Extend cultivation of Hsinshweli paddy

The government is making efforts for boosting production of per acre yield while extending cultivation acreage of paddy for sufficiency of local consumption.

The government is also taking measures for production of 1,500 million baskets of paddy a year after growing 20 million acres of paddy—17 million acres of monsoon paddy plus 3 million acres of summer paddy.

The goal is to produce 100 baskets per acres. It is necessary for farmers to fully utilize correct cultivation technologies and exploit other resources to reach the target set. What is important is to use quality paddy strains.

Hsinshweli paddy is a hybrid of quality strain that can produce high per acre yield. Average per acre yield is 200 baskets and quality is high. It is a suitable kind of paddy for farmers to grow. Hsinshweli paddy can be grown as monsoon and summer paddy. The grain becomes fully ripe about 110 days after planting.

Such Hsinshweli paddy is grown in some states and divisions in special high yield farms. It is grown both in wet regions and in arid zone in central Myanmar.

We urge the farmers to extend cultivation of Hsinshweli paddy in cooperation with agricultural personnel.

US Republican urges Iraq troop cut, Maliki faulted

WASHINGTON, 25 Aug — In a double setback for US President George W Bush, an intelligence report cast doubt on Iraqi Prime Minister Nuri al-Maliki's leadership and an influential senator in Bush's Republican Party urged him on Thursday to begin a troop pullout.

Warner said Maliki had "let our troops down" by failing to take steps toward political reconciliation that would help stabilize Iraq. He said Bush should announce next month an initial withdrawal of US troops as a way to spur the Iraqi Government into action.

"We simply cannot, as a nation, stand and put our troops at continuous risk of loss of life and limb without beginning to take some decisive action which will get everybody's attention," Warner told reporters following a visit to Iraq.

US political leaders have assailed Maliki's ability to govern Iraq. The unpopular war has featured prominently in the campaign for the November 2008 presidential election, with Democrats and some Republicans urging a US troop withdrawal.

Rich Russian tries to buy US bomber at airshow

MOSCOW, 25 Aug — A wealthy Russian tried to buy a US B-52 bomber from a group of shocked American pilots at an airshow near Moscow, a Russian newspaper reported recently.

The unidentified Russian, wearing sunglasses and surrounded by bodyguards, approached the US delegation and asked to buy the bomber, the Komsomolskaya Pravda newspaper said.

An astounded member of the US delegation said the bomber was not for sale but that it would cost at least 500 million US dollars if it were to be sold on the spot. "That is no problem. It is such a cool machine," the Russian was quoted as saying by the newspaper, which said its reporter overheard the conversation. The bomber was not sold. Russia's new rich, who built

Stolen medicines in Mozambique sold in Malawi

MAPUTO, 25 Aug — Mozambique's Health Minister Ivo Garrido has claimed that an increasing number of medicines stolen from the country's National Health System are finding their way into the neighbouring Malawi, the official media AIM reported on Friday.

"We uncovered a theft of huge amounts of medicines in Zambezia Province," Garrido said during the Third National Meeting to Accelerate Leprosy Eradication on Thursday.

"In the following day, we found and intercepted a heavy truck loaded with these medicines in the border district of Milange, and therefore we presume that the product was about to be introduced in Malawi," he added.

According to Garrido, this often involves gangs of organized crime, who are even using heavy trucks to carry the stolen medicines, the news agency said. On the occasion, he also urged the citizens to denounce any suspicious cases to the relevant authorities, as the country could face the risk of being unable to provide adequate health-care. — MNA/Xinhua

Incendiary devices found at French business school

PARIS, 25 Aug — Three incendiary devices were found on Thursday on the campus of a top French business school ahead of a meeting due to be attended by President Nicolas Sarkozy, a judicial official said.

The devices, bottles filled with flammable liquid linked to ignition systems with a timer, were found in the toilets of business school HEC in a suburb west of Paris.

Employers' group MEDEF is due to hold its summer university at HEC from 29 August to 31 August. Business leaders and dignitaries including Sarkozy and EU foreign policy chief Javier Solana are expected to attend.

A spokesman for the Paris public prosecutor's office said they were "well-made devices, not something completely basic". They did not contain any explosives and would only have started a fire if they had gone off. An anti-terrorist investigation had been launched, the spokesman said, adding that investigators had not reached any conclusions on who might be responsible. US troops kill at least ten in northern Baghdad

BAGHDAD, 25 Aug — The US troops backed by aircraft clashed with Shiite militiamen in north of Baghdad early on Friday, killing at least ten people and wounding some 20 others, an Interior Ministry source said.

The pre-dawn clashes erupted after the US helicopters fired at the Mahdi Army militiamen, loyal to radical cleric Moqtada al-Sadr in the neighbourhood of Shu'la, the source told Xinhua on condition of anonymity.

The helicopter fire killed at least ten people and wounded 20 others, along with damaging several houses, the source added.

The US military did not confirm the incident, but said they were checking reports.

Shu'la neighbourhood is one of the main strongholds in Baghdad for Shiite militia, including the Mahdi Army, who the US forces claim were responsible for 73 per cent of attacks on their troops in Baghdad in July.

Bali restaurants drop chicken and duck from menu

KUTA (Indonesia), 25 Aug — Some restaurants in Bali, Indonesia's main resort island, have taken chicken and duck off the menu after two Indonesian women died of bird flu in the past two weeks, an official said on Friday.

