Going organic

It is common knowledge that Myanmar is a developing country with its economy built on agro-industry. And it has been a long time that everyone is thirsty for industrial development which paves the way for prosperity. But, the other side of the coin is that there is still room for improvement in agricultural economy.

The world's population is giving serious cause for concern over food security as it has just hit 7000 million. While there has been growing concern over obesity rate in industrialized countries, there are still a lot of hungry mouths to feed in the Third World, forcing to pour chemical fertilizers onto fields to increase yields. It has been the only remedy but with adverse side effects and thus the idea of "going organic" has become the alternative solution.

There is a price to be paid for it although it sounds like a great idea. Eco foods usually cost much more than ordinary produce. But, organic farming causes less pollution in the long-run and there is a niche market for organic foods. There is a price gap to speak of between commercial and organic fertilizers—a mixture of animal manure, sewage sludge, compost, grass turf, straw, and other crop residues. However, we can still solve this problem by integrated farming. But, the point is that we are still weak in manufacturing value added products, losing a large sum of money from export earnings.

The transformation to mechanized farming is a must. But, we can also practice organic farming during and after this process. Most of the farmers in Myanmar run farms on a manageable scale and organic farming is most compatible with diversified, small-scale, labour-intensive cultivation. With the help of Cooperatives Ministry, farmers can form cooperative syndicates and export them to overseas market. It is a long way to walk but not impossible.

We can be a responsible nation, providing healthy foods to the world, saving our planet. Organic farming is said to represent only 2% of the total of all farming currently. So a country like ours has a great opportunity to monopolize the organic food market. It is always easier said than done, but it really deserves a try.

Romney wins Michigan GOP primary

WASHINGTON, 29 Feb—Republican presidential hopeful Mitt Romney will be the winner of the Michigan primary Tuesday, with Rick Santorum coming in a close second, CNN projected.

With 77 percent of precincts reporting, the former Massachusetts governor won 41 percent of the vote, followed by Santorum, the former Pennsylvania senator, with 37 percent, the US broadcaster projected while the ballots were still being counted.

Texas congressman Ron Paul finished third with 12 percent of the vote. Former House Speaker Newt Gingrich, who mostly skipped the state, came in last at 7 percent.

The victory was critical for Romney, as a defeat—even if by the slightest margin—would have been devastating to his campaign. Michigan was regarded as a stronghold for the former governor, who was born there and whose father was a popular governor of the state.

The victory came shortly after Romney was projected winner in the Arizona primary Tuesday. —Xinhua

US making 'strategic bet' on India in Asia, says scholar

WASHINGTON, 29 Feb—India gets a key place in the US pivot toward the Asia-Pacific Region because Washington is making "a strategic bet" that India will promote peace and security in the long term, according to a US scholar.

The unexpected attention given to India in Pentagon's new strategic guidance "raises interesting questions about how India fits into the United States' vision for security in the Asia-Pacific region," said Amer Latif in a commentary.

Noting that Washington and New Delhi have been actively building their defence relations through defence sales, exercises, and high-level military engagements, he said: "Despite the impressive progress in recent years, questions still remain about India's commitment and ability to be a security provider in Asia."

"As the United States implements its pivot toward the Asia-Pacific Region, it will actively seek capable and reliable partners to cooperate on maintaining security and stability in Asia," said Latif, a visiting fellow with the Wadhvani Chair in US-India Policy Studies at the Centre for Strategic and International Studies (CSIS), a Washington, think tank. —Internet

Improvised bomb found at Philippine airport

MANILA, 29 Feb—Philippine authorities have found and disarmed a small bomb at a provincial airport that serves the resort island of Boracay, one of the country's main tourist hotspots, police said on Wednesday.

Security staff found the improvised explosive device among cargo being processed at Kalibo International Airport on Tuesday night, national police spokesman Chief Superintendent Agrimero Cruz said.

Police experts brought the device, inside a plastic envelope about the size of a magazine, out of the airport and had it safely detonated, according to Cruz.

He said the device was apparently dropped off at the airport counter of a cargo forwarding company and bore a name and address in the southern island of Mindanao, a hotbed of Islamic militants and guerrillas. However he said authorities did not know who dropped off the package.

"We can't speculate on who was behind it," Cruz said, adding he also had no details on the potential power of the bomb.

pilgrimage to "Kyaikhtiyo" a pagoda with its mystery remains ever unsolved.

The road

Normally, an hour-drive for six-speed or seven-speed medium trucks like Hino Ranger, this tarred mountain road has steep inclines in many parts suitable only to the cars specially designed for this kind of tracks. All along the road are Japanese-made cars like the Ranger itself and its cousins or its major competitors in the global markets such as Mitsubishi Fuso Fighter, Isuzu Forward, and Nissan Condor all doing the same job - safely transporting pilgrims up and down the road daily.

Every day during the

Before the road was built, pilgrims had to travel through the jungle footpath for the whole day to reach the mountain top. And the return trip also took the same length of time. The journey was wonderful, but time is also an important factor for many people.

