booster dose for immuno-compromised people, a possible second booster to specific at-risk groups, and the use of face masks indoors and on public transportation.

THE World Health Organization's European office on Tuesday warned of a "challenging" autumn and winter amid a summer surge of Covid-19 cases and reduced surveillance among member states.

The warning was accompanied by a call from the health body for countries to "urgently address gaps in pandemic monitoring and response to avoid preventable deaths and severe disruptions".

"At this time last year, I spoke to you about a new wave of Covid-19 sweeping across the region, driven by the Delta variant amid the lifting of restrictions and increased social mixing," WHO regional director for Europe Hans Kluge said in a statement.

In a similar situation

"It's now abundantly clear we're in a similar situation to last summer — only this time the ongoing Covid-19 wave is being propelled by sub-lineages of the Omicron variant," he added. The rapid increase in cases coupled with "reduced virus surveillance" prompted the organization to "forecast a challenging autumn and winter in the European Region".

It also prompted the release of a Covid-19 strategy for autumn and winter; "to help prepare for the coming waves of infection".

"Waiting for the autumn to act will be too late," Kluge said.

The strategy pushes increased vaccine uptake in the general population, a second booster dose for immuno-compromised people, a possible second booster to specific at-risk groups, and the use of face masks indoors and on public transportation.

New infections in European area

Kluge said the number of new infections in the WHO's European area — 53 countries and regions including several in Central Asia — had tripled in the last six weeks. The region recorded 2,585,734 cases over the last seven days.

The organization noted that while hospitalization rates had doubled in the same period, admissions to intensive care units (ICU) had "so far remained relatively low". "However, as infection rates in older groups continue to rise, Europe is still seeing close to 3,000 people die of Covid-19 every week," Kluge stressed.

vene and manipulate us. The strong patriotism and national spirit of the ancient ethnic people of Kachin, Kayah, Chin, Mon, Myanmar, Rakhine and Shan can be seen clearly by looking back at their history. In such an era when the ethnic people were in unity, the Republic of the Union of Myanmar gained proper achievements in economy, military, social, education and religious affairs and also the respect of international countries.

There was a long history of people who wanted to rule their own region. The people ruled small-scale regions or states like a district of present days in a certain period when the country faced divisions and weaknesses. The power-mad persons who thought of themselves as kings fought each other without any power (the cumulative result of past meritorious deeds) and the country was not in stable condition because of the thieves and rebels. Surely, other countries will bully a nation that does not have peace, unity and power. There were historic lessons regarding it.

Studying history aims to follow the proper laws, ethics and basic principle. It does not aim to blame the Kings for their faults. Nowadays, the ethnic people should live in unity through thick and things as there is a saying if the cattle are scattered, the tiger seizes them. If the people apply the lessons learnt from history, they can create a better fine new history.

China does not have only the Hen as it organizes 55 ethnic groups. About 35 ethnicities are living only in Yunnan. The Kachin, Shan, Palaung, Wa, Lahu, Lishaw and Li living in Myanmar seem to be the relatives of Jain Phaw, Taing, Ta'ang, Yi and Wa (locally called Yunnan). Nevertheless, every person loves their country and the ethnic people should make efforts for their land, waters and country faithfully. There are also various types of people in the US.

The population, prosperity and wealth gaps play key roles. It should not say it is not a serious case. The readers should think that attitude is the main principle in creating a better future by studying the past. The morale of the country is also absolutely essential.

It also requires aptitude, predisposition, practices, skills and abilities. If there is such attitude and aptitude, the people or country will reach a higher level of altitude.

The author would like to put forward hard evidence to conclude the article.

The great Japanese artists Hokusai (1760-1849) and Hiroshige (1797-1858) painted pictures with a greatest love for their homeland than anyone else. The two artists' unique portraits were described in "The Big Wave", a novel by Pearl S. Buck that is about The Life and Survival of Four or Five Humans in a Japanese fishing village.

The novel achieves worldwide success and inspires every reader. It is translated into various languages. The book written in 1947 was filmed by a Japanese director and it erased all the mourning, sorrows and depression of people who suffered such feelings for two years after facing two nuclear bomb attacks.

Hiroshima and Nagasaki fell to ashes and the Japanese people were encouraged by that painting, novel and "The Big Wave" movie to become active again. Now, the country has the largest economy in the world.

It is so creative in presenting such concepts with the art of magic. The readers should read "The Big Wave" translated into the Myanmar language by Sayagyi Maung Paw Tun, a recipient of the National Literary Award for Lifetime Achievements, published the first edition in 1993 and the second edition in 2015. The people will understand that the literary, paintings and movies would bring glory to the country and people.