While Indonesia has reported 84 deaths from bird flu, the tourist island of Bali had, until this month, not suffered any human fatalities from the disease. Now, officials fear that the two deaths from bird flu in Bali could hit tourism.

Cok Ardhana, head of the Indonesian Association of Hotels and Restaurants in Bali, told Reuters that some restaurants had dropped chicken and duck dishes due to lack of demand from foreigners.

"This is to show customers that the local tourism industry is doing something to keep people safe from bird flu," he said.

Indonesia to continue LNG supplies for Japan after 2010

JAKARTA, 25 Aug — Indonesia plans annual shipments of up to five million tons of liquefied natural gas (LNG) to Japan after their current contracts end in 2010, despite the country's plan to sell more of its gas domestically, local Press said Friday.

State-owned oil and gas company Pertamina, which handles sales of the country's LNG, will ship about two million tons of the total five million tons from the Senoro LNG plant in Central Sulawesi, reported English daily The Jakarta Post.

Pertamina deputy president director Iin Arifin Takhyan said Japan-based company Mitsubishi is a majority shareholder in the Senoro LNG project, with a 51-per-cent stake.

Japan had demanded Indonesia guarantee the continuity of its LNG exports as part of the Economic Partnership Agreement signed by President Bambang Susilo Yudhoyono and Japanese Prime Minister Shinzo Abe early last week.

Under the current contracts, Indonesia ships 12 million tons a year to Japan.

Iin, who heads the negotiation team for the extension of LNG export contracts with Japan, said with Indonesian gas production limited due to a lack of new findings and aging fields, it was important for the government to prioritize the domestic gas market.

However, he said Pertamina was still open to more negotiations on the amount of gas that would be exported and at what price.

Of Indonesia's total annual LNG exports of 24 million tons, 12 million tons go to Japan.

Trade between China, ROK expected to top $150b in 2007

SHANGHAI, 26 Aug — Trade volume between China and the Republic of Korea (ROK) is likely to exceed 150 billion US dollars in 2007, according to Zhang Wei, vice-president of the China Council for the promotion of International Trade.

Both sides had hoped bilateral trade volume would reach 200 billion US dollars by 2012 and the goal would be achieved ahead of time, Zhang told a seminar on investment in the ROK held here Friday.

Last year, China-ROK trade volume reached 134.3 billion US dollars, increasing by almost 26 times from more than five billion dollars in 1992, when the two countries established diplomatic ties. The ROK has become China's sixth largest trade partner after the European Union, the United States, Japan,

Vietnam lures more FDI in first eight months

HANOI, 25 Aug — Vietnam is estimated to lure foreign direct investment (FDI) of over 8.3 billion US dollars in the first eight months of this year, up 40 per cent over the same period last year, according to a local investment agency on Friday.

As many as 814 new foreign-invested projects worth more than seven billion dollars are expected to be licensed in the first eight months, and 247 existing projects are set to raise their combined capital by 1.3 billion dollars, said the Foreign Investment Agency under the Ministry of Planning and Investment.

South Korea, with an investment of over 1.7 billion dollars, is the biggest among 40 foreign investors in Vietnam in the first eight months of this year, followed by Singapore with more than 1.3 billion dollars, said the agency.

To lure more FDI, the Vietnamese Government has asked localities and relevant agencies to announce the list of projects calling for FDI in the coming years, to intensify investment promotion designated for certain countries and multinationals, to develop auxiliary industries for manufacturing, assembling, textile, garment and footwear production, and to improve socioeconomic infrastructure.

Vietnam is expected to lure FDI of 12 billion dollars this year, up from 10.2 billion dollars last year, according to the agency.—MNA/Xinhua

Russia aims to sell India 40 fighters in Sept

MOSCOW, 25 Aug — Russia hopes to sign a contract next month to sell India 40 Sukhoi fighters, the president of the Irkut warplane maker said on Friday, Interfax news agency reported.

"We hope to sign a contract in September to deliver another 40 SU-30MKI fighters to India," Irkut president Oleg Demchenko told Interfax.

The SU-30MKI is a long-haul Sukhoi fighter specially modified for the Indian Air Force. Indian officials had said they planned to sign a deal to buy 40 Sukhoi fighters by the end of March.

India's Air Force, one of the biggest in the world, also plans to buy 126 new combat aircraft to upgrade New Delhi's fleet which includes ageing Russian MiG-21s, MiG-23s and MiG-27s.

The 126-plane deal has attracted interest from European players like France's Dassault, which is promoting its Rafale fighter, and Sweden's Saab, eager to sell its JAS-39 Gripen.

Boeing's F/A-18 Super Hornet and Lockheed Martin's F-16 are also competing for the contract.

Irkut's Demchenko said the firm had built an order book of 242 SU-30 fighters, adding that those orders would keep the enterprise working at full capacity at least until 2012. —MNA/Reuters

Vietnam posts bigger export revenues in first eight months

HANOI, 25 Aug — Vietnam is estimated to gain export turnovers of more than 31.2 billion US dollars in the first eight months of this year, a year-on-year rise of 19.3 per cent, local newspaper Investment reported Friday.

In August alone, Vietnam is set to earn 4.4 billion dollars from shipping abroad goods, mainly crude oil, garments and textiles, rubber, pepper, rice and seafood, up 3.7 per cent, the paper said quoting sources from the Vietnamese Ministry of Planning and Investment.