Thanks to the road, short and easy trips to the pagoda are now available for elder persons in their waning days or tight-schedule people who cannot spend the whole day just to reach the pagoda. For example, the News and Periodicals Enterprise of the Ministry of Information has been arranging short pilgrimage and recreation trips even for hectic staff of the three dailies and news agencies that rarely least a four-night stay is required to visit every interesting place as some of the journeys along the mountain footpath to fascinating places take at least two hours! And there are many more interesting places hidden in the nearby forests, mountains and valleys.

History

Amidst layers of forest-covered high ridges stands the mountain accommodating at its peak a boulder whose reliquary is keeping the Sacred Hair Relic of Buddha for over 2000 years and on this huge rock is a stupa small in size but highly sacred in status. History has it that a hermit received the Relic from Buddha during the Lord's visit to the great sovereign state of Suvunnaabhommi or Thaton.

According to the wish of the hermit who always placed the Relic in the tuft of his hair it was enshrined in the boulder resembling his own head. Actually, the boulder and the stupa on it are called the Kyaikhtiyo Pagoda.

The pagoda itself and many of the places surrounding it have a captivating history that makes them more enthralling. Some of the places have their own story supporting the main pagoda history. The pristine forests and bluish mountain ranges surrounding Kyaikhtiyo are enhancing the value of the interesting places and stories including the stupa and the boulder which are the centre stage of pilgrimage.

Gravity-defying boulder

Both the stupa and the boulder are heavily gilded and nowadays this giant rock looks rather like a large solid mass of gold! What's more, devotees are making donations every day adding more and more gold to the stupa and the boulder. Pilgrims are also donating cash and kind for other purposes including power and clean water supply.

As for most of the global tourists Kyaikhtiyo is renowned as "Golden Rock Pagoda".

Scientifically, a large heavy rock at the edge of a sloping surface will fall down, but that never happens in Kyaikhtiyo. Perhaps the boulder is defying gravity because of the Hair Relic it is holding.

Truly, the stable boulder always appears to be on the brink of sliding down into the gorge is a view really awe-inspiring for every visitor from home and abroad.

Meth lab busts reach record high in NC

RALEIGH, 29 Feb—The number of methamphetamine lab busts in North Carolina hit a record high last year partly because of cheaper, simpler ways of making the drug, officials say.

The number of meth labs raided in 2011 increased to 344 — up 57 percent since 2006, when state laws restricted the purchase of its key ingredient, pseudoephedrine, The (Raleigh) News & Observer reported. While the number of busts have increased, Attorney General

Roy Cooper said the laws are working, as the number of large-scale labs is declining. The total number of busts is rising, however, because of the simpler, cheaper method of making it known as the "one-pot" or "shake-and-bake" method.

The method requires fewer ingredients and they're mixed in a 2-liter soda bottle instead of unsealed makeshift beakers. The bottles are still legally considered meth labs and officials say they're dangerous, as explosions aren't as big but are more frequent. The method "has escalated to the point where it accounts for about half of the labs we bust," Cooper said.

He pointed out the state's first one-pot lab bust came in 2009. Cooper said he hopes to see a decline in the number of meth labs as a result of a law enacted this year requiring pharmacies to use an electronic-tracking system to determine whether someone has reached the limit on the number of pseudoephedrine purchases allowed.—Internet enabling the pensioners take out pension easily and whether pension can be transferred to the bank account", the Union Minister replied that it has been instructed to give out pension in ten days before the end of month beginning February, 2012 in the time of the new government. So, the pensioners can take out pensions more easily as the time has been extended. Currently, there have been a total of 7425 pensioners taking out pensions at Myanma Economic Bank (branch) in Dagon Myothit (North) Township, Yangon Region and now they can take out their pensions conveniently.

Since October, 1972 when it started giving out pensions, the Myanma Economic Bank has offered cash transfer service to those pensioners who open fixed account or current account at their volition. They can transfer their pensions into their accounts. In response to the 70 pensioners, Myanma Economic Bank in Dagon Myothit (North) transfers their pensions into their accounts monthly. The Myanma Economic Bank, being a State-owned bank, is providing services to ensure the smooth functioning of the government banking mechanism.

Regarding the question about "if there is a plan to launch fast money transfer through fax in Nagmon Township" asked by U J Phon Sar of Nagmon Constituency, the Union Minister answered that his ministry has coordinated with the Myanma Posts and Telegraphs to launch fax money transfer in the township. The Myanma Economic Bank has fixed a CDMA mobile phone in Nagmon treasury, arrangements will be made for transferring and receiving of money through fax.

But, according to the current conditions of the Nagmon treasury, although it can transfer unlimited amount of money to other Myanma Economic Banks, other banks can only transfer up to K 100,000 to it.

Next, Union Minister for Home Affairs Lt-Gen Ko Ko replied to the questions of three Hluttaw representatives.