The people who have the ability to develop the country should participate in such doings. The artistes are warmly welcomed.

Driver-substitution system via Muse to China cuts transport costs, yet export declining MYANMAR trucks are allowed to border-crossing through Muse to China under the driver-substitution system, cutting transport costs. Nevertheless, the country's export sees a downtick.

Between 1 April and 8 July in the current financial year 2022-2023, Myanmar exported US$447.692 million worth of goods to China through the Muse border post. The figures drastically plummeted from $710.653 million recorded in the corresponding period last FY. There is a drop of $175.05 million in exports over the Q1 this year.

Prior to 16 May, China banned Myanmar trucks and drivers to enter its side owing to the COVID-19 restrictions and only Chinese short-haul drivers were allowed to transport the goods. This causes the problem of delays and bulk supply owing to the lack of Chinese short-haul truckers, prompting the operators to charge the transportation rate to exorbitant prices.

As a result of this, the cost of Chinese short-haul trucking tremendously rose to K10 million, whereas the trucking was worth only K700,000-800,000 when Myanmar truckers were allowed to enter China.

Myanmar trucks are given the go-ahead for border-crossing through the Kyinsankyawt-Wang Ding trade channel out of Muse border points under the driver-substitution system starting from 16 May 2022, said U Min Thein, vice-chair of the Muse Rice Wholesale Centre.

"The truck transport rate is affordable for now. Earlier, the freight rate was over K10 million for a truck carrying 1,000 rice bags (50 tonnes each). After 16 May, China gave the green light to the driver-substitution system and the transport cost is estimated at only K1.3 million," U Min Thein elaborated.

"Nonetheless, it will take some time to go back to normality in the Muse border post," U Min Thein added.

China shut down all the checkpoints linking to the Muse border amidst the COVID-19 pandemic. Of the checkpoints, Kyinsankyawt has resumed trading activity from 26 November on a trial run. Myanmar daily delivers rubber, green gram, chilli pepper, onion, mango and other food commodities to China through the Kyinsankyawt post.

Myanmar has opened five border trade camps with China - Muse, Lweje, Kampaiti, Chinswehaw and Kengtung. The majority of the trade is carried out through the Muse land border, the Ministry of Commerce's data indicated. — NN/GNLM

Domestic pure gold price remains strong despite fall in global market

DESPITE gold price dip to US$1,700 per ounce in global markets, the price of pure gold continues its gains at K2,060,000 per tical (0.578 ounce, or 0.016 kilogramme), according to Yangon Region Gold Entrepreneurs Association (YGEA).

While the global gold price stayed over $1,800 per ounce in June, the pure gold fetched only K2,050,000 per tical in the domestic market.

At present, the global gold price slump does not affect the domestic gold market and the price remains strong at K2,060,000 per tical.

Another reason for the price increase is attributed to the depreciation of the Kyat against the US dollar in the local forex. A dollar is valued at over K2,300 in the unofficial market.

Moreover, a surge in production cost on mounting inflation drove the price up, said U Myo Myint, chair of YGEA.

The price of fuel used in gold mining escalated from K300,000 to K700,000 per barrel.

Only when production costs and global gold prices drop can the price slide.

At the end of September 2021, a dollar value hit an all-time high of over K3,000 in the gold exchanges and consequently, the pure gold reached a record high of K2.22 million per tical in history.

Under the guidance of the Central Committee on Ensuring Smooth Flow of Trade and Goods, the Monitoring and Steering Committee on Gold and Currency Market was formed on 17 December 2021 as gold and currency market stability plays a crucial role in trade facilitation.

The objectives of the committee are inspecting and prosecuting market manipulation, checking if there is compliance with payment rules not in the domestic market, and proceeding against those unscrupulous traders who intend to interfere with the free and fair operation in the market under the existing laws, by-laws and regulations in line with the official directives, illegal foreign currency holding, illegal trade and taking legal actions against price manipulators.

Furthermore, the officials concerned will crack down on those people involved in charging a percentage for money withdrawals at banks as shadow money. — NN/GNLM

China EV giant BYD to sell passenger cars in Japan from 2023

THE Japanese arm of Chinese electric vehicle giant BYD Co. said Thursday it will begin selling passenger cars in Japan beginning 2023, with the company expected to face fierce competition from Western and domestic automakers.

BYD Japan Co. announced during a press conference in Tokyo that it is planning to release an SUV, compact car and EV sedan in sequential order, but refrained from announcing a price band.

“We would like to promote (the vehicles) at an accessible price range while remaining mindful of market conditions,” an executive of BYD Japan said.

Its SUV “Atto 3”, which was released in China in February this year and has a cruising range of 485 kilometres, will make its debut in Japan in January 2023.