Between January and August, the country is estimated to sell overseas 21 million tons of coal, and 940,000 tons of coffee, posting respective year-on-year rises of 18.8 per cent and 47.3 per cent.

Vietnam posted export turnovers of 39.6 billion dollars in 2006, up 22.1 per cent against 2005.

Nepal suffers huge third country trade deficit

KATHMANDU, 25 Aug — Due to a sharp rise in imports vis-a-vis exports, Nepal's trade deficit with the third countries posted a whopping 51.6 billion Nepali rupees (some 794 million US dollars) during the first 11 months of 2006-07 fiscal year ended in mid-July.

According to a provisional data released Saturday by the Trade and Export Promotion Centre (TEPC), total exports dropped by 6.8 per cent during the period, while the imports registered a growth of 11.3 per cent.

Nepal exported various goods worth over 15.29 billion rupees (some 235 million dollars) during the period, whereas the total imports stood at 66.89 billion rupees (some 1.02 billion dollars).

TEPC has cited a number of factors — including plunge in exports of readymade garments and woolen carpets, as well as unfavourable security condition, frequent bandhs, lack of investment-friendly environment and power shortages — for a continuous fall of exports.

Of the two major exportable commodities, the export of woolen carpets dropped by 10.8 per cent to 4.76 billion rupees (some 73.2 million dollars) during the period, while the exports of readymade garments witnessed a whopping fall of 26.3 per cent to 3.55 billion rupees (some 64.6 million dollars). The major markets for woolen carpets are Germany, Britain, the United States and Switzerland, whereas a majority of the garments were exported to the US, France and Canada.

Among the third country markets, the US consumed 32.4 per cent of total exports followed by Germany with 15.4 per cent. Britain stood at third with 5.7 per cent, France at fourth with 5.4 per cent and Hong Kong at fifth with 4.8 per cent.

No bird flu found in southern Israeli farm

JERUSALEM, 25 Aug — Tests conducted by Israeli veterinary authority indicated that chickens in a southern Israeli farm kibbutz were not infected with bird flu virus, Israel's top-selling daily Yedioth Ahronoth reported on Friday.

There is no fear that the chicken coops in Kibbutz Grofit in the Arava Region have been infected with the fatal bird flu virus, Moshe Haimovitch, head of the National Veterinary Services, was quoted as saying.

Sample tests conducted on Thursday by the Health Ministry, the Agriculture Ministry and the Veterinary Services revealed that the bird flu virus may have infected the chicken coops in Kibbutz Grofit.

As a result of the initial tests, additional tests were taken, and the henhouses were quarantined on Thursday morning.

"We are currently conducting peripheral tests that are part of sample tests done in a bid to map the country, in compliance with international requirements," Haimovitch said on Thursday.

The bird flu epidemic, which broke out in many areas across the world in recent years, appeared in Israel in March 2006. Millions of hens were culled following three separate outbreaks throughout the month in order to stop the epidemic from spreading.

The National Convention that is laying foundation for the drafting of an enduring and reliable constitution for the future State is nearing successful completion. The entire mass of people are happy and proud looking forward to the forthcoming victory of national significance. However, I am not pleased when I see certain opposing elements attempting to hamper the positive developments. Their attempts are like that of someone trying to set fire to the granary since he cannot eliminate the harmful rodents there or like that of someone who throws sand at the meat he could not eat.

We, the people, have put the 1990 election in the history for long. The so-called NLD representatives-elect, however, continue to cling to it. When I think of them I remember a fable about a foolish crow clinging on a carcass of an elephant floating at sea thinking that it could depend on it for its food for long. They are too much attached to the 1990 elections. In the latest development, a three-page letter signed by 92 persons led by some NLD representatives-elect and those of the CRPP was said to have been sent to Ban Ki-mon, the Secretary-General of the

a new government is to be formed immediately and power is to be transferred to it without delay. The aim is the same. Member of the CRPP U Phu Kyint Shin Htan was said to have signed at the end of the letter. It was nothing unusual when I learnt that the plot was conspired behind the scene by Min Ko Naing and group although it was said to have been initiated by U Phu Kyint Shin Htan, U Htawng Kho Htan, U Aye Tha Aung and U Soe Win.

Readers may recall my article entitled "To national traitors under the name of students". The article was written based on the letters of Min Ko Naing and group sent to Chinese President Hu Jintao and Russian President Vladimir Putin. Out of goodwill, I singled out facts warning them to stop their acts of writing and sending letters with intent to tarnish the image of the nation and the people and to put an end to making accusations. The public may have recalled the contents of my article that Min Ko Naing and group would be punished by the nation and the people inevitably and legal action would be taken against them for betraying national cause by writing such letters that would go down in history as black marks.

I, an ordinary member of the public, have persons including Min Ko Naing were said to have been called in for questioning by the authorities on 21-8-2007.

The foreign media has been stirring up the dust among the public but that dust has now been cleared. The public are now pleased with the belief that they will now be able to live with peace of mind. It is the truth. Out of the group, Htay Kywe is said to have absconded. He is a well known cheat, who, during the 1988 disturbances invented a news story in collusion with BBC correspondent Christopher Gunness and Ma Aye Nyein Thu that the girls were raped in the prison. He will not escape from the criminal acts he has constantly and repeatedly committed against the nation. Action will be taken against the violators based on the findings.

The so-called CRPP members despite their old age seemed to have been used by Min Ko Naing and group for their greed for power. They did not seem to think about the impact of their acts and who would be adversely affected. And it was likely that they knowingly committed acts with no consideration for others but for self-interest.