Regarding the question of U Ko Gyi from Aungmyethazan Constituency about "if there is plan to put Phonetawtoe Ward within the boundary of Mandalay City Development Affairs Committee", the Union Minister replied that it is learnt that Tatmyo Development Affairs Committee is carrying out development works for Phonetawtoe Ward of Aungmyethazan Township of Mandalay Region. It is the work of the Mandalay Region government to designate the residential land plots Nos 41, 42 and 43 within the boundary of Tatmyo as the boundary of Mandalay City Development Affairs Committee. The final decision of the Defence Ministry must be asked to do so and upon its agreement, residential land plots except the land owned by the military will be announced as land under the management of the government and the rights to manage the land will be vested to the Mandalay City Development Affairs Committee.

The Ministry of Home Affairs no more handle the land management of Mandalay as the Mandalay City Development Laws was enacted on 14 November, 2002. So, Mandalay region government, Mandalay City development Affairs Committee will have to coordinate with the Defence Ministry to put Phonetawtoe Ward under the management of Mandalay City Development Affairs Committee.

Regarding the question of U Ohn Ngwe from Myaungmya Constituency about "if there is a plan to pass judgment on disputes over alluvial land ownership in accordance with the existing laws and procedures," the Union Minister replied that there have been disputes over alluvial land ownership on the Ayeyawady River between Shwe Paukpin Village of Myaung Township in Sagaing Region and Kyigon Village of Ngazun Township in Mandalay Region since 2007, which has even grown into fierce group fight between the farmers of the two villages, calling for the arbitration of the local authorities concerned.

The Settlement and Land Records Department (headquarters) and Land Records Departments at different levels have demarcated the alluvial land, apart from the arbitration of the local authorities concerned and the general administration departments of the two districts and townships to ensure no more disputes over the land between the two villages. It is up to the farmers to follow the rules to ensure there is no trespassing of the demarcation. If one side trespasses and cultivates over the demarcation line, the other side can file against it at courts at different levels to receive the fair judgment.

Regarding the question of U Zone Taint of Chiphwe Constituency on "there is any plan to form Administrative Court that can justify disputes, discontents and losses," Union Minister for Home Affairs Lt-Gen Ko Ko replied: The government is protecting the people's rights. Actions are being taken against bribery, corruptions and abuse of power that usually prevail in administrative mechanism in accord with the prescribed services regulations and existing laws.

If a staff's duty causes a loss to a person or an organization, that person or that organization can complain about it to his or her departmental officials. The departments have to take actions against that staff if the complaint is true. He or she shall be charged at respective courts if his or her faults are serious or he or she shall be sentenced in line with the laws if the court finds him or her guilty of it.

A citizen can apply for writs if management and judicial undertakings cause a loss to a citizen's right. The Supreme Court of the Union is carrying out the hearings on it. So, there are remedies for these citizens. It can be seen that the formation of Administrative Courts has not been prescribed in the Constitution.

No need to form Administrative Courts as the existing laws and procedures that can justify disputes, discontents and losses among citizens have already included in the executive body. Those citizens who suffer the losses are to complain about it to respective administrative bodies.

After that, two Hluttaw representatives raised three questions on education. With respects to question of U Than Nwe of Butalin Constituency on "there is any plan to raise stipends of university students in the 2012-2013 Academic Year and students shall enjoy increased stipends if raised" and "there is any plan to have own websites in universities across the country" Union Minister for Education Dr Mya Aye replied:

To turn out the qualified human resources and to grant stipends for university students, the government will conferred honourable prizes on the 28 students who stood first at Regions/State level in science and arts combination matriculation exams and 20 top ten students at the country-level exam—ten from science combination and ten from arts.

Starting the 2012-2013 Academic Year, scholarships to be conferred on the university/colleges students for ten months in a year are as follows: monthly cash assistance of K 0.1 million for students of University of Medicine or University of Dental Medicine under the Ministry of Health; monthly assistance of K 80,000 for students of university/college under the Ministry of Transport, monthly assistance of K 70,000 for students of universities and colleges under the Ministry of Science and Technology, Ministry of Agriculture and Irrigation, Ministry of Environmental Conservation and Forestry, Ministry of Livestock and and hardwood extraction from Bago Region and increase timber extraction in other regions and systems, the Union Minister replied that a plan is underway to reduce timber extraction not only in Bago Region but also in other regions and states and control plenty of timber extraction from single area.

At present, a total of 582.5 acres of lands have been allotted to six groups from six villages for establishment of public-owned forest plantations in Bago Region. Efforts will be doubled in organizing the local people to establish public-owned forest plantations. Directives for public-owned forest plantations are being upgraded as bylaw and it has been submitted to the Office of the Union Attorney-

Fisheries and the rest universities except University of Medicine or University of Dental Medicine; monthly assistance of K 50,000 for students of universities and colleges under the Ministry of Defence, Ministry of Education, Ministry of Border Affairs, Ministry of Cooperatives, Ministry of Culture and Union Civil Services Board. At the start of the academic year, cash assistance of K 0.1 million will be granted to the students for their preparatory expenses.