The compact car and sedan, to become available in 2023 or later, both have cruising ranges of around 500 km. Travel agency H.I.S. to sell shares in “Huis Ten Bosch” resort

MAJOR Japanese travel agency H.I.S. Co. aims to sell its shares in the Dutch-themed “Huis Ten Bosch” seaside resort in Sasebo, Nagasaki Prefecture, in southwestern Japan, sources close to the matter said Thursday.

The Tokyo-based company is seeing its earnings deteriorate over a prolonged slump in overseas travel due to the coronavirus pandemic and losses racked up by a subsidiary in the electricity retailing business.

H.I.S. owns two-thirds of the shares in resort operator Huis Ten Bosch Co. and is expected to sell them for “tens of billions of yen” to companies such as an investment firm in Hong Kong, the sources said. The park itself will remain operational under a new owner.

Other Huis Ten Bosch shareholders, including regional companies Kyushu Electric Power Co. and Kyushu Railway Co., also plan to sell their shares at the same time, the sources said.

Meanwhile, the Nagasaki prefectural government has plans to turn the area into a so-called integrated resort, which would include a casino.—Kyodo

EU lifts sanctions on Syria’s Cham Wings airline

THE European Union said Wednesday it has lifted sanctions against Syria’s private airline Cham Wings, after the company was blacklisted last year for its alleged role in illegal migration to Europe.

“On 18 July, Cham

Wings was removed from the list of entities subject to EU sanctions in respect of Belarus,” the EU delegation to Syria said. The EU listed Syria’s only private airline last December saying it had increased flights to Minsk in the summer of 2021 to transport migrants seeking to cross from Belarus to the EU illegally.

“The sanctions were lifted from our company after we successfully denied all accusations and allegations against us,” Osama Satea of Cham Wings told AFP.—AFP

Hit by China shutdown, Tesla boosts auto prices and sells bitcoin

TESLA reported solid quarterly earnings Wednesday despite a hit from Covid-19 lockdowns in Shanghai that Chief Executive Elon Musk said prompted the company to liquidate most of its bitcoin holdings.

Musk, who has generated recent headlines over his controversial withdrawal from a $44 billion acquisition of Twitter, said the company had navigated a tricky environment with the Shanghai closure and lingering supply chain problems that have raised costs. The electric vehicle maker reported second-quarter profits of $2.3 billion, about twice that in the year-ago period as the automaker lifted car prices to “embarrassing” levels, as Musk put it.—AFP

Biden plans Africa summit in December as China influence grows

US President Joe Biden announced Wednesday that he will welcome African leaders to Washington in December, a new initiative to build ties with the continent where China's influence has been rising.

Biden said he will hold the summit from 13 to 15 December to "demonstrate the United States' enduring commitment to Africa."

"The US-Africa Leaders Summit will build on our shared values to better foster new eco-economic engagement," Biden said in a statement.

Secretary of State Antony Blinken announced the summit during a visit in November to Nigeria without giving a date. The summit comes as China — identified by the Biden administration as the leading US rival — as well as Russia and Turkey sharply increase their presence in Africa.

The US foreign aid chief, Samantha Power, on Monday urged China to do more to address the global food crisis aggravated by Russia's invasion of Ukraine as she announced more than $1 billion to avert starvation in the parched Horn of Africa.

US allies France, Britain and Japan have also been holding routine summits with African leaders. Biden did not specify the guest-list for the Africa summit.

RUSSIA - UKRAINE CONFLICT

Russia resumes critical gas supplies to Europe via Nord Stream

RUSSIA on Thursday restored critical gas supplies to Europe through Germany via the Nord Stream pipeline after 10 days of maintenance, but uncertainty lingered whether the Kremlin would still trigger an energy crisis on the continent this winter. "It's working," a Nord Stream spokesman said, without specifying the amount of gas being delivered.

Germany, which is heavily dependent on Russian gas, had feared that Moscow would not reopen the pipeline after the scheduled work and accused Moscow of using energy as a "weapon".

The showdown came amid the worst tensions in several years over Russia's invasion of Ukraine. Germany believes Russia is squeezing supplies in retaliation for Western sanctions over the war. Klaus Mueller, head of Germany's energy regulator, the Federal Network Agency, said that by Thursday morning gas flows were on track to return to 40 per cent of the pipeline's capacity — the same reduced level as before the maintenance work. — AFP

Western lenders give Ukraine more time on debt

A group of Western countries on Wednesday gave their green light to allow Ukraine to postpone interest payments on its debt and called on other countries to do so.

The delay in payments from August through at least the end of 2023 was accorded at the request of the Ukrainian government, which said the postponement of the payments would allow it to prioritise funding for the war effort.