In fact, the ruling government, since 1988, has abolished the centralized socialist economic system to introduce the open-door market economic system and multi-party democracy desired by the people. If we recall the 1988 disturbances we will see that the public disapproved of the single party system but they were in favour of the democracy system. They preferred market economy to the socialist

United Nations, on 1-8-2007.

The letters sent to the international bodies by Daw Suu Kyi and U Tin Oo plus "88" generation group and CRPP may weigh as much as tons in total. They have done so even though they know that such acts of lodging unfounded complaints tarnish the image and prestige of the nation and the people. They have done the same thing again.

They have demanded the United Nations to initiate a tripartite dialogue accusing the present National Convention in session of being a sham one. They said that the fundamental principles and the detailed basic principles adopted by the ongoing National Convention would be recognized in principle and they would be approved only after they were discussed by the three groups—the Tatmadaw government, the representatives-elect and the national race delegates. They said there would be a time frame and demanded that the commission that would be drafting the new constitution was to be made up of equal number of delegates representing the Tatmadaw, NLD, the national race armed groups and the armed groups that had ceased fire. They added that the Hluttaw was to be convened according to the results of the 1990 election and the Hluttaw was to approve the new constitution. The essence is that new elections are to be held, new Hluttaw is to be convened and been able to see the situation correctly. So, it is not that Min Ko Naing and group, persons of a wider vision, have not assessed the situation correctly. The ruling government, too, would certainly know the acts of Min Ko Naing and group. Well, when one side knowingly moved forward another kept watch on the moves out of magnanimity.

Now, I have learned that the authorities called in Min Ko Naing and group for questioning despite our repeated warnings. The acts of the group to undermine stability and security of State and disrupt the National Convention infringed the law (Law No 5/96) guarding against acts undermining the efforts to successfully carry out peaceful transfer of State responsibilities and facilitate the proceedings of the National Convention. Moreover, the conspiracy to commit subversive acts in collusion with insurgent groups violates the existing laws. Therefore, 13

If we recall the 1988 disturbances we will see that the public disapproved of the single party system but they were in favour of the democracy system. economy. This being so, the public demand focused on the above points during the early stage of the 1988 incident. My memory is still afresh that the then President Dr Maung Maung offered multi-party democracy elections within three months in response to the demands of the people for democracy. He did so ignoring the existing constitution then. He thus paved the way for a systematic change over to democracy.

However, all may remember that self-proclaimed people's leaders "Aung-Suu-Tin" turned down the offer but insisted on forming an interim government. This coincided with the timely arrival of US Congressman Steven J Solarz, Chairman of the East Asia-Pacific Affairs Sub-committee of the US House of Representatives and the result of his directives. It is common knowledge. It is clear that "Aung-Suu-Tin" at that time had no desire whatsoever to sincerely change over to democracy ignoring the offer of a systematic and smooth transformation to democracy made by Dr Maung Maung's government. If they truly desired democracy, they would have accepted the offer and established a democratic nation with pleasure.

The Tatmadaw government did not lose sight of the State constitution. At that time, it held the coordination meeting on organizing the National Convention with representatives of political parties, independent representatives-elect and representatives-elect. With their consent the National Convention was held.

In reality, democracy was not what they desired. "Power" was their desire although they made the people shout "democracy". It was to grab power after on transgering an interim government. They turned down the offer of democracy in disregard of the desire of the nation and the people and insisted on transferring power. This is known to all the entire people. Since the existing constitution did not allow formation of an interim government, the situation got worse and the "88" disturbances had gone out of control. This was followed by nation-wide chaos and destruction.

The administrative machinery was in total break-down. As anarchy involving killing, looting and arson reigned throughout the nation people had to lead their life under constant fear and alarm. In that situation, were one of Aung-Suu-Tin so-called public leaders, able to control the people? No, they were in unable to control the people that were in commotion.

The innocent people were in great trouble and the nation was on the brink of disintegration should the situation was not put under control. In such circumstances, the Tatmadaw had unavoidably to take the State responsibilities. Actually, the reason that the Tatmadaw had to do so was not for power but in national interest. If the situation was not under control in time we dared not think what would happen next. We who had witnessed the "88" unrest in a real sense have a strong dislike to such situation. We do not wish to see it again. And it is the genuine desire of the people.

When all opportunities are bright for systematic transition to genuine discipline-flourishing multiparty system, the so-called 92 MPs and Min Ko Naing group sent a letter to Ban Ki-mon. So, we don't need to ask their intention. I would like to ask them to relinquish their plots to undermine the National Convention that is going to conclude successfully and their earnest attempts to destroy the Union that is on its way to democracy goal like a train in full speed, in collusion with their masters they obey like their stepfather.

On the day when the Tatmadaw had assumed the State responsibilities, the State Law and Order Restoration Council laid down the four major tasks to be implemented immediately under the Declaration No 1/88. The four major tasks are community peace and tranquillity and prevalence of law and order; smooth and secure transport; providing the people with food, clothing and shelter needs; and holding of the multiparty democracy general election when the above-mentioned tasks have been completed. The Tatmadaw started to work for democracy on the first day on which it assumed the State responsibilities. No one can deny it. Since then, the Tatmadaw upholding Our Three Main National Causes has been implementing the tasks for the emergence of a modern, developed and discipline-flourishing democratic nation.