With respect to the second question, the Minister replied: Ministry of Education has no any plan to have own websites in universities at present. But, all of these universities have been equipped with internet access.

Respecting the question of U Sai Ngaung Hsaing Hein of Maukmai Constituency on "Continued measures for analysis of education indexes in the time of the new government," the Minister replied: Ministry of Education has started implementing 30-year national education promotion programme since the 2001-2012 academic year. Checking of basic education schools in basic education sector and of universities and colleges in higher education sector, plays an important part in successful implementation of short-and long-term plans.

Education indexes are being used based on 12 benchmarks for basic education schools—seven for quality and five for appearance, 12 benchmarks for education colleges—seven for quality and five for appearance and 12 benchmarks for universities and degree colleges—eight for quality and four for management.

At proposal-submitting session, Chairman of Pyithu Hluttaw Economic and Trade Development Committee U Maung Maung Thein submitted the proposal on "Urging to cease procedures asking for temporary vehicles registration fees of authorized vehicle import companies and organizations including Directorate of Road Administration like unlicensed vehicles' fines and to review it in accord with the law and Pyithu Hluttaw Judicial and Legal Affairs Committee Chairman Thura U Aung Ko, on "to amend The Arbitration (Protocol and Convention) Act (Act No. VI, 1937) (19th January, 1937)."

With respect to U Maung Maung Thein's proposal, the Hluttaw decided that before submitting it to the Hluttaw directly, Pyithu Hluttaw Committee were to continue to coordinate respective ministry and organizations.

The date will be announced later for discussion on Thura U Aung Ko's proposal. The representatives who want to discuss it are to register their names this evening. The meeting came to an end at 12.55 pm and the nine day session will be announced.—MNA across the nation are being extracted from Bago Region. It exceeds the annual forest production based on forest management system. General. After coordinating with ministries concerned, easier and effective process will be created for the local people to carry out the tasks of public-owned forest plantations.

Likewise, the timber extraction will be scrutinized in other regions and states and emphasis will be placed on production of timber to satisfy the local demand.

Dr Myint Kyi of Yangon Region Constituency No. 8 asked whether there is a plan to constantly check contents of carbon dioxide in the air. The Union Minister replied that with regard to conservation of air pollution in Myanmar, members of the Vienna Convention for the Protection of the Ozone Layer member countries must stop use of chlorofluorocarbon at refrigerator, automobile, air-conditioners and cold storage in 2010. Thus, Myanmar has stopped use of chlorofluorocarbon as of 2006.

The surveillance plan on implementation of cold storage materials management project and the recycling plan of chlorofluorocarbon from refrigerator have been implemented in Myanmar. At present, the programme for reduction of Ozone layer harming materials and the plan on establishment of national Ozone unit and cold storage management plan are under implementation.

The Ozone Regulation Bill and the Hydrochlorofluorocarbon reduction bill have been drawn. Air quality was measured in Yangon, Mandalay, Pyin Oo Lwin, Nay Pyi Taw and Tachilek with the use of air pollution measuring device as of 2008. Ministry of Health and Yangon City Development Committee jointly designated trading area, residential area and industrial zone area at a time when they measured air quality for the first time. They could set records on contents of dusts, the dusts less than 10 microns, sulphur dioxide and nitrogen oxide in the air.

Myanmar signed the UN Framework Convention on Climate Change in 1994 and Tokyo Protocol in 2003 and then it implemented the projects as member of the convention. With the assistance of the Asian Development Bank, Myanmar together with 12 Asian countries realized the Asian Greenhouse Gas Reduction Strategy and designated 1990 as the basic year for measurement of greenhouse gas in energy sector, reform of land utilization, forest sector and agriculture sector. Myanmar annually emits 41.5 million ton of greenhouse gas and it is expected to hit 62 million tons in 2005. According to the data in 1990, emission ration of carbon dioxide to person was less than one ton yearly and such amount was less than that of Mekong Sub-Region countries.

With the assistance of the UN Environmental Programme and the World Environmental Programme, the ministry designated the year of 2000 as the basic year after collecting greenhouse gas measurement data of the initial national report compilation project that started in 2008 on climate change in energy, industrial, agriculture and livestock breeding sectors, change of land utilization and forest sector and waste materials sector. According to the statistics, it was reported that energy sector would increase emission of greenhouse gas to 8.12 million tons from 7.86 million tons in 2005 and the industrial sector to 0.51 million ton from 0.46 million ton. In the year 2000, a total of 74.358 million tons of greenhouse gas was absorbed in Myanmar in 2000 and forests absorbed 142.221 million tons of greenhouse gas. Thus, Myanmar stood as the top country in greater absorption of greenhouse gas at that time.

As the developing countries are facing technological difficulties and plenty of expense in collection of greenhouse gas measurement, they cannot submit the annual report on the amount of greenhouse gas emission. Depending on technology assistance and allotment of fund, Myanmar like other developing countries will carry out measurement of greenhouse gas emission in some years.