"In these exceptional circumstances, and acknowledging Ukraine's exemplary track record of honouring debt service to date, the members of the Group of creditors of Ukraine support this" request to postpone interest payments, they said in a statement.

The group, which includes Britain, France, Germany, Japan and the United States, called on other countries which have lent money to Ukraine to join in the effort, as well as holders of Ukraine's bonds. — AFP

Russia asks UN chief to intervene in Ukraine grain talks

RUSSIA has asked UN Secretary-General Antonio Guterres to intervene in grain talks with Ukraine to facilitate Moscow's exports, Foreign Minister Sergei Lavrov said on Wednesday.

The complete capture of Mariupol is Russia's biggest victory since it launched what it calls a "special military operation" on 24 February. A Russian soldier in Mariupol. PHOTO: AFP/FILE Ukraine and Russia have held talks under Turkish and UN mediation to unblock crucial grain exports, as shipments from Ukrainian ports are disrupted by Moscow's military offensive.

Lavrov said Moscow had agreed to "basic principles" on a grain agreement with Ukraine, but that Kyiv's delegation had refused to include a clause to protect Russian exports.

"The UN delegation simply kept silent," he told state media in an interview.

New Sri Lanka president sworn in eyeing unity government

SRI Lanka's six-time prime minister Ranil Wickremesinghe was sworn in Thursday as president of the crisis-hit island nation, with plans to form a unity government to manage the turmoil.

The 73-year-old veteran politician, who was overwhelmingly elected as head of state in a parliamentary vote Wednesday, took his oath of office with the country's police chief and top military brass standing behind him.

Official sources said the new leader was expected to shortly form a cabinet to steer the country out of its worst economic crisis since gaining independence from Britain. Opposition leader Sajith Premadasa, who had supported a rival presidential candidate in Wednesday's vote, said he had met with Wickremesinghe to discuss how to protect the country from further "misery and disaster".

"We as an opposition will provide our constructive support for efforts to alleviate human suffering," Premadasa tweeted on Thursday. Wickremesinghe's cabinet is expected to include several opposition lawmakers.

A foreign exchange crisis triggered by the coronavirus pandemic and exacerbated by mismanagement has left Sri Lanka suffering lengthy power blackouts and record-high inflation. The country's 22 million people have also endured months of food, fuel and medicine shortages.

Public anger boiled over when tens of thousands of protesters stormed the home of then-president Gotabaya Rajapaksa, forcing him to step down and clearing the way for Wickremesinghe's election.— AFP

NEWS IN BRIEF

Iran says nuclear policy unchanged after 'bomb' remark

TEHRAN gave assurances Wednesday that its nuclear policy was unchanged and that it still adhered to a fatwa banning weapons of mass destruction, after an Iranian official said the country was able to make atomic bombs.

It is the second time in the past 18 months that Iran has reiterated its opposition to nuclear weapons following comments by an official.

"In regard to the topic of weapons of mass destruction, we have the fatwa", or religious edict, by Iran's supreme leader that prohibits the manufacture of such weapons, said foreign ministry spokesman Nasser Kanani.

The fatwa declares the use of atomic bombs and other weapons of mass destruction to be "haram", or forbidden by Islam, and it is often cited by Iranian authorities as a guarantee of Tehran's good intentions. "It seems that there has been no change in the view and position of the Islamic Republic of Iran" regarding the nuclear policy, Kanani told a news conference.—AFP

Last hours for Italy's Draghi after coalition implodes

ITALIAN Prime Minister Mario Draghi was expected to resign Thursday after efforts to bring the country's fractious parties to heel failed, kicking off a snap election campaign before the government had even fallen.

The 74-year-old told the lower house of parliament he was heading to the office of President

Sergio Mattarella, whose role it is to formally accept the resignation and guide the country out of the crisis.

Mattarella is likely to dissolve parliament and call early elections for September or October, according to political analysts. Draghi may stay on as head of the government until then.

Food-laden trucks head for Panama City as road blockades persist

A convoy of some 200 food-laden trucks headed for Panama's capital on Wednesday with a police escort as protesters maintained crippling roadblocks in a standoff with the government over the soaring cost of living.

A fresh round of negotiations announced Tuesday after some demonstrators rejected an earlier deal have yet to begin as trade unions and other civic groups consider their joint position. The caravan left from Chiriqui in Panama's food-growing west on Wednesday for the 500-kilometre (310-mile) journey to Panama City, with hundreds of tonnes of food.

The trucks were escorted by police and members of the Suntracs construction workers' union, one of the organizations taking part in the protests against rising fuel prices and living costs.— AFP