As a matter of fact, the transition to multiparty democracy cannot be possible without an enduring State constitution. The State constitution plays a pivotal role in the practice of democracy. It is known to all that both the 1947 Constitution and the 1974 Constitution cannot be applied in transition to democracy. Therefore, the Tatmadaw government held the multiparty democracy general election in the fairest way on 27-5-1990 to be able to draft the State constitution. Since the period of pre-election, it had already informed all the parties that stood for election that the State constitution was abolished in 1988 and the new one had to be adopted. It is a historic fact that cannot be destroyed. However, the NLD was only eager to be handed over power to it after the election relegating the drawing of the State constitution. How was the State power to be handed over without a constitution?

At this juncture, the NLD held a meeting called Gandhi Conference with a handful of its representatives-elect. Moreover, the NLD with conceit said that if Hluttaw was not convened and the State power was not handed over to it in September 1990 some kind of trouble would take place.

However, the Tatmadaw government did not lose sight of the State constitution. At that time, it held the coordination meeting on organizing the National Convention with representatives of political parties, independent representatives-elect and representatives-elect. With their consent the National Convention was held. Therefore, the National Convention was not the one held in a hurry with the sole consent of the Tatmadaw government but the one held after a thorough coordination according to the historical demand. This point is mentioned again for a big political party and opposing groups that are pretending to forget it.

The sessions of the National Convention were held six times from 1993 to 1996. Altogether 10 political parties including the NLD attended the sessions of the National Convention in which eight groups of delegates successfully laid down 104 fundamental principles and some detailed basic principles for the drafting of the State constitution. However, when the National Convention was in session with momentum the NLD's delegates walked out of it under the order of Daw Suu Kyi. The NLD's delegates did so since the attitude of Daw Suu Kyi had changed after meeting with American permanent ambassador to United Nations Madeline Albright on 9-9-1995. Since then, Daw Suu Kyi criticized the procedures on holding the National Convention. Although the NLD constantly demanded a dialogue they themselves deviated from the national path of dialogue.

Consequently, the National Convention was temporarily adjourned. If Daw Suu Kyi and the NLD gave priority to the interest of the State and the people and continued taking part in the National Convention the new Constitution has perhaps already emerged. And a new democratic nation aspired by all the people is beginning to take shape. It is obvious by whom the process of the National Convention was delayed.

The stability of the State and prevalence of law and order is indispensable in introducing democracy. The development of national economy is also needed. Moreover, all the people who are to practise democracy need to be mature, learned and knowledgeable. Due to lack of the three factors the parliamentary democracy that was practised from 1948 to 1962 met with failure. Due to the evil legacy of colonialists democracy could not be introduced as the education, health, social and economic sectors of the State lagged behind in development, and

We are looking forward to the day to ratify the new Constitution with our votes. We are ready to decide the nation's future with our wish that comes out from the bottom of our hearts. (from page 9) community peace and tranquillity and prevalence of law and order were in bad shape to such extent that the government was called Yangon Government. Therefore, the Tatmadaw government made efforts in a deep sense to successfully introduce democracy as soon as possible based on the above-mentioned three factors. In the meantime, it has laid down and is implementing the seven-point Road Map.

Having overcome a string of difficulties and obstacles, the Tatmadaw government reconvened the National Convention on 17-5-2004 with the aim of building a democratic nation aspired by the people. In the process, it has invited all the ten political parties including the NLD. But the NLD boycotted the National Convention. Likewise, the Shan National League for Democracy (SNLD) which was under the influence of the NLD failed to attend the National Convention. However, all the remaining delegates with Union Spirit and the spirit to serve the interest of the State and the people actively took part in the NC. At present, the sessions of the NC are being held five times and it will soon be successfully completed. And then, the drawing of the State constitution, referendum and election of representatives of the people will be carried out step by step according to the programmes laid down.

However much the Tatmadaw government is good, as for the external and internal government opponents like CRPP "grapes are sour". Whatever political views and convictions they have individually and group-wise, the common stand of those opponents is to undermine the National Convention, for eruption of commotion like the 1988 unrest and to launch lawful and unlawful political defiance campaigns. Their means will be different from one another, but their strategy is the same. NLD, CRPP and Min Ko Naing group are following the same trend.

They are trying to find fault on and attacking the National Convention, that is going to conclude successfully soon, slandering the Tatmadaw's 25 per cent participation in the Hluttaw through exaggerations and supporting the unlawful federal constitution that was drawn by themselves. Nothing can change the government's stance as it is firm and sincere. The barking of a dog cannot move a mountain, but it is an unpleasant sound.

When all opportunities are bright for systematic transition to genuine discipline-flourishing multiparty system, the so-called 92 MPs and Min Ko Naing group sent a letter to Ban Ki-mon. So, we don't need to ask their intention. I would like to ask them to relinquish their plots to undermine the National Convention that is going to conclude successfully and their earnest attempts to destroy the Union that is on its way to democracy goal like a train in full speed, in collusion with their masters they obey like their stepfather. The entire people are striving happily with new force and vigour to build a democratic nation with the Tatmadaw's leadership.

U Phu Kyint Shin Htan, U Htawng Kho Htan, U Aye Tha Aung and U Soe Win of CRPP who wrote the letter are national traitors of certain parties that were declared unlawful. The so-called MPs are ex-criminals who were imprisoned for their various crimes. As the letter was arranged by political opportunist Min Ko Naing, I am certain that the letter's standard will not even reach the level of my little daughter's essay. Hence, the AP news agency said that it seemed that the UN never paid any attention to the said letter.