Deputy Minister for Health Dr Daw Myat Myat Ohn Khin replied to questions on health sector raised by six Hluttaw representatives.

U Hlaing Oo of Ayeyawady Region Constituency No. 12 asked whether there is a plan to appoint necessary dentist, assistant doctors, nurses and health staff at Labutta General Hospital (200-bed) to some extent and provide hospital equipment to there. The deputy minister replied that a total of seven doctors—three assistant specialist surgeons and four assistant surgeons are discharging duties at the Labutta General Hospital. Arrangements are being made to appoint the one dentist after fresher doctors would have completed the basic officer course at the training institute. Moreover, nurses will be appointed there and senior nurses will be added to the hospital. If it gets more appointments, the recruitment will be assigned to the hospital. So far, 105 beds, 105 mattresses, two patient test beds, two slides, two instrument trolleys, five medicine trolleys and one set of dental chair have been provided to the hospital.

The Ministry of Health is fulfilling the hospital equipment to hospital on priority. If necessary, the hospitals are to submit applications for the demands to heads of Township Health Department with recommendations of the heads of Region/State Health Departments to be able to seek the assistance.

U Ha Shein Bwe of Chin State Constituency No. 8 asked whether there is a plan to build a two-storey patient ward instead of overage medical wards from Mindat General Hospital (100-bed). The deputy minister replied that there is no plan to build one two-storey patient ward at that hospital, and the ministry is building and maintaining the structures depending on the allotted funds.

U Hla Swe of Magway Region Constituency No. 12 asked whether there is a plan to upgrade rural health centre of North Khinyan Village in Gangaw Township to 16-bed station hospital. The deputy minister replied that Gangaw Township of Magway Region has opened one 100-bed district hospital, one 16-bed Kan Village Station Hospital, one station hospital in Kyaw Village, one station hospital in Min Village, three station hospitals, seven rural health centres and 28 rural health branches.

U Zon Hle Htan of Chin State Constituency No. 2 asked whether there is a plan to construct staff quarters and to repair laboratory hall at Falam Township People's Hospital. U Aung Cho Oo of Bago Region Constituency No. 11 asked whether there is a plan to construct the building of rural health centre in Seinkantlant Village in Letset Village-tract of Minhla Township. The deputy minister replied that there is no plan to maintain and construct the buildings at present, and the buildings of hospitals, rural health centres and branches of the Ministry of Health will be built depending on the funds allotted by the State.

Dr Myat Nyana Soe of Yangon Region Constituency No. 4 asked whether there is a plan to draw health care insurance law instead of cost-sharing health care system, and if not, why didn't implement for the law, and if it is, when the bill will be submitted to the Hluttaw. The deputy minister replied that with regard to the question, there need fundamental requirements for exercising health care insurance system before promulgation of the health care insurance law. The health insurance must have coverage over the entire people regardless of the rich and poor. Worthy persons can practise the system with insurance fee by setting up the private health care insurance system. It must be compulsory as social health insurance system for the majority of the people.

To establish a socio health care insurance system, things that should be taken into account were economy of the State, management and administration skills, funds for the system, jobs and income in the country and providing health care for the people, she said.

Ministry of Health and UNICEF jointly carried out a survey in 2011 in DaikU and Kyauktaga townships in Bago Region to assess whether a health cover costs was possible and plans had been making to carry out a "township based health cover costs programme" in DaikU based on the results of the survey, she said.

A survey on a maternal and child health care voucher system was carried out in Yedashe Township and Nay Pyi Taw Tatkon Township in 2010 and 2011 and the survey showed that the system would help to meet the UN's millennium development goals and help providing health care to mothers and children in poverty, she said. Preparations were being made to carry out the maternal and child health care voucher system as a pilot project in Yedashe Township, Bago Region, she added.

As part of the township health care system development programme, Ministry of Health and World Health Organization (WHO) had planned to set up a funds for providing health care for mothers and children living in poverty in 20 townships as a first step as from March, 2012. Experts and health care staff in the fields had held meetings to exchange views and to assess background and present situations related to health insurance and health care costs, she said.

Measures were being taken to review the health care programmes of the Ministry of Health and other organizations and based on the outcomes of the survey, infrastructures for the health care system would be set up step by step to pave the way for the better system, she said.

To promulgate the "Health Care Insurance Law" instead of "health care costs sharing system", basis needs for the people were sine qua non for the socio health insurance system. Only after the basic needs for the people were fulfilled, measures for promulgation of the law should be taken within a certain period. Therefore, the Ministry of Health had not yet drawn a health care insurance law currently, she said.

The questioner, the people and the farmers did not like the answer. He submitted the proposal related to the gambling on 13, September, 2011, during the second regular session, suggesting to do campaigns to root out all forms of gambling which harmed the micro credit schemes for poverty reduction, he said.

He suggested the Amyotha Hluttaw's Government's Guarantees, Pledges and Undertakings Vetting Committee to compile the answers of the Union-level personnel, to get reports within the first week of a next regular session from questioners on measures taken for questions and proposals and to review and assess the government's guarantees, pledges and undertakings regarding the questions and proposals and to coordinate with the Union Government. MNA

NAY PYI TAW, 29 Feb—The extended right North Yama canal was launched with a ceremony at the pavilion near North Yama Dam in Pale Township, Monywa District, Sagaing Region yesterday morning.

Present at the launch were Chairman of Rural Socio-Economic Development Subcommittee Union Minister for Information and Culture U Kyaw Hsan, Union Minister for Agriculture and Irrigation U Myint Hlaing, Sagaing Region Chief Minister U Tha Aye, Deputy Speaker of Sagaing Region Hluttaw U Thaug Sein, Region Hluttaw representatives, Region Agriculture and Livestock Minister U Sein Win, heads of departments, local people and farmers.

Salingyi Townships were accessible to irrigated water and had been able to extensively engage in double and triple cropping patterns. This largely contributed to development of socio-economic status of rural people, he said.

At present, an extended right North Yama canal is being built along with North Yama Dam feeder tank, and upon the completion of the project, it will be able to irrigate 9000 acres of farmlands. And the project will bring about more development of socio-economic status of local people, he noted.

Two banks firebombed in Chile

SANTIAGO, 29 Feb—Two masked people set off fire bombs on Monday at two bank branches in Santiago, causing damage but no injuries, Chilean police said.

A Banco Santander office and a Bancostado branch in Ñuñoa, a Santiago suburb, were attacked.

Security cameras captured images of two masked individuals planting a bomb at the Banco Santander ATM, which was completely destroyed, Carabineros militarized police force Capt. Cristian Acevedo told reporters.

"A search of the sector was conducted and no pamphlets or situations pointing to a specific group have been found," Acevedo said. The Bancostado branch sustained "great damage to the main inner door, the structure of the ceiling and the building's windows", Acevedo said.

More than two dozen bombings have been staged in Chile since 2006, targeting banks, large corporations, churches and public buildings. In November, the trial of half a dozen suspects accused of setting off 20 bombs between 2006 and 2010 started at the Justice Centre in Santiago.

Responsibility for the blasts is usually claimed by anarchists or anti-globalization groups.—INTERNET

New flu virus found in Guatemalan bats

BEIJING, 29 Feb—A new type of flu virus has been found in fruit-eating bats in Guatemala, according to msnbc's report. The finding was published Monday in the American medical journal Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences.

The virus, identified belonging to a family of flu viruses called Influenza A, was isolated by a team of American and Guatemalan researchers from the bats captured in Guatemala.

There is still no evidence that the virus can cause illness among people, the researchers said.

"Fortunately, initial laboratory testing suggests the new virus would need to undergo significant changes to become capable of infecting and spreading easily among humans," said Ruben Donis, a researcher from the Centres for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) of the United States.

Bats so far haven't been known to contribute to human flu, but they have been found carrying a number of diseases that can affect people, including Severe Acute Respiratory Syndrome (SARS), according to the study.—Xinhua

India ready to help fight piracy in Africa

UNITED NATIONS, 29 Feb —India has expressed readiness to contribute to international efforts to tackle the threat of piracy in the Gulf of Guinea. "India stands ready to contribute to international efforts aimed at increasing effective cooperation among States in the region to tackle the threat of piracy and armed robbery at sea," India's Permanent Representative Hardeep Singh Puri told the UN Security Council on Monday.

Piracy off both coasts of Africa shows the instability prevalent in the regions and the reach of organized terrorist and criminal groups, he said noting pirate attacks are adversely affecting the emerging oil industry of the region as well as the commercial shipping and mariners.

India has been at the forefront of highlighting the menace of piracy off the coast of Somalia and stressing the urgent need for the international community to work towards a comprehensive counter-piracy strategy, Puri said. India is also concerned about the surge in piracy in the Gulf of Guinea, including its economic and social cost," he said.

"While the two situations are quite different in proportion at this stage, it is quite possible that the failure of the international community to act decisively against piracy off the coast of Somalia could have spawned a new surge in piracy in the Gulf of Guinea," Puri said.

"Time has now come for the Council to translate the attention it has been paying to the problem into a concrete plan of action."

The Indian envoy also stressed that this being a regional problem, it is necessary that action should involve full cooperation of the international community, led by the United Nations, with the countries of West Africa and regional and sub-regional organizations.

Hospital evacuated due to bats

A North Carolina hospital says it has temporarily evacuated patients while it clears out a bat infestation. Administrators at Richmond Memorial Hospital in Rockingham, NC, said they evacuated patients during the weekend, about five weeks after the first reports of bats in patient rooms, and closed down all of the building's facilities except for the emergency room, WSOC-TV, Charlotte, NC, reported on Tuesday.

"We've actually sent staff out to retrieve some of the bats to our state lab for testing of rabies," Richmond County health director Tommy Jarrell said.

Jarrell said patients have been vaccinated and thus far no bats have tested positive for rabies.

"This is the first time we've had to deal with this type of issue," Jarrell said. A bat removal company, Get Bats Out, has been hired to take care of the problem.