It is obvious that the demands made in the letter are unrealistic when compared with the objective conditions. The opponents even said that the Constitution could not be ratified by the referendum; that it could be approved by the out-of-date-election-based Hluttaw. They are so ridiculous. Referendum is the best way to ratify the new Constitution that concerns the entire people. We are looking forward to the day to ratify the new Constitution with our votes. We are ready to decide the nation's future with our wish that comes out from the bottom of our hearts. I, on behalf of the people, would like to say that they should not make suggestions or send letters of complaint to anywhere at this time and situation.

Moreover, the 28-6-2007-dated announcement of Min Ko Naing group in connection with its view on the Constitution and the 8-8-2007 dated announcement on the 19th anniversary of the so-called uprising for democracy appeared. Those announcements are nothing new. The group even said that the 1988 unrest broke out due to the 1974 Constitution. It is totally groundless. The unrest broke out as the people were misinformed and misled by the plots of BCP, the original master of Min Ko Naing, and the elements from inside and outside the country. I think the group has gone too far to put the blame on the 1974 Constitution.

Actually, the 1974 Constitution was not totally free from faults. But it was not as bad as it was slandered by Min Ko Naing group. The Constitution was ratified by the public ardently as they really wanted it. We of the national forces strongly condemn the announcements of the irrational group.

In fact, Min Ko Naing entered into the politics in the late 1988 unrest, taking advantage of the students' affairs. The unrest began on 8 August 1988, however I wonder where he was hiding at that time? He is in reality just a Communist who appeared in the public site at the students conference on 28 August 1988 and seized the seat of the leader of the students with the support of the Burma Communist Party. In addition, he is a political opportunist who got on the political stage and claimed himself to be an activist. Then, he became the chairman of the Ba Ka Tha. He is also a true destructionist trying to incite wholesale public demonstrations through semi-underground activities. He absolutely lacks political concept because he even does not know what he is exercising is left-wing policy, right-wing policy or liberal democracy. Lacking political experience, once he irresponsibly made a criticism that Daw Suu Kyi and U Tin Oo were such kind of pro-democracy activists with no political origin.

And the people will no longer have patience with such destructive acts. I would like to remind them again that they may face evil consequences punished by the people much severer than legal action.

So, it has become clear that Min Ko Naing is exactly following the methods of his masters from the BCP. The campaigns Min Ko Naing has initiated recently are, in reality, merely the political defiance methods of Gene Sharp who the BCP takes refuge in.

He is violating the existing law variously again and again by provoking public outrage to undermine State's stability and peaceful conditions, launching a variety of campaigns designed to oppose the government, and attempting to commit destructive acts in collusion with terrorist insurgents. Moreover, he keeps on writing letters in complicity with the CRPP to disrupt the progress of the National Convention, thereby violating Order 5/96. In this regard, the government should have taken punitive action against him. However, it is the government that has not done so for long due to its magnanimity towards him. Unavoidably, the government now has to call him in for questioning for stability, security and peace of the State.

Should the CRPP including some NLD member representatives-elect continue to perpetrate similar activities, surely, they, like so-called "88" generation students group of Min Ko Naing, will face punishments. It is because no one is above the law. Therefore, I would like to urge them to respect the law because action may be taken against them soon.

It is time the anti-government groups inside and outside the country gave up anti-government movements, anti-National Convention movements, anti-State Constitution movements, and anti-referendum movements. And they should have been embarrassed by feeling of respect for the Tatmadaw government that has expressed its benevolent attitude towards them and understood and forgiven their violating the existing law many times. They should also have been considerate towards the aspiration of the people to participate in the building of a discipline-flourishing genuine democratic nation. If they stick to such activities they will face action to be taken against them and the government will not remain indifferent. And the people will no longer have patience with such destructive acts. I would like to remind them again that they may face evil consequences punished by the people much severer than legal action. My genuine goodwill inspires me to warn them about possible dangers.

Six die as fires ravage southern Greece

ATHENS, 25 Aug — At least six people died and thousands of acres (hectares) of forest were consumed in fires racing through Greece's southerly Peloponnese Peninsula on Friday, officials said.

Four people were found dead near a hotel north of the town of Areopolis, around 300 kilometres (190 miles) south of Athens, and two firefighters also died, the fire brigade and police said.

It was not clear whether the other four were locals or tourists.

Dozens of villages asked for help, from the Peloponnese's western coast to the southern region of Mani some 80 kilometres (50 miles) further east as the fires were spread by strong winds.

"The situation is extremely dire," the mayor of the coastal town of Zacharo, Pantazis Chronopoulos, told reporters. "The speed with which this fire has been spreading is astonishing."

Bomb explosion kills six family members in central Mozambique

MAPUTO, 25 Aug — Six people of the same family died, and another three sustained severe injuries after a detonation of an explosive device in the central Mozambican province of Zambezia this week, according to Mozambique Nnews Agency on Friday.

The district police command of Namacurra said that the device was found by a group of children who were playing around their residence.

The source said that, after they realized the strange shape of the artifact, they called their father to identify it, and he took it home.

Instead of alerting the authorities, he thought that it could be useful at home, and started "cleaning" it up, which took some hammering, causing the explosion, that immediately killed six members of his family.