Top-seeded Isner advances at Florida tennis

DELRAY BEACH, 29 Feb — Top seed John Isner eased through his Delray Beach opener, but second and third seeds Marin Cilic and Viktor Troicki exited after losing their matches in three sets. World number 11 Isner needed a 32-point second set tie-break to oust American wild card Jesse Levine 6-4, 7-6 (17/15) at the $442,500 Delray Beach International Championships.

Jurgen Melzer, who won the Memphis Open title last week, was also eliminated in his opening match on Tuesday. It was the first Delray Beach match win for Isner who lost in the first round of the hardcourt tournament to Teymuraz Gabashvili in his only other appearance last year. Woods' agent criticizes book by former swing coach

PALM BEACH GARDENS, 29 Feb — Tiger Woods' agent lashed out Tuesday against Hank Haney's book, saying his "armchair psychology" about Woods was "ridiculous" and that it was clear the former swing coach only cares about self-promotion. Haney's book about his six years as Woods' coach is titled, "The Big Miss." It is to go on sale 27 March, a week before the Masters.

Golf Digest began releasing small excerpts Tuesday on its tablet applications and on its website. Haney's book was written with help from Jaime Diaz, a senior writer at the magazine who has covered Woods more extensively than anyone over the years. In one of the excerpts, Haney, a McKinney, Texas, golf guru, said his job became more difficult in 2007, when Woods had 12 majors and was getting closer to the record 18 won by Jack Nicklaus.

"There was more urgency and less fun. ... He never mentioned Nicklaus' record, but it started to weigh more heavily at every major," the excerpt said. "And Tiger's actions indicated he believed he had less time to do it than everyone thought."

Haney said the objective of revamping his swing was to preserve his left knee. He also said Woods was seriously considering becoming a Navy SEAL. Woods' father, Earl, was a green beret in the Army who did two tours during the Vietnam War. — Internet

Doubts linger over Poland Euro 2012 squad

WARSAW, 29 Feb — As they brace to face Portugal in what looks likely to be one of their toughest encounters in the buildup to Euro 2012, co-hosts Poland say their squad for June's tournament is all but ready, but experts have big doubts. With just 100 days left until the European championships, the Poles on Wednesday take on tournament qualifiers Portugal in a match that also marks the opening game in Warsaw's brand-new National Stadium.

Like fellow hosts Ukraine, Poland have an automatic birth at the 16-nation championships and have had to rely on friendlies to get ready. Having flunked their qualifying campaign for the 2010 World Cup, they will not have played a competitive match since the end of 2009 by the time they kick off Euro 2012 against Greece in Warsaw on 8 June. Their friendlies since then have been patchy, upping the ante for manager Franciszek Smuda, a gruff Pole who was put in charge after Dutchman Leo Beenhakker failed to steer the squad to the World Cup. The often-criticized

Smuda reckons his Euro 2012 squad is now in shape. "The basic 11 is ready. And for the full squad, I'm at about 90 to 95 percent," he said. The weight of history is heavy, as home fans pine for Polish football's long-lost glory days of Olympic gold in 1972, third place in the 1974 World Cup, Olympic silver in 1976 and a further World Cup third in 1982. In a sign of how far Poland have fallen since that era, they now lie 70th in the global rankings of world football's governing body FIFA, compared to Portugal's sixth. — Internet

Parker voted top England player

LONDON, 29 Feb — Tottenham midfielder Scott Parker has been named England's player of the year for 2011. The 31-year-old came top in an online poll on the Football Association's website after playing in seven of England's nine matches during the year — including a strong performance in the 1-0 victory over world and European champions Spain in November. Parker grabbed 17% of the 15,000 votes cast in the poll, while Manchester City keeper Joe Hart was second and Manchester United winger Ashley Young third.

Parker said: "I don't think I ever lost hope that I could make it at international level. I crammed a lot in one year. I realized time was ticking. "The Denmark game [in February 2011] was pivotal. I came on for 45 minutes and then I got a start against Wales in a big game [in March] and that was massive for me. "I played in midfield with Jack Wilshere and Frank Lampard and we got a great result. It ended up being a great game for me.

"From there I played a lot more games. It was a very exciting year for me internationally and I'm looking forward to more action. "It's a proud moment every time I pull on the England shirt. It's something I've always wanted to do, whenever I was playing outside, whenever I was playing at the park with my mates it was always England you try to emulate and try to be." Lloris named France captain for Euro 2012

PARIS, 29 Feb — Lyon goalkeeper Hugo Lloris will captain France at Euro 2012, national coach Laurent Blanc announced here on Tuesday. The France squad are in Bremen for a friendly game with Germany on Wednesday evening and at his pre-game Press conference, Blanc was asked whether Lloris would lead his side in this summer's tournament in Poland and Ukraine. "You can think that, yes," he replied. Lloris made his international debut in a friendly game with Uruguay in November 2008 and has since won 30 caps. "I think that Hugo offers the most guarantees in this role," explained Blanc.

"He'll wear the armband, but don't forget that he's not the only important one in the squad. He seems to have the control and the clarity that you need for the role. "It's a real choice, not a default choice." Blanc had revealed last week that Lloris, 25, was on a three-man shortlist to wear the armband, alongside AC Milan centre-back Philippe Mexes and Barcelona left-back Eric Abidal. A member of the France team eliminated from the 2010 World Cup in South Africa at the group phase, Lloris joined Lyon from hometown club Nice in 2008 and was named Ligue 1 goalkeeper of the year in 2009 and 2010.

Brazil down Bosnia in friendly after own goal

ST-GALLEN, 29 Feb — Brazil, thanks to a last gasp own goal, beat gallant Bosnia 2-1 in an international friendly here on Tuesday in the five time world champions' first run out of the year. The 2014 World Cup hosts took a fourth minute lead when Marcelo burst forward to latch onto Dani Alves' pass, the Real Madrid back then finishing off the move in style, drilling the ball low into the far corner of Asmir Begovic's goal. Bosnia though were back level nine minutes later. Brazil were largely at fault when the error-prone Chelsea defender David Luiz gave the ball away, striker Vedad Ibisevic seizing his chance with Brazil keeper Julio Cesar unable to stop his rather weak effort.

Begovic, who plays his club football in England with Stoke, was instrumental in preventing the South American giants reclaiming the advantage in the 17th minute when he saved Leandro Damiao's attempt, with Bosnia defender Emir Spahic clearing the loose ball away to safety. Despite enjoying much of the possession in an open-sided first half Brazil, with

Ronaldinho and Neymar in their ranks but no Kaka, went into the break on level terms against the team that only just missed out on qualifying for Euro 2012. — Internet

WBC suspends Chisora indefinitely after brawl

LONDON, 29 Feb—The WBC suspended British boxer Dereck Chisora indefinitely on Tuesday following his brawl with former WBA champion David Haye after a title fight against Vitali Klitschko in Germany. The WBC issued a statement announcing the ban and harshly criticized Chisora's conduct before and after the 18 Feb fight, saying it "is considered one of the worst behaviors ever by a professional boxer."

Chisora slapped Klitschko in the face during the weigh-in for the WBC heavyweight bout, then spat water in his brother Vladimir's face before the fight started. After he lost a unanimous decision, he responded to Haye's taunts during his news conference by walking through the crowd and starting a brawl with his fellow British boxer. The WBC said it is also giving Chisora a "serious fine," but that the amount will be determined after a hearing. Chisora will be taken off the WBC rankings and is banned from fighting for its title. However, it does not prevent him from fighting for titles sanctioned by the WBA or IBF.

The WBC added that it is demanding that Chisora seeks treatment for anger management, "after which his suspension will be reconsidered." "Boxers are gentlemen and show to the world an example of honor and fair play when after a tremendous battle, they go to the centre of the ring to pay respect to each other," the WBC statement said.

Murray advances to Dubai quarters

DUBAI, 29 Feb—Andy Murray's bid to push on from one of the best performances of his career carried him into the quarter-finals of the Dubai Open with a solid win here Wednesday.

The world number four from Scotland overcame Marco Chiudinelli, the third best Swiss player, by 6-3, 6-4, taking him to within one win of a possible rematch with Novak Djokovic.

Last month Murray was close to halting the world number one in the semi-finals of the Australian Open. Now in his first tournament since then, he suggested he may be rebuilding momentum.

"I played well throughout today," he said. "I played a little bit better, so that's progress. Now I just need to keep that going."

Murray established an early break of serve against Chiudinelli to reach 3-1 and consolidated the lead well, serving well and moving better than he had the day before against Michael Berrer.

Then the three-time Grand Slam finalist had complained of feeling unwell, and had gone 3-4 down in the second set against the German. But this time against an opponent ranked outside the top 100, Murray was never in trouble.

He almost broke serve again in the first game of the second set, and earned another break point in the seventh game, only for Chiudinelli to play those points well.

Mayweather says Pacquiao 'not one of the sharpest'

NEW YORK, 29 Feb—A trumpeted a fanfare to introduce Floyd Mayweather Jr and Miguel Cotto as fans at the Apollo Theater cheered the start of Tuesday's news conference to promote their 5 May fight in Las Vegas. Still, there appeared to be far more interest in the fight that's not happening — a matchup between Mayweather and Manny Pacquiao. Mayweather made clear that whether they meet in the ring is about the money — breaking down the shares in what could be boxing's richest fight ever.

"Just by speaking to Pacquiao on the phone, I mean, he's not one of the sharpest knives in the drawer," Mayweather said. "He faces Floyd Mayweather, he's not getting 50-50. Not at all. No one is getting 50-50." While Mayweather urged Pacquiao should "take the test," a reference to his demand for random drug testing, payout appears to be the real score point between Mayweather on one side, and Pacquiao and Top Rank promoter Bob Arum on the other. Arum has said testing is not an issue.—Internet