The police believed that the shape of the device was at the origin of the curiosity of the man, since it looked like a bowl, and with some weight, which led him to try and open it to check what was inside that "bowl".

One of the wounded relatives was driven to the Quelimane Provincial Hospital, where he remains under medical care, after suffering injuries in his back.

Reporters learnt that Namacurra was once a base of the former rebel movement Renamo, today the main opposition party in the country, and think that the device might have been planted during the 16-year war of destabilization.

Following this incident, the Zambezia provincial government dispatched a team to Eluto to investigate the case.

Experts say Asia must step up HIV/AIDS fight

COLOMBO, 25 Aug — Asian countries must work hard to keep their HIV/AIDS prevalence rates low compared to that in Africa by tackling root causes like poverty, gender inequality and marginalization, experts said on Thursday.

Researchers have found a way to induce out-of-body experiences using virtual-reality goggles, helping to explain a phenomenon reported by about one in 10 people.

drug use and conflict continue to spread HIV in Asia, experts warned as the eighth International Congress on AIDS in Asia and the Pacific wrapped up in the Sri Lankan capital. "In the Asia Pacific Region, we are at high risk of a massive spread of HIV," said Dr Samlee Plianbanchang, Southeast Asia regional director for the World Health Organization. "This is not only due to the large size of the population and the high burden of sexually transmitted infections, but also due to the prevailing risk behaviours and vulnerabilities as well as in-herent social stigma."

The Asia-Pacific Region has an estimated 5.4 million people living with HIV, the world's second largest number after sub-Saharan Africa — where 25.8 million people are infected with the virus. Anywhere between 140,000 and 610,000 people die from AIDS-related illnesses in the Asia Pacific Region each year, according to UNAIDS.

Safeguarding rights of the most vulnerable, such as sex workers, intravenous drug users, and women and children trafficked in the region is essential in tandem with prevention programmes, experts say.

Free treatment offered at Chinese psychiatric health centres

SHANGHAI, 25 Aug — A special establishment designed to offer free treatment for mental health patients has been launched in Shanghai.

Located in the Shanghai Mental Health Centre (SMHC), the "New Beginning" facility would serve as a third option for patients suffering from psychiatric disorders after home and hospitals, said Tang Wenzhong, director of the rehabilitation section of SMHC.

Xu Yifeng, deputy head of SMHC, said the facility was staffed by professional psychiatrists, psychologists, legal experts, nurses and social workers.

Patients will receive rehabilitation by learning skills, such as music, dance, calligraphy and cooking, and be taught communication and social skills, as well as training in household duties such as managing finances.

"Our society has a blind spot towards helping and caring for psychiatric patients," said Xu. "They are hospitalized unnecessarily and can be discharged into the community before they are ready." New Beginning already had nine patients, said Xu, who added the new facility received sponsorship from AstraZeneca, the Anglo-Swedish pharmaceutical company. "We will extend the programme to more mental health organizations in the city if New Beginning proves a success," said Xu.

Similar rehabilitation services were available in nine other Chinese cities, including Beijing, Tianjin and Guangzhou, said Xu.

Experts say remains of Tsar's missing children found

MOSCOW, 26 Aug — Russian forensic experts said on Friday they may have found the remains of two children of the last Tsar whose bodies have been missing since a Bolshevik firing squad executed Russia's royal family in 1918.

Examination of bones discovered near the site where the rest of the family were found suggests they belong to Tsar Nicholas II's 13-year-old heir, Prince Alexei, and his daughter Maria, the scientists said. DNA testing still needs to be done to confirm the find. "It is most likely that this second burial place is linked to the first one. Everyone knows who they belong to," said Sergei Pogorelov, a historian with the local administration in the Sverdlovsk Region.

The Russian Prosecutor-General's Office said it was formally reopening its investigation into the case. Bolshevik revolutionaries shot the royal family in the basement of a merchant's house in the city of Yekaterinburg, 1,450 kilometres (900 miles) east of Moscow.

Attempts were made to destroy the bodies, then they were dumped into pits. — MNA/Reuters

Finnish youth fined for putting teacher on YouTube

HELSINKI, 26 Aug — A Finnish court ruled against a 15-year-old student in a libel case on Friday after he posted a clip of his teacher on YouTube, ordering the youth to pay 800 euros (1,085 US dollars) in damages and a 90-euro fine.

The student had filmed his teacher singing at the school party last May and put the clip on YouTube with English subtitles under the headline "Karaoke of the mental hospital".

The teacher took the boy to court and asked for 2,000 euros in damages. This is the first time a Finnish court has found against someone based on a video clip published on the Internet.

Real Madrid make winning start against Atletico

MADRID, 26 Aug — Real Madrid got their title defence off to a winning start when a deflected shot by new signing Wesley Sneijder earned a 2-1 comeback victory over city rivals Atletico at the Bernabeu on Saturday. The Dutchman's miscued shot spun off a defender and ended up in the back of the net after Guti had rolled a free kick into his path 10 minutes from time.

The game between the Primera Liga's two biggest spenders was played at a frenetic pace with the sides playing open, attacking football. But Bernd Schuster's Real looked more dangerous in front of goal and deserved the win. Sevilla, who beat Real 5-3 in the Super Cup last week, continued their sparkling start to the season with a 4-1 comeback win over Getafe thanks to second-half goals from Jesus Navas, Luis Fabiano, Frederic Kanoute and Alexander Kerzhakov.

Chelsea go top after beating Portsmouth

LONDON, 26 Aug — Chelsea went top of the Premier League when they beat Portsmouth 1-0 at Stamford Bridge on Saturday and leaders Manchester City lost 1-0 at Arsenal.

Frank Lampard's 31st minute strike was enough to extend Chelsea's record unbeaten home league run to 65 matches and move them on to 10 points from four matches. It was Portsmouth's first defeat of the season.

It was the fourth successive match in which Lampard had scored, including England's goal against Germany on Wednesday, and manager Jose Mourinho praised his performance.

Manchester City goalkeeper

Kasper Schmeichel saved a 66th minute penalty from Robin van Persie but had no chance of stopping a shot from Cesc Fabregas 14 minutes later which was enough to secure the points for the Gunners and end City's perfect start to the season.

They have nine points from four games, but Schmeichel, taking a leaf out of his father Peter's book, nearly saved a point for City just before the end.

Like his father used to do for Manchester United, Schmeichel joined the City attack for a corner and forced Arsenal goalkeeper Manuel Almunia into saving his header.

Trezeguet treble helps Juve crush Livorno

MILAN, 26 Aug — A David Trezeguet hat-trick and two goals from Vincenzo Iaquinta gave Juventus a 5-1 home win over Livorno on their return to Serie A on Saturday. France striker Trezeguet put Juve ahead after half an hour when he headed in Alessandro Del Piero's cross from close range.

Juventus, back in the top flight after their demotion last year for match-fixing, extended their lead midway through the second half when substitute Iaquinta converted a penalty after he was hauled down by defender Alessandro Grandoni.

Debutant Iaquinta, a close-season buy from Udinese, claimed a second late on when Pavel Nedved's rasping shot deflected off him and wrong-footed Livorno goalkeeper Marco Amelia.

Trezeguet, who fell out with club bosses following their promotion last season before surprisingly signing a new contract, then grabbed his second with a coolly-taken finish and netted a third with a back-heel almost on the goalline. Massimo Loviso scored a consolation in injury time with a 20-metre drive.

Marseille clinch first win of the season at Caen

PARIS, 26 Aug — Olympique Marseille tasted victory for the first time this season in Ligue 1 after goals by Julien Rodriguez and Mamadou Niang gave them a 2-1 win at promoted Caen on Saturday.

Defender Rodriguez headed home from a Benoit Cheyrou free kick two minutes before the interval with Senegal's Niang doubling the tally from close range after being set up by fellow striker Djibril Cisse nine minutes into the second half.

Albert Emon's side, who wasted a 2-0 advantage at home against Nancy last weekend, moved up to ninth in the standings with six points from five games.

Stephane Samson, who came on in the 70th minute, netted a consolation goal for Caen in injury time.

The Normandy side, who won one and lost three matches, lie 14th in the standings.

Later on Saturday, Nancy will have the opportunity to take control of the league when they host AJ Auxerre while joint leaders Lorient and Le Mans travel to Girondins Bordeaux and Monaco respectively.

Man Utd 1-0 Tottenham

LONDON-, 26 Aug — Nani drilled in his first goal for Manchester United to hand the champions a precious first win of the season and frustrate a brave Tottenham display.

After Robbie Keane hit the bar for Spurs in the first minute United dominated, with Michael Carrick and Paul Scholes going close to an opener.

The visitors held firm, though, and had appeals for a penalty turned down after Wes Brown's apparent handball.

And Nani compounded their misery when he fired in the winner from 25 yards.

It was harsh on Tottenham, who had mixed a solid defensive display with the odd good chance, but United were good value for something from a game they dominated for spells.

Sir Alex Ferguson had boldly stated "we will win the game on Sunday" before the match, and the fact that Spurs had failed to beat United at Old Trafford in nearly 18 years suggested the Scot's pre-match confidence was well placed.

But it was some indication of the recent turmoil surrounding Tottenham that most of the talk before the game centred around Martin Jol's position as manager, rather than the fact that United began the match second from bottom. — Internet

Czech opponents to US radar base stage protest march

PRAGUE, 26 Aug — Around 200 opponents to the planned US radar base in the Czech Republic set out on a protest march on Saturday through the Brdy military grounds where the facility is to be placed.

“This is not a matter of politics. It is necessary to be among the people, to have contact with them, to know what they think and react to it,” said Mayor of Jince Josef Hala, who took part in the 12-kilometre march.

“We represent the people and it would be unfair to play high politics somewhere in office rooms,” he added.

Hala said the route of the march led to the military grounds was selected deliberately.

“We want the people who have never been there to see it. There is wonderful nature there, they should understand why we protect the area,” he said.

The United States unveiled its plan in January to place 10 interceptor missiles in Poland and a radar system in the Czech Republic, as components of the missile defence shield.

According to a recent public opinion poll, more than two thirds of Czech citizens oppose the installation of the base.

Poll shows most Poles against US anti-missile shield

WARSAW, 26 Aug — The majority of Poles are still against the deployment of a US anti-missile shield in their country, a survey revealed Friday.

The survey, conducted by the CBOS polling centre in Warsaw, said that 56 per cent of those questioned oppose installing the shield on Polish territory while 28 per cent favour the plan.

Thirty-four per cent thought the shield would worsen Poland's international standing and 32 per cent said it would weaken Poland's position in the EU, the poll said.

Seventy per cent complained that the Polish Government has not informed the public enough about the missile shield. The CBOS poll was conducted from August 3-6 and 859 people were questioned.
